CHURCH DIRECTORY.

M. E. Church.—1st, 2d and 3d Sundays of each month. Mornings at Empire City, evenings at Marshfield. 4th Sunday of each month at the forks Coos river. Rev. R. YEOMANS, Pastor.

SATURDAY, - - - APRIL 24, 1880.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

LARCENY IN A SALOON.—It was mentioned some weeks since that W. H. Wetzel's saloon in Empire had been entered and some sixty dollars stolen therefrom. Last week George Phillips and John Fishburn were arrested as the guilty parties, and on examination were bound over, and in default of bail are shut up. Phillips in his statement told all about it, and makes the guilt of himself, Fishburn and one George Barrett beyond doubt. Barrett is at Suislaw and Sheriff Aiken is after him.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE CENSUS.—Mr. Sucksdorf, Supervisor of the Census for Oregon, has divided this county into districts as follows: No. 1, Empire City, Lake, Ten Mile and South Slough precincts. No. 2, Marshfield, Coos City, Uter City and Sumner. No. 3, Coos River, North Coos River, Burton Prairie and Brewster's Valley. No. 4, Coquille, Hall's Prairie, Missouri, Enchanted and Johnsons. No. 5, Coos City, Coaledo, Beaver Slough, Randolph and Bandon. There will be an enumerator for each district, but appointments are not announced.

GRAVE ROBBING.—It appears that some hoodlums from the lower Bay have been in the habit of digging open Indian graves and stealing the valuables that by the customs of the red men are buried with their owners. Last week young Ingersol was arrested on a charge of this character and on examination before Justice Sengstacken, was held to answer. Being unable to give bonds he went to jail. It is said there are others against whom the same charge will lie.

SCHOONER ENTERPRISE.—The Astorian of the 15th says that the schooner Enterprise, laden with lumber from South Bend mills to San Francisco, went ashore on Shoalwater bay bar when passing to sea on Monday last, and was deserted by all hands and the cook, with the exception of Capt. Donnelly, and Mr. John Woods, who was going as a passenger. After the crew left her Capt. Donnelly and Mr. Woods worked her back to South Bend, where she now lies in a water logged condition.

IMPORTANT.—If Edison's electric process of reducing ore and saving gold from the tailings of mines has the merit now claimed for it, the discovery is worth millions of dollars to Coos and Curry counties. The black sand deposits so extensive here, that barely pay wages under the usual process of working, would, under that treatment, be immensely rich. Some one should send him a sample of gold-bearing black sand from our mines, and see if it will not result in a rise in black sand stock.

NEW PAPER.—We are in receipt of the prospectus of the Curry County Post, a paper about to be started at Ellensburg, by J. H. Upton and his son J. M. Upton. It is to be a twenty-column journal, non-partizan, and independent in all things. These gentlemen are capable of making a good paper, being experienced journalists; and we hope the people of Curry county will extend to them and their enterprise a substantial and cordial welcome.

CHANGE OF MASTERS.—Capt. Carroll has left the Duncan, and takes command of the Sitka steamer California. Capt. Dennis, formerly of the steamer Mary Taylor, takes charge of the Duncan. Capt. Dennis has been a pilot in the light house supply trade, and is said to be a careful and competent commander.

EARTHQUAKE.—At five minutes of one, on the 14th instant, the heaviest shock of earthquake for several years was felt in San Francisco. The motion was vertical. No damage yet reported, although buildings rocked so that the motion was plainly visible. The Nevada block apparently swayed a foot out of perpendicular.

THE Methodist Quarterly Meeting Services advertised for to-day and tomorrow in Marshfield are withdrawn. The unavoidable absence of Presiding Elder McCain being the cause. Rev. C. P. Bailey holds his usual 4th Saturday and Sunday religious services.

REV. R. YEOMANS.—"MORE BRAINS."—Mr. Siglin, with characteristic egotism, says the Democratic party has "more brains." The difficulty with that party is the brains are in the wrong end; it should be voted upside down.

DETAINED.—We are informed that T. G. Owen and his family are detained in Junction City on account of the serious illness of one of their children.

SAILED.—The schooner Leeds was towed to sea from the Umpqua last Monday, after a delay of some ten days. She carried a number of passengers.

Teachers' Institute.

In accordance with previous announcement the Teacher's Institute for this county assembled here last Tuesday, J. F. Moore, President. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was small the first day. A committee on programme was appointed consisting of Mr. A. B. Camp, Mrs. S. B. Rotnor and Z. T. Siglin. Forest Lang was chosen Secretary pro tem.

SECOND DAY. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the choice of Geo. Davis for President, A. B. Camp, Vice President, Z. T. Siglin, Secretary, and Mrs. S. B. Rotnor, assistant Secretary. P. M.

The subject of grammar was introduced by Z. T. Siglin, and the method of teaching the same was illustrated by Mr. Welsh, followed by remarks by Messrs. Camp, Hacker, and Moore.

Evening. The evening exercises consisted of Arithmetic, introduced by J. M. Siglin. Mrs. Tower, Miss Smith, and Mr. Welsh, furnished music.

THIRD DAY. Mathematics was continued by demonstration of cube root by Frank Lang. Reading was introduced by Mr. Welsh, and penmanship conducted by Mr. Camp.

P. M. The exercises in the afternoon consisted of general discussion of the theory and practice of teaching.

Buick, and D. Montgomery. Clerk, George W. Kimball. Sheriff, James Wright. Treasurer, Jesse M. Hackett. School Superintendent, J. W. Shauge. Assessor, D. R. B. Winneford. County Commissioners, A. Riddle and R. S. Applegate. Surveyor, H. G. Hurlburt. Coroner, Wm. McBea. County Central Committee, Hon. G. W. Colvig, W. H. Byars, James Cole, W. A. Perkins, and B. B. Brockway. Delegates to the State Convention, John Emmitt, R. Dixon, A. Reed, W. H. Byars, E. G. Hursh, L. Kent, Jep. Hunt, G. W. Riddle, Wm. Irwin, D. S. K. Buick, and R. S. Applegate.

DECLINES.—We are requested to say that Henry Sengstacken, who was nominated by the Republican Convention for Coroner, declines to be a candidate, and the Central Committee has nominated Louis F. Mulroe to fill the vacancy.

JOINED.—We are informed that the difficulty between A. Lobree and the other lumber manufacturers has been settled by Mr. Lobree becoming a member of the combination.

WILL MOVE.—Dr. C. B. Golden has leased the building immediately south of the Palace saloon on Front street and on the 1st of next month will move his drug store to the new location.

HEARD FROM.—We are informed that J. W. Bennett has been heard from by his friends here; he is visiting the lakes of Killarney—or some other place—accompanied by his wife. We have not heard when he will start on his return.

THE ARCAT.—This steamer, revised and enlarged, it is announced, will be here again before the 15th of next month. She will be warmly welcomed.

DEATH OF A CHILD.—A son of Mr. W. P. Wright of Coquille City, aged about eleven years, died last week of diphtheria.

THE Premier is taking a deck load at Luse's mill.

The schooner Aurora arrived yesterday.

The Cool laid up yesterday for repairs.

Mr. W. D. McGee, of Gardiner was in town this week.

J. W. HAMILTON, Esq., returned to Empire last Saturday.

MR. THOS. NORRIS of Burton Prairie was in town Thursday.

FISHING will open on Rogue river as soon as the river gets low enough.

PLEASANT weather made its appearance again yesterday, it is hoped, to stay awhile.

DR. STEEL was called home to the Coquille last week by sickness in his family.

THE Little Annie on the Coquille is laid up, but will probably be running again soon.

REV. CHARLES E. PHILBROOK is the Republican candidate for School Superintendent in Curry county.

THE schooners Premier, Clara Light and Norway arrived last Sunday; they take cargoes at Newport.

THE West Coast Signal, an old Eureka newspaper, lately suspended publication.

THE second crib in the harbor work was settled and filled last Tuesday. The heavy rain made it very disagreeable, but did not stop the work.

WM. BRUCE, who has filled the position of deck hand on the tug Escort for some three years past, has vacated the situation and will go to San Francisco.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EDS. COAST MAIL.—I send you the following items from our neighborhood: The Republican County Convention was held at Ellensburg on Saturday last, and the following nominations were made: For Joint Representative, Rawley Scott, a resident of the southern portion of the county; County Judge, Capt. Cooley; Com. Missioners, C. Jensen, of Port Orford, and Scott of Chetco; County Clerk, Walter Sutton; Treasurer, M. B. Gibson; Sheriff, Wm. Gauntlett; Assessor, John Miller; Coroner, T. Cunningham; Delegates to State Convention, M. Riley, and Thompson, in R. D. Hume & Co's employ. While the above ticket is no doubt acceptable to our southern neighbors, it will not meet with general approval in this end of the county. It is a marked fact that not a single office has been allotted to this end of the county, notwithstanding that our delegates insisted upon our claim to such consideration. The consequence of such action will be that the Republicans in this neighborhood will feel slighted; and if the Democrats had made better nominations than they have, there is not the slightest doubt but many Republican voters would prefer a good Port Orford Democrat to a south end Republican. Especially for such offices as have a great local influence. "A dog fights best near his own door."

Of the personnel of the Democratic ticket you are doubt informed. After the nominations became known a prominent Democrat gave it as his opinion that "there is neither head nor tail to it." Since then it is rumored that some of the nominees have refused to accept, so it is probable that the middle portion of the animal has also dropped out, and the thing must present a melancholy spectacle indeed. In conversation with Democrats, upon inquiry "how do you like your ticket?" the universal answer is a groan, deep and painful, as if proceeding from the bottom of their pockets.

Of course you know we have a harbor of refuge here. A boat was dispatched from Ellensburg to Crescent City, under command of T. Cunningham, with two or three other men in it. Having accomplished their business in Crescent City, they started to return; but the heavy north winds of last week compelled them to seek shelter in some cove near Chetco. While lying there, their stock of provisions and water gave out; a landing was effected and a supply of muscles and water obtained on a rock. On Saturday last, however, a strong south "aster sprang up, and they had to get out. Upon arriving at the bar outside of Rogue river, they found it breaking, and as a gale was springing up, they squared away for Port Orford arriving here in the afternoon, they found a snug harbor in Nellie Cove, where they now are. Mr. G. Brown, one of the crew, took passage for Ellensburg this morning, on the hurricane deck of a mule, thus making sure of passing the bar in safety; altogether, the boys had a narrow escape.

Public school is in full blast here, and our hotel keepers report plenty of visitors to the place. The weather is cold and disagreeable, and a great proportion of our people are suffering with severe attacks of colds.

The last new comer reported by P. Nelson is on Floras Creek, and is a relative of his'n, and she is a week old. More anon.

DISASTERS AT ROGUE RIVER.

A correspondent of the Crescent City Courier, writing from Ellensburg insinuates that the numerous wrecks that have occurred at the mouth of Rogue river lately, are attributable to something besides the ordinary dangers of navigation. Referring to the case of the Varona, he says: "We understand that no blame is attached to Capt. Graves for the mishap, but to the engineer, who—it is said—did not understand his business (but perhaps he did). R. D. Hume has been remarkably unfortunate in regard to wrecks, and, strange to say, this ill luck does not extend beyond Hume & Co. The schooner Moss has made several voyages to Rogue river with perfect safety, and the George Harley, under the command of Capt. Ross, has crossed the bar twice this winter with perfect ease; and how it is that they do not extend beyond Hume & Co. can enter Rogue river in safety, while his are invariably stranded, is beyond the comprehension of the Rogue river people. Some of us think Rogue river a curse to R. D. Hume, and vice versa while we all join in a general belief that if ship-owners are going to continue sending their old vessels up here to be stranded at Rogue river, it will be prudent for insurance companies of San Francisco to send an agent up here to look after their interests and see that their rights are not infringed upon." It is true that the late succession of disasters at Rogue river have been alike unfortunate to the reputation of the harbor, and to the interests of ship owners and insurance companies, but the insinuation that vessels have been willfully cast ashore and wrecked there, appears to be unwarranted by the facts. If there is evidence to support the charge, a proper investigation should be had and the guilty parties punished.

TILDEN'S INCOME TAX CASE.

The case commenced in 1876, by the United States against the Democratic sachein, Samuel J. Tilden, to recover money which he fraudulently refused to pay in taxes under the revenue law during a few years previous, still drags along, Tilden resorting to every possible means of delay.

A Washington telegram to the New York Tribune says: Upon the application of ex-Governor Tilden's counsel the trial of the Tilden income tax suit has been postponed until November next. The Government cannot possibly by this proceeding lose any advantage which it may now possess; and it may gain very important advantages. Six or eight months ago the Government filed a bill of discovery, to which Mr. Tilden's counsel demurred. The court below decided that he was bound to answer the questions propounded, and his counsel appealed from this decision to the Supreme Court of the United States, which has not yet rendered its decision. If the case should be tried now the Government would have to forego any advantage which it may expect to derive from the information to be obtained through the writ of discovery. If the case be continued to November, the counsel for the Government expect that the Supreme Court will decide in its favor, and that they will, in addition to the evidence now in their possession, the additional evidence which will be contained in Mr. Tilden's answer.

DISCOURAGING TO STOCK-RAISERS.

The cold storms that have prevailed during the present month, have probably destroyed more stock than all that had preceded. The Lake county Herald of the 3d, says: The storm now raging is undoubtedly the worst on stock we've had. For three days the wind has been blowing from the south, with a constant and at times a very severe storm of snow falling, which melts almost as fast as it falls, containing all the damaging qualities of both rain and snow. If it continues thus for a few days longer, it will occasion greater loss among stock than all the former storms of the winter combined. It seems the elements are combining for the complete demotion of the stock business. Everybody has the blues, and with good and sufficient reason. It is a foregone conclusion that the damage to all classes in this country will be so great as to make times very hard for some years to come. Money is as scarce as fat beef, and those who have a few dollars cling to them as though they never expected to get more. We have now had six months of winter, and the indications are that another seige is just beginning.

How is This?

We have heard it mentioned that Mr. J. M. Siglin, one of the publishers of the Coos Bay News, is trying to secure the votes of the people for a State Senator; we find the following interesting item in the last issue of this paper, referring to himself, which of course sets the matter at rest:

Its publishers belong to no clique or ring; are neither office seekers nor office holders; hence it dare be independent in all things.

As there is no probability of his getting votes enough to elect him, he perhaps anticipates the result, and says he is not an office seeker. He didn't seek the office; probably doesn't want it. "Sour grapes?"

IMMIGRATION to this country from Europe this year promises to surpass that of any previous year in our history. The suffering and destitution in Ireland, and the unsettled condition of affairs in other countries doubtless, greatly stimulates this movement.

The Iowa Republican Convention instructed its delegates for Blaine.

J. E. WHITE, living eight miles east of Weston, says an exchange, came very near being burned up alive on the morning of April 6th, by setting fire to his house. He has been somewhat crazy for something like six months by spells. On the morning of the 6th he came to Mr. Calvin Ferguson's, on Wild Horse creek, about daylight, awakening the family by his cries. He was burned almost to crisp, and was tracked through the snow by the blood. He has no relations in this country. Dr. Petre, of Weston, was called to see what could be done for him. He is at Mr. Ferguson's at present and is not expected to live.

Adverse Report as to the Inspection District.

The Astorian says the Senate Commerce Committee has reported adversely the bill creating the customs district of Southern Oregon an inspection district and providing for the appointment of inspector of hulls and boilers. It is probable that the Senate Committee on Commerce disposed of this subject by the easiest method, and that little if any attention was paid to the subject after it reached their hands. It is certain that the present condition of things is productive of great hardships upon our commercial interests, and there should be a remedy provided. It is probable that this adverse report will have the effect to kill the measure in Congress, but there is another way in which the existing inconvenience can be obviated.

Section 414 of the Revised Statutes provides that in addition to the inspectors required to be appointed for the several districts, the Secretary of the Treasury may appoint in such districts, when their services are actually required, "assistant inspectors," etc. If the "Willamette" district is to be kept at its present size, experience has shown that there is necessity for assistant inspectors to reside and attend to the duties in Southern Oregon. It is to be hoped that the interests of this important portion of the State will not be disregarded in this matter; and that by the appointment of assistant inspectors, the Secretary of the Treasury will give us the just recognition that Congress has denied.

An Important Question.

Chinaman Ah Lee is under sentence of death for murder in Portland his case has been appealed to the Supreme Court, and the sentence of the Circuit Court affirmed. Now come his attorneys and apply to Judge Deady in the United States Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus to procure his release on the ground that the act authorizing the appointment of the Judges of the Supreme and Circuit Courts, passed by the last Legislature is unconstitutional and void, and that these Courts are not legal tribunals, and their judgements a nullity.

The ground of the alleged unconstitutionality of the law is that the Constitution did not authorize the Legislature to provide for a Supreme Court, distinct from the Judges of the Circuit Court, till the population of the State reached 200,000, and that at the time when said act was passed the State had not that number of inhabitants.

If the Court should sustain the writ and discharge the defendant from custody, it would create a serious conflict between State and Federal jurisdiction, and there is talk in Portland that the Sheriff will not regard Judge Deady's decision. It is difficult to determine just what might be the ultimate result of such a decision, and the ruling of the Court on the motion is looked for with more than ordinary interest.

Edison's Rich Strike.

The process of saving gold by means of electricity promises to be one of the most important as well as the profitable of all Edison's discoveries and inventions. It was accidentally discovered while he was making experiments in saving platinum, which was the sole object of his search. He was surprised, and at first not pleased with the prominence of gold as the product of his experiments with the tailings from which he hoped to obtain platinum, but soon becoming convinced there was a bonanza in the tailings of the great California mines, he directed his agent, Mr. McLaughlin, to make contracts for tailings with various companies whose mines have been extensively worked. He organized the "Edison Ore Milling Company," and it is supposed that the gold will be saved "by this company out of the tailings already secured, will be of immense value.

How is This?

We have heard it mentioned that Mr. J. M. Siglin, one of the publishers of the Coos Bay News, is trying to secure the votes of the people for a State Senator; we find the following interesting item in the last issue of this paper, referring to himself, which of course sets the matter at rest:

DIED.

In Coquille City, April 15, 1880, after a lingering illness of many weeks John F. second son of Hon. Wm. P. and Maria L. Wright, aged eleven years. Thus the dark mantle of mourning has been cast over another household in our little City.
