

COAST

THE MAIL.

VOL. II.

MARSHFIELD, OR., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1880.

NO. 48.

The Development of our Mines, the Improvement of our harbors, and railroad communication with the Interior specialties.

Abandoned.

Left high on the beach by a recent high water— No more to be tossed by the white crested waves.

There was joy on the shore when it came through the breakers; For fond hearts and bright eyes awaited it long.

When rigged for a cruise, neatly painted and polished, Its symmetry vied with all beautiful forms;

Its sails and its oars and its thole-pins were scattered.

And broken and gone are its mast, boom and beam.

By the merciless surf on the spit it was battered.

Now the sea gulls alight on its gunwales and scream.

Remarkable Clock Mechanism.

In the French horological section at the exhibition were two clocks remarkable for their mechanism.

THE Jacksonville Sentinel says: The Shampf ledge, situated in the Willow Springs district, has recently been visited by a number of gentlemen among them two California mining experts.

MISS ANNIE LOUISE CARY is having some new gowns made in Paris. Among them is a princess wrapper of light blue cashmere.

Expansion Democratic.

"Gath," writes the Cincinnati Enquirer, a long letter explanatory of the causes of the late defeat of the Democracy.

It is not Mr. Tilden, nor any other man, who is to set the party on its feet; but a course of good and prudent behavior, which will get the confidence of the people.

Accident took me on election night into the private rooms of Grace, the Irish candidate for mayor.

To that degree does servility permeate Tammany Hall under Kelly's control that to tell the truth to one of the bosses in Tammany Hall is as bad as bearing Henry VIII. of Lopez of Paraguay.

After leaving his room one of his confidential men said: "Gentlemen, I fear that he is beaten, and our whole ticket. The Republicans were just irresistible.

Mr. McLean, who held in the latter part of the Tweed ring, and under it, the street commissioner of New York, said: "I don't feel that it will be of any use to make another fight against the Republican party until events adjust themselves.

Mr. Havermayr, a Democratic son of a Democratic ex-mayor of New York, said to me, later in the evening: "While I regret, for Hancock's sake, his defeat, I should rejoice if the Irish ticket is beaten in New York.

As an attorney, about to furnish a bill of costs, was requested, by his client, a baker, "to make it as light as he could."

I am to take back the answer whether you will make these appointments.

My father said that he would give the paper its due consideration and return an answer on another day.

The Republicans justly ascribe their success to the magnificent array of stump speakers they sent all over the country.

Mr. Hildreth, of the West End hotel, said this afternoon: "I cast my ballot for Hancock, and think he would have made a good President.

Barnum is the most overrated man in this country. John Kelly has got so little sense and policy that one of the disagreeable things to a Democrat is to see his city ticket elected.

Col. James, ex-collector of the port of San Francisco, and an intimate friend of Tilden, said: "If our case had not been bad enough before, that forged Garfield letter did the business for us.

I have been something of an expert about letters, and as soon as I saw that production I knew it to be bogus. I knew that Garfield would never write an answer to a mere question from a stranger and marked the envelope 'personal' and the letter 'private and confidential.'

As an attorney, about to furnish a bill of costs, was requested, by his client, a baker, "to make it as light as he could."

South American War.

A Panama dispatch of the 16, says: The Lima correspondent of the Star and Herald says Commander Lynch continues his raid through the defenseless northern towns and valleys of Peru.

Senor Soloman, under a flag of truce, proposed to hold a meeting with Lynch to discuss matters.

The following we take from an exchange: The Tiger club of Greenville county, South Carolina, recently celebrated the Democratic victory in that State and adopted the following resolutions:

That from henceforth we pledge ourselves to discard any man, white or black, who voted with the radical party, and that we will not rent any of our lands, or have upon our premises such men, until they prove their sincerity to honest Government or the Democratic party by words and deeds.

That we earnestly call upon the people of our county and State to join hands with us in this matter as the only course for the people to save the Government from corruption and fraud.

The Panama Canal.

A Paris dispatch says: The capital of the Panama Canal Company will be 300,000,000 francs, divided into 600,000 shares of 500 francs each.

JAY GOULD positively contradicts the rumor of a great railroad consolidation with Grant at the head of it.

Newspaper Financiering—An Englishman Learns a Lesson in Coos County.

We take the following from the Portland "Standard": This is a strange world to live in. If you do not rob your neighbor, your neighbor is sure to rob you.

"I came to the country about a year ago with $5,000 in my pocket. For eight months I laid 'round doing nothing. One day I meet a fellow who told me about a good opening down in Coos county in the newspaper line.

Persons who have fainted should be laid flat upon their backs and let alone.

To stop bleeding from an ordinary wound, apply a wad of cotton; or else a paste made of equal parts of flour and salt.

If your clothes catch afire, with your own hands press your clothes above the flames closely, and at the same time lie down on the floor and roll over and over as fast as you can.

An Incident of the War.

A writer in the Philadelphia Times relates the following incident of the battle of Murfreesboro: When the lines of both armies were advancing to the charge, a rabbit, or more properly a hare, was aroused from his quiet seclusion immediately in advance of the Confederate line.

FIFTY thousand women are needed in Arizona at once, and no questions asked.—N. H. Register.

S. C. SCHWIZ has requested Agent Meacham, of the Ute Commission, to return to Colorado.

A Sad Story.

Mrs. Wetmore, a beautiful woman of good American family, recently committed suicide in Paris.

She was married and very happily circumstanced, so far as outward appearances would indicate; but became fascinated with an English nobleman, the wealthy Lord Henry Paget, Marquis of Anglesey.

In a few weeks Mrs. Wetmore received a letter saying "all was over, and offering her 1000 francs a year to live upon—a third of his daily income.

The Marquis met another "queen of society" in London, and shortly afterward married her at the English Embassy in Paris.

Queen Victoria (his cousin) has forbidden him to enter her courts, the societies and clubs of which he was a member have expelled him, and he will be shunned by all whose society he was wont to mingle.

Hints for Emergencies.

American Farmer.

Persons who have fainted should be laid flat upon their backs and let alone.

To stop bleeding from an ordinary wound, apply a wad of cotton; or else a paste made of equal parts of flour and salt.

If your clothes catch afire, with your own hands press your clothes above the flames closely, and at the same time lie down on the floor and roll over and over as fast as you can.

An Incident of the War.

A writer in the Philadelphia Times relates the following incident of the battle of Murfreesboro: When the lines of both armies were advancing to the charge, a rabbit, or more properly a hare, was aroused from his quiet seclusion immediately in advance of the Confederate line.

FIFTY thousand women are needed in Arizona at once, and no questions asked.—N. H. Register.

S. C. SCHWIZ has requested Agent Meacham, of the Ute Commission, to return to Colorado.

Dead on the Doorstep.

A Cleveland dispatch of the 15th says: A fashionable dressmaker named Madam Somers procured a divorce from her husband on account of drunkenness and ill-usage, last May.

She obtained her divorce and was introduced by the Marquis to his friends as his future wife.

The death of his father furnished an excuse for putting off the marriage for a time, so giving her an engagement ring, he left her in Paris and went to England to take possession of his inheritance.

In a few weeks Mrs. Wetmore received a letter saying "all was over, and offering her 1000 francs a year to live upon—a third of his daily income.

The Marquis met another "queen of society" in London, and shortly afterward married her at the English Embassy in Paris.

Queen Victoria (his cousin) has forbidden him to enter her courts, the societies and clubs of which he was a member have expelled him, and he will be shunned by all whose society he was wont to mingle.

Hints for Emergencies.

American Farmer.

Persons who have fainted should be laid flat upon their backs and let alone.

To stop bleeding from an ordinary wound, apply a wad of cotton; or else a paste made of equal parts of flour and salt.

If your clothes catch afire, with your own hands press your clothes above the flames closely, and at the same time lie down on the floor and roll over and over as fast as you can.

An Incident of the War.

A writer in the Philadelphia Times relates the following incident of the battle of Murfreesboro: When the lines of both armies were advancing to the charge, a rabbit, or more properly a hare, was aroused from his quiet seclusion immediately in advance of the Confederate line.

FIFTY thousand women are needed in Arizona at once, and no questions asked.—N. H. Register.

S. C. SCHWIZ has requested Agent Meacham, of the Ute Commission, to return to Colorado.