THE COMPLICATIONS IN MAINE.

The excitement caused by an attempt on the part of a Democratic Governor in Maine to give the control of the State to the Democratic-Greenback combination is now in a fair way to be settled. The questions referred by the Governor to the Supreme Court have been substantially decided in favor of the claims of the Republicans, and nothing remains but for the Democrats to give up the contest. Although some unscrupulous Democrats advise the counted members to insist on their supposed rights and not to be bull-dozed, the more reasonable and conservative favor accepting the decision of the Court as final. It is said by leading lawyers that if this opinion is disregarded it will be the first instance of the kind in the history of Maine. It has been ascertained that the executive department, in more than fifty years since Maine was a State, has asked the judgment of the Supreme Judicial Court on important questions of law, and never in a single instance has it been disregarded. Some of the counted members had determined before the decision was announced not to qualify for the offices to which they knew they had no right, but there was a great pressure upon them to accept. Various opinions are expressed by leading members of the defeated party. A few Democrats say the Governor had no business to submit the question to the Court, that he had done his work according to the constitution and laws and should have rested his case.

D. T. Pike, a leading Democrat, says that Garcelon deceived himself by taking any notice of Morrill's letter. He had completed his work and that ought to have been the end of it. K. W. Black, a leading Greenbacker, says that the Court went out of its way to answer questions not put to it. Col. W. Dickey, member of the Legislature, says the decision of this Court will have no effect upon the organization of the Legislature. None of the leading papers of the country of either party advise Governor Garcelon to resist the decision. The World says Governor Garcelon never should have been in doubt, and it may be fairly inferred from the questions submitted by Garcelon to the Court that upon careful examination of his course that he satisfied himself that his Greenback counselors and his cipher alley advisers had led him into a false position. May we not now begin to hope that certain Democratic leaders and Democratic editors who have been over tenderly disposed toward cipher alley methods of the Greenback members of Garcelon's council will eventually see the folly of such methods even from the lowest possible point of view and join with the World in insisting that the Democratic party shall hereafter cease to curry favor with demagogues and communists in any part of the country.

One member of the Court, Judge Libby, is a Democrat, but the opinion is unanimous, and is thereby relieved of the strictly partisan character which it might otherwise have borne.

A Band of Murderers.

A St. Louis dispatch says that near the relay depot at East St. Louis, where there are marshes and ditches almost without number, the police think they have discovered evidence which establishes the existence of a gang of murderers, and to a certain extent solves the mystery surrounding the disappearance of several well known men. Judge Mayes, of Olney, was last seen at this place, on board the outgoing train, and since that time no less than a dozen other travelers have vanished in the same remarkable manner in that vicinity. The theory of the detectives is that passengers are hurled from the night trains.

Congressional Candidates.

The policy of silence in political affairs pursued by candidates is a bad one for the people. The press and people of the State should discuss the merits and demerits of candidates and express their preferences before the assembling of conventions. And conventions should follow the direction of popular will in the selection of candidates. If such a course had been pursued four years ago Bookman would have been Governor, and if the name of Hines had been before the public prior to the convention two years ago, the opposition within his own party, which defeated him, would have shown itself in time to have prevented his nomination and consequent defeat. As we approach another election the friends of several gentlemen are preparing to influence the convention in favor of their particular candidates.

The Bee proposes to make a new departure in this respect, and place the names of candidates as far as known, before the people. In doing so it has no desire to help or hinder the chances of any particular candidate for the position. The names so far prominently mentioned are Hon. D. P. Thompson, present Mayor of Portland, Hon. Rufus Mallory, United States District Attorney for Oregon, Hon. W. D. Hare, Collector of Customs at Astoria, Gen. "Lish" Applegate, Inspector of Customs at Portland, Mr. Odell, editor of the Salem Statesman, Judge Watson, of Roseburg and Col. Knight, of Salem; three of whom hold Federal offices, and all but Col. Knight are confirmed office-holders or seekers.—Bee.

While we have nothing to urge against either of the candidates mentioned above, we have at all times insisted that Southern Oregon should furnish the next Congressman. Judge Watson, who is named from that part of the State, is the ablest man on the list, and in Coos and Curry counties he can poll many more votes than any other candidate that can be nominated. Next to Judge Watson, perhaps Gen. Odell would rank first in strength and favor in this part of the State. We concur in the view expressed by the Bee, that the merits of candidates should be discussed and fully understood by the people before the assembling of the Convention that is to nominate them.

California Legislature—Republican Organization in Both Houses.

A Sacramento dispatch of the 6th says: The assembly met at 10 o'clock, Speaker Cowdery in the chair. The House then proceeded to complete the organization. Fox nominated Fraser, of Eldorado, for the Republicans. Spencer submitted the name of McCarty, of Lake, for the Democrats. Corcoran nominated McCarty, of San Francisco, for the Workingmen and the new constitution. The vote stood: Fraser, 40; McCarty, of San Francisco, 22; McCarty, of Lake, 14; Fox, 1. Whole number of votes, 76; necessary to a choice, 39. Fraser was elected. The election of officers was then proceeded with, the Republican caucus nominees in every instance having been elected.

The Senate organized by the election of Chase of Santa Barbara, President pro tem., and the rest of the Republican caucus nominees by a vote of 23 against 16.

Another Revolutionary Movement.

That most uncertain of all countries, Mexico, has another insurrection of very formidable character. A late dispatch from Rio Grande City says: Rumors of a revolution in the state of Durango, Mexico, reach here. The particulars, however, are meagre. Some time since Gen. Trevino was ordered from Monterey to suppress the insurrection in that State. News was received yesterday that he had been defeated by the revolutionists and was calling for assistance. All available troops at Monterey were sent to his aid. The Government is raising troops at Mer by conscription. A young American from here was forced into the ranks despite his protest. He succeeded in escaping and arrived here last night. The general opinion is that this revolution will be general, as it is well planned and understood throughout the greater part of Mexico, and will have gained immense proportions by the 1st of March. The Rio Grande border will witness no small part of this revolt.

Bishop Haven Dead.

Bishop Gilbert Haven of the M. E. Church, died at the residence of his brother, at Malden, Mass., on the 5th, aged 58 years. He was a man who, in every station to which duty called him, obeyed with fearlessness the dictates of conscience, and stamped upon his Church and the fields of labor to which he had been assigned, the impress of his iron will. He is said to have been, at the time of his death, the youngest Bishop in the Church, though in influence in Church affairs he was probably second to none.
