The California Election.

The sweeping victory gained by the Republican party in California in the late election, is the first expression of the judgment of the voters of any northern State upon the political issues which have been forced upon the country by the intemperate action of the Democratic party within the past year.

Murder in Mississippi.

Dispatches from the South announce the cowardly murder of Captain H. M. Dixon, of Yazoo, Mississippi, by the straight out Democrats. He was a man of influence, and had formerly been a leader in the party in his locality.

Election News—The Republicans Everywhere Triumphant.

Complete returns from the California election have not yet been received, but enough is known to assure the complete triumph of the Republican party.

The entire Republican State ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 1000 to 20,000.

In San Francisco the workingmen's party have elected the Mayor, Sheriff, Auditor, District Attorney, City and County Attorney, Tax Collector, Public Administrator and Surveyor.

The Democrats have elected all four Congressmen.

The King of Denmark is suffering much from ill health. He has felt deeply the loss of his last daughter, Thyra, Duchess of Cumberland, and the incorporation by Prussia of North Schleswig was also a trouble to him.

Dr. L. P. Blackburn, Governor-elect of the sovereign State of Kentucky, being requested to explain the charges made against him by the Republican press to the effect that he was concerned in introducing yellow fever-infected clothing into the North during the war of the rebellion, simply says: "The statements are lies, and I don't care a damn for all the Republican comments in Christendom."

People who are so fond of punching holes in United States coin, are not aware of the fact that such amusement is against the laws of the land. The penalty of so doing is two years imprisonment and $2,000 fine for every offence.

Typhoid Malarial Fever.

L. C. B. GOLDEN, M. D.

Having had much experience in the treatment of malarial and typhoid fever, it is only proper that I should express my opinion in a few words on the subject; the more so, as many of our people might become unduly alarmed from the tone of an article in the Coos Bay News of the 10th instant.

To a certain extent, I can endorse Dr. Tower's views in regard to sanitary measures, but I think he is too extreme in his views. Certainly the air of Coos Bay cannot become contaminated like the air of Breslau, or any German city with narrow streets, badly ventilated houses, and closely packed, crowded, and poorly fed inhabitants.

Springfield, to be sure, is not a German city, nor one of narrow streets or ill fed inhabitants, but a beautiful city in the valley of the Connecticut. Yet there are many solid blocks of houses, and in many cases (as in all cities) badly constructed drains and sewers, and situated in a climate where the thermometer in mid-summer ranges from 107 degrees in day time, to 50 or 60 degrees at night; and during a drouth, which sometimes occurs at such a time as many weeks, a contagion spreads like a prairie fire.

In regard to the melancholy case alluded to in the News, Mrs. Pasco was a lady esteemed by all who knew her; tidy in her habits and household, and living in one of the prettiest cottages in Eastport, supplied with running water of crystal purity which was conducted away from the premises in an ever-running stream. Knowing the premises so well, I cannot believe her disease was brought on by foul air or water.

I would say in this place that the water in Eastport is to all appearance as pure as any in the county, and the disease with which some of the children were troubled, was brought on more by eating unripe fruit than by the water they used.

A Hundred Years Hence.

Man for the future can but reason by the past. In a hundred years he has seen or heard of many changes on the wondrous globe he calls his home. Great souls have come and gone; great souls will come again. Intellect has quickened the means of this locomotion; lessened the Atlantic course of toil; intellect will do so still. So he reasons, and so his logic rests upon the past. One hundred years ago the world traveled in lumbering coaches and sailed to sea in slow going ships.

A hundred years hence! Who that is born to-day will live to see it? And what if he does? Shall he see a daily balloon to London, and an afternoon echoing to the hiss of steam, be filled with strange, unearthly shapes, with wings and fans, and shady bags of gas? Will freight-trains drawn by noiseless power, pass swiftly beneath the sea, and parcels dart like lightning around the world? Strange things that have happened here in a hundred years, and some may live to see still greater wonders.

The King of Denmark is suffering much from ill health. He has felt deeply the loss of his last daughter, Thyra, Duchess of Cumberland, and the incorporation by Prussia of North Schleswig was also a trouble to him. He has attacks of severe pain in the back, which pain sometimes rises him so suddenly that for an instance, at a late battle in the Royal covers, he was unable to remain standing, and had to be carried to and belted into his carriage. It is generally supposed that the origin of these attacks date back for several years, when the horse which his Majesty was riding fell, throwing him violently to the ground, and it is feared that possibly a joint in the spine may have received some twist or other injury, as ever since whenever the King gets a cold it at once settles in his back, accompanied by utter prostration and agonizing pains.

Nearly $5,000,000 in gold is said to be on its way to this country from Europe.

More than $5,000,000 in gold is said to be on its way to this country from Europe, or ready to come, but this is a more drop compared with the stores of gold and silver which are now gathered in London and Paris unable to find employment. The bank of England holds about the same amount of coin and bullion as the federal treasury, $175,000,000, two-thirds more than the bank had a year ago, the bank of France $200,000,000, and the other great banks of Europe $200,000,000 more.

Outbreak in Afghanistan.

A dispatch of the 6th tells of a serious outbreak against the British in Afghanistan, it says—At a late hour Thursday night a messenger traveling from Kabul to Herat, and returning from Kabul and Herat, was captured by British political agent, that the British embassy at Kabul had been attacked by several Afghan regiments which had assembled in that city, demanding arrears of pay, and that the military escort of the embassy was defeated by the rebels. A letter was received from the amir of Afghanistan, who confirms the news of the revolt, and adds that the regiments which have mutinied were joined by the populace. The amir's arsenal and stores were first plundered and destroyed and the British embassy was then attacked by overwhelming numbers.

Gold Discovery.

The Salem Talk announces the discovery of gold in the Calipoor mountains in Douglas county; it says: Governor of Drains, Yoncalla and Coconino counties, the O. & C. R. R., received here last night, says that the excitement over the discovery of gold in the Calipoor mountains, has extended all over Douglas county. One crowd of men who were threshing wheat near Drains, immediately quit their work and commenced preparation to go to the mines. If the reports of the gold find are true, there will be a general stampede in southern Oregon for the placer diggings.

Emigration from England.

It appears that not only the farmers of England, but also the skilled mechanics are discouraged with the prospect of having to compete with American productions. A New York dispatch of the 2nd says: Bryson, President of the Northumberland Miners' Association, has expressed his opinion that the struggle at once and forever in England, and to emigrate. Three hundred men of the Bradford iron and machine works are on their way to Philadelphia, where employment is promised them. A cutlery firm in Sheffield, with all its capital and whole staff of workmen, is being moved bodily to this country.

The Shanghai Mercury records the raising of the British ironclad Iron Duke, which was sunk at Shanghai. The Mercury says: The U. S. ship Monocacy must have the principal credit in her release from her unpleasant position; Thursday night, when a line was passed to her from the Iron Duke, the other ships have simply been looking on. Capt. Summers appears to have been the only person apart from the officers of the Iron Duke, who believed she could be floated at once. At all events, his efforts were continuous, and yesterday morning she, shortly before 6 o'clock, saw them successful. There is nothing on earth we like so well to see as the American and British services thus giving evidence of the brotherhood that exists between them.

The most costly school building in the world is the new polytechnic institute at Hanover. The late king of Hanover commenced the construction of a magnificent palace, upon which he expended about five millions of dollars. When his government was overthrown and the kingdom of Hanover became the a province of Prussia, the building was found to be in a half finished condition. For several years the windows were boarded up and the empty rooms became the residence of bats and birds. At last the German government resolved to alter the building and adapt it to uses of the polytechnic school. This work has been going forward for several years, and is now nearly completed.

Two farmers in Santa Clara county, Cal., are having a queer lawsuit. One had a fine artesian well on his grounds, yielding water enough to irrigate large strawberry beds and an orchard during the season. The other dug a well, sunk on the adjoining property, struck the identical vein of water which supplied the first, and effectually checked its flow. Landowner No. 1 then instituted suit for damages for injury to his well, while No. 2 claims that the well he dug, and which No. 1 considers as injurious, was dug on his own property and, therefore, was not an injury which No. 1 could ask redress for.

The Marchioness of D— is very proud of her nobility, which reaches back to the Crusades. She is the proud of her admirable hands, the finest, without doubt, in all Paris. The other day she gave one of those marvels to a friend to kiss. He could not refrain from enthusiastically expressing his admiration, declaring that her hands were the divinest, etc. "I should think they ought to be," said she—"hands that haven't worked in the kitchen for five hundred years!"

A New Jersey family ate food stools supporting them to be mushroom rooms; two children have died, and two more are about to die, but the old folks are getting well.

A Sad Case.

The body of a man was found upon the beach at Port Gamble, W. T., an inquest being held. It was found dead had been caused by poison. There was nothing on the body by which it could be identified, and the following note found on the body furnished the only clue to the cause of his self destruction:

I am no tramp. I will not beg nor steal. I have looked for work everywhere on Puget Sound. My God help my poor wife and children. I am sorry that I can't make a living here; there is nothing for me. Death before dishonor. Oh, my poor wife and children are far off. God forgive us all.

Nearly forty thousand people were present at the reunion of war veterans at Aurora, Ill., the other day. Artillery and bands of music rendered the city a complete camp, and decorations were more lavishly distributed than ever before. The grand event of the meeting was the storming of the so-called "rebel Fort Wade," over which the Confederate emblem had been flying three days—The soldiers reunion at Cambridge, O., has drawn big crowds. Gen. Garfield delivered the opening address to an audience numbering five or six thousand.

New Orleans is carpeting its river-front with mats of cane, bound with wire, to prevent the father of waters from washing its shores away. These mats are a foot and a half thick, 25 feet wide and 200 feet long, one end being fastened to piles, driven in the river-bank and the other laid upon the river bottom, where it is anchored by sand-bags. The mats are made by machinery, and it is the intention to cover 8,000 yards of the river-front with them.

It is stated in Dublin that the lord lieutenant has requested the police authorities of Limerick to make a special report of the circumstances under which Chas. Stewart Parnell at a recent banquet suffered hissing which greeted the toast, "The Queen," and to pass unnoticed, though he is a magistrate and a member of parliament.

The New York State Republican Convention met at Saratoga on the 3d, and nominated the following ticket: Governor, A. B. Cornell; Lieutenant Governor, Geo. G. Hoskins; Secretary of State, Jos. B. Carr; Comptroller, James W. Wadsworth; Treasurer, Nathan D. Woodruff; Attorney General, Hamilton Ward; State Engineer and Surveyor, Howard Soule.

GENERAL GRANT and party will be here in San Francisco on the 21st instant; they come by the steamer City of Tokio.

JAY GOULD has sent the Memphis Howards $5,000, and says he will foot their bills as long as they think necessary.

Mrs. Senator Sprague has asked for the appointment of a trustee for her estate.
