NOTICE TO LAND CLAIMANTS. ROSEBURG LAND OFFICE, Aug. 4, 1880. TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—I hereby give notice that I have designated the COAST MAIL as the paper in which I shall hereafter publish all pre-emption and homestead notices, and applications for mining patents for lands lying near Marshfield, Coos county, Oregon.

Wm. F. BENJAMIN, Register. SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1880.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

The Arcata sailed Wednesday and is due. Tolls are taken again on the Coos Bay wagon road. Geo. Bennett Esq. of Bandon was in town this week.

The City election next Tuesday; bring your candidates. The schooner Arago takes a cargo of lumber from Lobree's mill.

A. G. Aiken will soon return to the Sixes mines to pass the winter. One hundred and twenty-seven pupils attend the school at this place.

Thos. P. Sheridan Esq., of Roseburg, is stopping at his place near Coos City. E. B. Dean & Co. have just opened a fine assortment of crockery, glass and China ware.

The Schooners La Gironde and Ida Schaar took deck loads at Dean & Co's wharf. More rain fell Wednesday and Thursday of this week than has fallen before this fall.

Public school in Ellensburg will commence shortly under the supervision of Mr. J. F. Marrs. The schooner Big River arrived Wednesday; she takes coal at Newport and a deck load of lumber at Lobree's.

James Laird was down to Coos City this week with his wagon, the bridges on this end of the road being all completed. Raekiff's steamer Little Annie has resumed her trips on the Coquille river, and is in the hands of her old captain, C. E. Edwards.

We were in error last week in saying that the Coos Bay wagon road was open for travel with wagons; there is yet a short distance in the canyon to be repaired. The steamer Mary Taylor has been refitted and will engage in towing on the Columbia bar. There is also talk of two powerful iron tugs coming from Chester, Penn., to operate in the same business.

List of letters remaining in the Postoffice at Marshfield, Coos county, Or., Dec. 1st 1880: J. C. Brown, Peter Derick, Hiram T. Hall, Carrie S. Jones, Michael Madegan, A. Returned to A. S. Annie Peterson, A. J. Pollard, Mrs. Howard Thomas, Wm. Ray, Stephen C. Rogers, registered. A. NASHBURG, P. M.

LAND SALE.—Thos. P. Sheridan has sold 108 acres of the unimproved portion of his place opposite Coos City to B. B. Jones for the consideration of $5,000. It is understood that the purchase is for the purpose of opening a new tunnel in the Southport mine, and the erection of a new bunker. Should this be the case it will double the capacity of the mine, and form an important addition to the coal shipment from the Bay.

GONE TO PIECES.—During the storm and high tide of Wednesday night and Thursday morning, the hull of the Teffair was torn to pieces by the sea. The cabin was towed to Empire City. The efforts that have been made to move her have involved considerable expense and loss to the contractors, and the prospect of recovering the machinery is probably now less encouraging than ever.

There were upwards of sixteen hundred tons of wheat raised this season on the Coquille. Stave wood to any amount can be had along the Coquille river for $7 50 per thousand. A friend of ours complains that it took him five days to get from Bandon to Empire City.

The schooners Nose and Champion are lying at the Bandon wharf, waiting a chance to get to sea, they have on board 900 barrels of salmon. This week has brought the highest tides of the season. The flow of the tide is evidently not obstructed by the cribwork near the entrance. A large bear walked into Coaledo last Monday night and seized a hog belonging to Mr. Green. A few days before the fellow, or another of his tribe, walked off with one of Mr. Green's hogs. Kill 'em!

The bar at the mouth of the Coquille is worse than ever before, on account of two additional channels having formed on the North Spit, thus diminishing the flow of water in the main channel.

Important Decision.

Last week, Judge Deady in the United States Circuit Court announced his decision in favor of the plaintiffs in the case of the Coos Bay Wagon Road Company against Charles Crocker, of San Francisco, affecting the title to the land grant along the road between here and Roseburg. The decision of the Court sustains the "vendor's lien" of the plaintiffs on all the lands belonging to the grant that were formerly conveyed to Miller, or the unpaid balance of the price agreed to be paid for the whole grant, this balance, we believe, being about $70,000. Unless this sum is paid, it will be enforced by a sale of the land, or so much thereof as may be necessary to make the payment with costs. This decision is very important to residents of this county, as it hastens the time when the lands that have been for years tied up by this controversy, will be open for sale and improvement. Unless the defendant appeals to the Supreme Court of the United States, parties wishing to secure tracts of this land may soon have an opportunity to do so; should such appeal be taken, it may be years before a final decision is reached.

The Supreme Court.

An act was passed by the late Legislature changing the time for holding the Supreme Court from January and July as heretofore to March and October, the section reading as follows:

That a term of the Supreme Court shall be held at the seat of Government on the first Monday of October and March of each year.

This act goes into effect by operation of the provision of the State Constitution, on the 20th of January next, while the regular term of that Court under the existing law will commence on the first Monday in January. It was intended to put the coming term over till March, but on account of an oversight in not having the act take effect from its approval, it appears to leave it so that the regular January term will have to be held.

Distinguished Traveler.

A New York dispatch of the 20th ult. says: There arrived here today in the steamship "City of Brussels," from Liverpool, Essoffally Hiptola, of Bombay, a merchant prince, brings with him his four native wives. These were in charge of another woman and a eunuch. In addition there were servants of the male sex, varying in size, height and age. The prince says: Each servant has certain things to do; no servant does two things, and when I get tired and weary I make them amuse me. They are all good musicians. During our trip across they had plenty of opportunity for practice, and in that time some of our most solemn feast took place. To these we invited all of the passengers, and they appeared highly amused. Then I have my conjurer my smoke charmer, and my women, who dance before me after dinner. When the prince of Wales visited Bombay some years ago, I entertained him, and on that occasion my wives showed their nautch dance. The prince says he is here just to see the United States.

Death in Childhood Sport.

Wednesday of last week at Spokane Falls, W. T., while Mrs. Lieut. Kinzie was absent from home, a gun was discharged in the hands of her little boy which resulted in the immediate death of a neighbor's child. It seems that little Bessie Quinn, aged about ten years, was staying with Mrs. Kinzie's children, and endeavoring to amuse them during the mother's absence. She was not feeling very well and was reclining on the bed with a little child; while the bright little Kinzie boy, aged about six years, was amusing himself and the rest of the children by playing with a Sharp's rifle. He discovered a cartridge which was not known to be in the house and playfully put it into the gun. In showing Bessie how it would shoot, he pointed it at her, probably not knowing what a frightful thing he was doing he pulled the trigger, killing her instantly. The charge entered her left shoulder and came out back of the right shoulder. Neighbors, alarmed at the report of the gun, hurried to the room and found the little children endeavoring to raise the lifeless child and cause her to speak once more. The babe, with which little Bessie had been reclining, was touched by the burning powder.

Mackey, of South Carolina, says he owes his election to a blunder of the Democratic managers. They expected only a Republican majority of 5,000 or 6,000 to falsify and overcome, whereas the Republicans polled over 10,000 which made about 1,000 more or Mackey than there were of fraudulent tin snail ballots placed in the boxes. Now the Democrats propose to do as they have done in Calmer's District—throw out enough Republican votes to give the Democrat a majority.—Tolosa Blade.

Weather up the Columbia is getting very cold. Navigation on the Hudson river is practically closed by ice.

The excitement at Victoria is about quarts from Takoo river, supposed to be rich.

The total vote of Oregon at the late election was 49,795; Garfield's majority 663.

Peter Lamar, a young lawyer, was found guilty of robbing the United States mail and $90 from McCammon of Spokane Falls, and recommended to the mercy of the court.

The publishers of the Mercury in Portland have been indicted by the grand jury for libel, against one W. H. Cowie. Cowie had had his house burned up, and it appears that the paper published something reflecting upon him, which furnishes the basis for this prosecution.

A soap eating match was a diversion at Springfield, Ohio. The quickest devourer of a bar of yellow soap got a prize of $5. The winner performed the feat in less than an hour, but was much longer in the hands of a physician because the eye poisoned him.

An exchange says two and three quarter millions of salmon eggs have been taken at the fish hatchery at the Clackamas in splendid condition. The buildings are warmer than formerly, and the stoves are up so as to prevent a repetition of the loss of eggs by freezing should the weather turn cold. Over 100,000 young fish have already been turned into the Clackamas.

The New York Star says on the corner of Grove and Bleeker streets the Pullman Palace Car Company is erecting a large five story brick building to be used for laundry purposes in the service of their system. It is reported that 200 celestial washermen are to be imported from San Francisco by the company. With the exception of an overseer or two, no white labor will be employed on the premises.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided that where a bill of lading is attached to a draft as security for its payment, and is transferred for a valuable consideration; it is an appropriation of the property contained in the bill, whether it is indorsed or not. The fact that the draft was for more than the proceeds of the shipment does not alter the rule.

The Astorian says W. P. Watkind is engaged with his attorneys in Salem, preparing for a trial of the case in which the State is plaintiff and himself defendant. He seems to have little fear of a judgement; being rendered against him, but rumor says he has hedged against the collection or such judgment by his late failure in business. Should this case go in favor of Watkind, there will probably be no further proceedings against Chadwick and others, who have been charged with robbing the State.

William Fawcett, says the Statesman, an old man about sixty years of age, living on the island below Harrisburg, on the old Ingeam place, was instantly killed one day last week, while digging potatoes in the field near his house. The wind was blowing strong, and broke off the top of a balm tree near where he was at work. In trying to avoid the tree it appears he ran directly under it, and it struck him on the head, mashing in the skull and breaking his neck. He was a sober, industrious citizen, and leaves a wife and six small children to mourn his sad and untimely end.

Mail Robbed.

On last Saturday night, the 20th inst., says the Jacksonville "Sentinel," the stage coming north with Joe Mason as driver, was stopped by a robber on the road between Cottonwood and Coles. The robber demanded the express box and registered mail bag. There being an upgrade in the road where the stage was stopped the horses commenced backing, and the driver told the robber that as the team wouldn't stand at this point he would drive a short distance ahead to a flat, to which proposition the robber consented. Upon reaching the so-called flat the driver whipped up his horses and left the highwayman in the rear. But the robber had secured one of the mail bags which lay on top of the express box and contained all the registered packages for Jacksonville and other points. The packages were mostly of the bulk order, among them a $400 package of stamps for the Jacksonville office. The mail sack was found cut open and left on the road side; but the next day when it was found none of its contents seemed to be missing. The southern bound stage picked it up returning it to Yreka.

SHOOTING AT HALSEY.—We learn says the Albany Democrat from Mr. H. H. Hewett that one day last week a lad about fifteen years of age, named Chas. Thompson, became unruly at school at Halsey, and the teacher Mr. H. Gaston, gave him his choice of taking a whipping, being expelled from school, or doing as he was bade. He didn't seem to like these terms, and wouldn't come to an amicable agreement upon any of them. The teacher undertook then to forcibly expel him from the school, and the boy drew a delapidated old pistol out of his pocket, and in trying to get it into working order it went off, and the ball struck in the floor at Mr. Gaston's feet. The teacher took the pistol away from him and put him out of the house. He was afterwards arrested and tried before Justice Stewart on the charge of an assault with a dangerous weapon, and the Justice thought the evidence was sufficient to warrant him in binding the young blood over to await action of grand jury, which he did, placing the bonds at $300. Deputy District Attorney Hewett, of this city, prosecuted, and Jas. M. Thompson, of Eugene, defended. We understand bail was given immediately.

A Fiendish Attempt. Two Portland hoodlums, named Baker and Lord, got on the N. P. railroad train at Kalama, W. T., the other day, and on refusing to pay the usual fare, were put off. They walked down the track some distance, and proceeded to pile a number of ties directly across the road, with the evident purpose of wrecking the train. The barricade was discovered by the engineer in time to prevent a collision. The desperadoes were arrested, and will probably have long terms in the Territorial Penitentiary.

Fatal Affray at Boise City. A dispatch of the 27th says: Geo. Kennedy, a packer, was stabbed this morning by a San Francisco hoodlum named Jimmy Gates. Kennedy will die. The assault was unprovoked, Gates escaped, but was caught this afternoon about 4 o'clock at a Chinese house near Boise river bridge, half a mile north of town. A large crowd gathered around him immediately and threatened to hang him. It was hard work for the officers to escort him to jail. There is still apprehension that the mob will break the jail open and hang him.

The Popular Vote for President. There has been much conjecture and various conflicting statements as to the popular vote in the late Presidential election, but the Chicago Tribune furnishes the following state of majorities, taken from official returns from every State in the Union: Garfield, 4,439,415; Hancock, 4,436,614; Weaver, 505,729; Dow, 9,644; scattering, 17,993; total, 9,192,595. Garfield's plurality over W. S. Hancock, 3,401.

The Cunard Company have concluded contracts for the construction of three powerful screw steamships for the trans-Atlantic service, the largest of which is to be built of steel, and will be of 7,000 tons with 8,500 indicated horse power, and is to be called Aurinia. The other two vessel are each to be of more than 5,000 tons and 4,500 horse power, and are to be called Paronia and Cephalonia. The total steam tonnage now in course of construction for the Cunard Company amounts to 30,500 tons, with an indicated horse-power of 32,400.

It is considered certain the committee on the site for the World's Fair of 1883 have selected Centras Park. The Commission, which met January 10, will probably indorse the action of the committee. About $50,000 has been subscribed for up to date.

OMAHA, Nov. 13.—Last Tuesday night, in Holt county, Neb., a party of settlers, with a number of the "floating population," proceeded to the house of Galespic, a farmer, to wreak vengeance on him for suspected complicity in extensive cases of claim-jumping which outsiders had been carrying on. The party intended to either tar and feather Galespic or ride him on a rail. He made a deadly defense and fired through the panels of his door with a shot-gun. One charge struck a farm laborer named Keys, penetrating his stomach, and killing him instantly. Keys was 22 years of age, unmarried, and had been a resident of the frontier a long time. Galespic, who is said to have been a Sheriff at one time, has not been arrested and probably will not be. The people exonerate him and say nothing will be done with him.

BUFFALO, Nov. 11.—Yesterday afternoon two girls named Bryant were visiting at the residence of Edward Kelley. They engaged in a playful scuffle with James Kelley aged 18 years, the event of which was that Tinnis Bryant, aged 20, took from a box which happened to stand on the table a single-barreled pistol. She pointed it at James, and said in a sportive way, "Your money or your life!" He, also supposing it was not loaded said, "Fire away!" She pulled the trigger, and the result proved that it was loaded, the bullet taking effect in the unfortunate man's abdomen, inflicting a wound from which he died last night. The young lady, who is terribly overcome by the unhappy occurrence, was arrested, and is now held at police head quarters.

THE NEW YORK Times opens a subscription to a fund for a life pension "to" the oldest living ex-President of the United States. Its reasons for doing this is to prevent any ex-President ever coming to absolute want. There is $50,000 subscribed already, and the Times thinks it can find 25 wealthy gentlemen, who will make the fund reach $250,000 or $300,000. This is to be invested in good securities and its interest, to be used as the revenue of the oldest ex-President who has not accepted some other Federal office.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Man Torn to Fragments.

The Portland Bulletin gives the following account of a shocking accident that occurred in Weidler's mill in that city, on the 26th ult: A workman was repairing the belt which runs from the main line shaft to the lath machine, and John Olsen, Swede, was assisting. He had mounted a pile of slabs which enabled him to support the belt and keep it off the shaft while the men were riveting the break. Just how it all happened no one will ever know, but the employees were suddenly conscious of a catastrophe which is sufficient to fill any mind with horror, and paralyze it for the time being with a sickening sense of its awfulness. The young man seen whirling with frightful rapidity in the embrace of the shaft by which he had been caught, and in the next, the frightened, powerless men saw his body literally severed in twain at the abdomen. The trunk of the body was hurled forward through the door into an adjoining room the legs dropped to the floor beneath, and one arm, which had been wrench-off, remained fastened to the shaft where the belt rested upon it. For a minute or so after, the accident the nerves of the face continued to twitch and distort the features as though the death agonies were only then being suffered, instead of life being extinct. The fragments of the body were gathered up by the workmen and removed to the dwelling occupied by his two brothers and himself, all of whom are employed at the mill, and were engaged at work during the time of the occurrence, though the brothers were spared the awful sight by performing duties in another part of the establishment.
