Ralph Badcock, SCS engineer, assisted Wilton White with the layout of irrigation ditches on the Dodge ranch last week.

Charles Hilkey of Sams Valley and E.C. Robinson of the Table Rock community are new applicants for Soil Conservation District assistance. Both are working on tile drainage problems at this time.

Gus Koellner is making progress on clearing his land for grass-legume seedings.

Dr. A. L. Hafenrichter, Regional Director of SCS grass nurseries, and Bob Brown, Assistant state conservationist, worked with local conservationists on revegetation problems last week on the shallow sticky soils in the Beagle area. The group was assisted in this work by George Loftin and Burdette Dodge, chairman and vice-chairman respectively of the local Soil Conservation District board.

The Conservation Days Program held at Southern Oregon College last week was reported very successful by those attending. Both students and visitors showed keen interest in all phases of the Conservation Program. Sorry we didn't see more of our local teachers there.

George Loftin announced that the next meeting of the Sams Valley - Beagle S.C. District will be held in the county agent's office 8 p. m. Monday April 21. Any person interested in the Soil Conservation District program is invited to attend.

Earl Peffley of Sams Valley received his Foundation Stock Intermediate wheat grass seed last week. Earl will plant 5 to 6 acres of this grass in rows for the seed production.

COMMUNITY METHODIST

Easter Services at the Gold Hill Community Methodist Church were particularly impressive because of the seriousness and eagerness of the small children that participated in the program, and because of the exceptionally large group that attended both Sunday School and Church services. The beautiful flowers, both on the altar and on the ladies' hats, could not be dimmed even though the sun had difficulty peaking through the rainclouds. A large number of people were taken into the church which proves that Easter still has a special place in our hearts regardless of the strife and trouble in today's world.

County survey crews were busy this week on Foothills Creek trying to locate the legal spot on which the gravel plant is located.

The plant was put in operation late last year.

WIMER OR BUST

THE RIGHT KIND OF CAR FOR THE KIND OF ROAD

Casually touring the streets of Rogue River last week was a delapidated '29 Model A, on the back of which was the following sign:

I may be old,
But I still get hot,
So I'm doin' the best I can
With what I got.

But the road is ROUGH
And the pavin' thin.
I'm a danged good car yet
For the shape I'm in.
And now back to Wimer or Bust.
