MARSHFIELD, OREGON:
Thursday, : : : : : March 26, 1885

Notice.

Parties knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned, at either Coos Bay or Empire City Drug Store, are respectfully requested to settle their accounts at the respective stores up to January 1, 1885. [Ja8] HENRY SENGSTACKEN.

Purser A. J. Durell of the steamer Coos Bay has our thanks for files of San Francisco papers up to Saturday last.

Save money, time, trouble and risk by subscribing at New Variety store. We can furnish any periodical in the world.

The members of the Marshfield brass band are making arrangements to give a concert at this place for the benefit of the band.

Mrs. T. J. Lynch left the bay last Monday to visit her mother at Dufur, Wasco county, where her father died a few weeks ago.

Mrs. E. O'Connell wants a girl to do general house-work. Liberal wages will be paid and a competent girl is wanted. None other need apply.

Amos Haring has resigned his position as second mate on the steamer Coos Bay and returned to his ranch near Florence, on the Siuslaw.

Joe Fox is again engineer of the Myrtle; Sherman Gamble is engineer of the Mink, and Levi Snyder is captain of the Coquille steamer Little Annie.

For the best assortment of chinaware, plain and fancy, go to Garfield's hardware store. If he cannot suit you in that line you cannot be suited in this market.

S. D. Butler is going to San Francisco by the first steamer, on a visit to his brother, Capt. C. H. Butler of the steamer Empire, in the trade between Seattle and San Francisco.

There will be a special meeting of Myrtle lodge, No. 3, K. of P., next Monday night, for the transaction of important business, and all brethren in good standing are requested to be in attendance.

F. A. Golden thinks the encouragement sufficient to justify him in starting a private school in the academy building in two weeks after the close of the present term of public school. Miss Lillian Glass will be first assistant.

Laboring men in pursuit of employment had better give Coos bay the go-by for the present, for there are more men here now than there is profitable employment for, and the prospect of an improvement this year is not at all good.

Charley Peters has been negotiating for the steamer Bertha. A price ($1500) has been agreed upon and Peters has made a small payment to bind the bargain until the 1st of next month, at which time he is to take the boat if he takes it at all.

S. A. Arrington's health will not justify him in resuming his place as book-keeper for E. B. Dean & Co. and he will soon visit his relatives in Douglas county and test the virtues of that climate in his case. Fred Bischoff is now Dean & Co's book-keeper.

Col. John Lane is the favorite of the Coos Bay News for the Empire custom house. It would be more appropriate for the colonel to seek a custom house within the confines of the confederacy for which he fought so valiantly but did not die worth a fig.

Herbert H. Rogers has bought C. W. Dickman's ranch on Daniels creek. The place contains 320 acres and the price paid was $5000. Dickman and family expect to leave us in May, for Wasco county, which locality he lately visited and was well pleased with.

Miss Carrie Stauff of this place was thrown from a horse on the beach at Empire last Tuesday evening by the breaking of the stirrup of her saddle while she and Miss Aggie Lockhart were out riding. Dr. Tower was sent for and visited Miss Stauff at her uncle's at Empire soon after the accident. She was insensible for a time, but the doctor reports her as all right now.

Huden has at the New Variety store a large assortment of musical albums that are very nice and remarkably cheap. Many of the albums are handsomely illustrated and they contain from 100 to 200 pieces of the latest music and sell at from 50 to 75 cents each. There are also several nice pianos and organs for sale at the New Variety store, and if those there are not what you want Huden can soon fill your order for anything in that line.

The Arcata brought up a new steel boiler for the steamer Myrtle. It will be taken to Uter City and there placed in the boat by J. F. Dunham, who expects to begin the work next Saturday and complete it by Monday or Tuesday. While the Myrtle is laid up the Lulu will take her place between Marshfield and Uter City. After her new boiler has been put in the Myrtle intends to run around and run away from every other boat on the bay, and sweep cleaner with the broom that she now carries.

E. P. Buckley, late steward of the steamer Coos Bay, has taken charge of the Palace restaurant in this place, formerly kept by Mrs. Sprague. He is an experienced caterer and promises to give our town the best restaurant it has ever had. Fresh eastern oysters can be had at the Palace at all times, and in a week or two Buckley will have ice cream. The old stairway leading to Norman's hall has been removed to the rear and there is now a good entrance to the Palace restaurant through the space between the two buildings formerly occupied by the stairway.

Simpson Bros. have sold their milling interests at Gardiner and the property is now in the possession of an incorporated company, some of the stockholders of which are residents of Los Angeles county, Cal. The property is still under the management of John Knowland at San Francisco and W. F. Jewett at Gardiner.

Last Saturday the new Baptist church at Gardiner was dedicated.

An Accident at the Mill.

Mandus Larsen, an employe at Dean & Co's mill in this place, met with an accident there last Saturday by which the small bone of his right leg was broken between the knee and ankle. He was attending the truck that supplies the pony saw, run by T. F. Hall. A large load had been placed upon the truck by Hall and Larsen, when the latter threw behind him a handspike that he had been using and the former started the truck. The handspike rolled to the car track, and was caught and carried by the car until it struck Larsen on the feet and tripped him up. He fell against the car in such a way that he was dragged along the track until his right leg, from the knee down, became wedged between the car and one of the skids alongside the track. Hall, who was managing the car, heard Larsen's cries at this stage of the accident, when the car was stopped and backed and the unfortunate man released from a position in which in a few more seconds he would have had his leg torn off. The space into which the leg was forced between the skid and the car was two and a half inches at the bottom and about four inches at the top, and there was an oil feeder with which the limb came in contact and by which the flesh was severely cut and torn on one side from the knee down, while the other side was badly mashed. Dr. Tower was immediately called and rendered Larsen such relief as medical skill could give. The patient will be laid off from work for a month or so, but he is fortunate to escape with that after getting into such a tight place.

Passengers by Steamer.

Arrivals by steamer Arcata last Thursday: G B Knowles, J K Fleming, S R Davis, A Taylor, L Lamb, W H Ellery, C H Merchant, F Akman and M Simpson.

Departures by steamer Arcata last Saturday: Geo Coon, J D Klopstock, E Saunders, W E Stevens, Mrs F Mark, Capt J Parker, F M Phipps, J C Gale and Peter Sunderland.

Arrivals by steamer Coos Bay Tuesday: J L Nay, Miss Sarah Schmidt, Anderson Jacobson, Wm Hongell, S C Rogers, John Clark, Jas Brown and seven Portuguese in the steerage.

Silver Metal Ware.

J. D. Garfield received by steamer Coos Bay last Tuesday an invoice of silver metal ware, for which he has the agency. This ware is something new, and only second to solid silver, which it approaches more nearly than any other alloy, yet it is very much cheaper than silver. Silver metal ware requires the same care as solid silver, and when thus treated it will wear down to a shade or two of silver and will last a lifetime. Garfield invites that portion of the public who use such articles to call at his hardware store and inspect this new table ware.

The outlook for loggers in this locality is anything but encouraging at this time. The only camp that Dean & Co. expect to run regularly this summer is that one on the Isthmus, in charge of J. F. Dunham. Since C. H. Merchant returned from San Francisco all the men preparing to log for Dean & Co., excepting Dunham, have been informed that their services will not be needed until further notice. R. E. Scranton's camp on Catching slough is the only one that will run for the North Bend mill this season. This suspension of logging is the result of the demoralized lumber market at San Francisco, where a great deal of lumber is now being sold at less than its actual cost. The old combination to sustain prices has been dissolved and the heaviest dealers decline to enter into another, for the reason that they believe too much treachery characterized the old combination.

The large supply of logs that Dean & Co. have at this place and that Simpson Bros. have at North Bend will be used up before any marked improvement will take place in the logging business hereabouts.

It is surprising how long some 4rands hold out and succeed in humbugging, hoodwinking and living off the people through cheek and chicanery. The gauze of some frauds is so thin that it seems to us an obtuse blind man ought to soon see through it with a stick. After it becomes too late, many people wonder how they could have been so stupid as to be so confiding where there was not a redeeming trait to warrant it. She thought he must be a very good man or a very bad one. He is—the latter. Too much impudence will always bear watching, and one who is always wagging his jaw in an effort to drag down somebody else cannot possibly be a good man.

After the steamer Arcata landed her passengers and freight at this place last Thursday she returned to North Bend and had 50 or 60 feet of her middle deck taken out amidships, in order that she may load coal with greater facility, the removal of that portion of the deck mentioned obviating the trouble and delay heretofore incident to trimming the vessel as she was loading at the bunker. The Arcata came up from North Bend Friday afternoon, went to the bunker, loaded in three or four hours, returned to Empire that evening, and sailed for San Francisco at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Sengstacken and Smith's hall in their new building has been supplied with 100 chairs. The Marshfield brass band have the hall leased for practicing purposes and Dr. Tower, on the other side of the hallway, is happy. He thinks seriously of joining the band to get away from the music.

Mrs. W. A. Borer of Myrtle Point is on the bay, visiting relatives and friends.

Sunday-Closing Agreement.

We, the undersigned, merchants, traders and shop-keepers, doing business in the town of Marshfield, Coos county, Oregon, hereby enter into the following agreement, to wit: That we will not keep open our respective places of business for the purpose of labor or traffic on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday or the Lord's day; and we jointly and severally pledge ourselves to prosecute any person or persons guilty of violating the general law of the state in regard thereto. This agreement shall take effect from and after this date.

The process of metamorphosis through which the Marshfield drug store has been going since its purchase by F. A. Golden is drawing to a close. The store to-day would scarcely be recognized by its friends of six months ago. The gilding, painting and scroll work, of themselves, were a decided improvement, but by far the greatest change of all is the new ceiling just completed. This is an artistic piece of work in paper, after the style of fresco in the most elaborate city buildings. The central field represents the blue sky, flaked with clouds and dotted with stars. Around this are five strips of stiling and filling, in very pretty gilt designs, with corner pieces to match. Under all is a heavy arched cornice, representing birds and butterflies in flight, and this has its upper and lower faces covered with velvet paper mixed with gold. Around the gas-lights are appropriate center pieces, finishing as handsome a ceiling as has ever been put on any house in Coos county. The plan was designed by Golden himself and the work executed by Charley Mack in a manner that does credit to the design. Golden, though but recently in our midst, has shown a decided spirit of improvement and has set an example that should not only be followed by our other merchants, but should insure him the liberal patronage of our community.

Last Monday afternoon Henry Huden met with a peculiar little accident. During a visit of S. C. Durgin and W. B. Curtis to the soda works Curtis and Huden indulged in a little skylarking for Sam's entertainment, when a pen-holder that Huden held between his teeth was struck by his arm and thrust into his mouth with sufficient violence to hurt considerably and explode at once the superfluity of fun with which he was seized when he tackled Curtis. That stopped the foolishness and Huden, holding his hand on his jaw, went after a doctor for himself. The wound proved trifling, but the doctor said the pen-holder came very near cutting an artery in Huden's mouth that would have soon caused him to bleed to death. He ate a light supper that evening and talked less than usual that night, but Tuesday morning his elocution was improved and he went over to the Coquille, since which time we have not heard from him, but it is perfectly safe to say that the Coquillers have and that they know he can still talk to the point.

The News says orders have been received to fill in between the piles at the breakwater work at Rocky Point. That would be a stupendous undertaking. Many of the piles that were would be hard to find. They have gone where the woodbine twined, and the vacuum created by their departure must be a paralyzing sight to the master mind that planted them. Our breakwater is represented as presenting a sick spectacle at this time. Some of the old cribs at the shore end have been battered down and carried away; the car track looks as if the ship Great Eastern had made two or three trips through it sideways, carrying piles and everything else before her, and the general appearance of Rocky Point is that of a place lately visited by an Arkansas tornado and a Kansas cyclone in quick succession.

The steamer Coos Bay arrived at this place last Tuesday evening. Yesterday she went to the Caledonia mine and coaled and then returned to Empire, with the intention of at once crossing the bar and arriving at Yaquina bay today, where she will be beached to have her barnacles scraped off. This steamer has quit the Portland trade and the captain expects to be back here by next Saturday or Sunday.

Last week Dr. Tower removed from the right shoulder of Mrs. I. Richardson of Empire a large fatty tumor that had been growing there for several years. The operation was very successful and Mrs. Richardson's many friends at home and abroad will be glad to hear that she is already almost recovered from the effects of it.

Sengstacken and Smith's hall in their new building has been supplied with 100 chairs. The Marshfield brass band have the hall leased for practicing purposes and Dr. Tower, on the other side of the hallway, is happy. He thinks seriously of joining the band to get away from the music.

Mrs. W. A. Borer of Myrtle Point is on the bay, visiting relatives and friends.

GEN. GRANT'S CONDITION.

What the Medical Journals Have to Say in Regard to His Case.

New York, March 19.—Grant passed a good night, sleeping with but little interruption. He arose early this morning and took a breakfast of coffee, beef and a little hominy, the first solid food he has eaten in a day or two. He felt better and more refreshed, and doctors report his condition this morning as more favorable.

After his visit to Gen. Grant to-night, Dr. Douglas said: "The general slept seven hours continuously last night. He was very well through the day. He asked for roast mutton and ate it. During the afternoon and evening the general revised enough of his book to keep the printers busy three days. When I left Gen. Grant to-night he was inclined to sleep. The patient's throat looks better this evening. It has not the angry appearance it has had. There was a catarrhal difficulty in the morning that caused gagging, but no bad results. Cocaine is not now being used and there is no pain. It is mental occupation that renders the general wakeful."

The following will appear in the Medical Record of March 21: During the past week the local disease of Gen. Grant has shown no marked tendency toward progressive ulceration. At the recent weekly consultation Dr. Fordyce Barker was unavoidably absent. Drs. J. H. Douglas, Henry B. Sands and George F. Shady, who were present, made a thorough examination of the general's throat, with a view of discussing the expediency of a radical surgical operation for removal of the growth. Such measure would involve a division of the lower jaw, on the median line, extirpation of the entire tongue and the greater part of the soft palate, together with removal of the ulcerated and infiltrated fauces and the indurated glandular structures under the right angle of the lower jaw. This was considered mechanically possible, despite the close proximity and probable involvement of the tissues adjoining the large arteries and veins in the neighborhood of the ulcerations, but in the best interests of the distinguished patient, the surgeons did not seem inclined to recommend procedure, even by such means. There could be no guaranty, in view of the extensive surrounding infiltration, that the limits of the disease could be reached without immediate risk to life by a severe shock to a constitution already much enfeebled. No vital power is such a strong element in the decision that, for the present at least, no kind of operation will be undertaken. The ulceration on the side of the tongue has not progressed far enough to produce the usual intolerable pain associated with that condition, but should the latter symptoms appear it may be deemed advisable to divide the gesticulatory nerve. The general tone of the patient's system remains about the same as at the last report, notwithstanding he has suffered much from insomnia. The latter within the last day or two has been kept under control by a suitable anodyne. There is no pain in swallowing and sufficient food is taken with reasonable relish.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—The Philadelphia Medical News this week will say, editorially, concerning the disease from which Gen. Grant is suffering: "Lingual epithelioma, as a rule, rapidly progresses towards a fatal termination when left to itself. The life of the patient, from the first appearance of the disease, varies in accordance with the estimates of different observers from 10 1/2 to 13 months, the average being 11 1/2 months. The duration of life of those who survive an operation averages 19 months. Not only does operative interference prolong life and relieve suffering, but it effects a final cure in 14 per cent. of all cases. In attaining these results it must, however, be remembered that incision of the tongue is attended with mortality in 23 per cent. of the cases, and when, in addition to disease of the tongue, the palate and tonsils are involved, prognosis is far more grave, whether the disease be permitted to pursue its course or whether it be subjected to the knife. In the latter event not only will the tongue have to be extirpated, but the disease of the palate and tonsil will have to be reached. So far as we can learn there is no example of the performance of a double operation on record, and it is, in our opinion, not justifiable."

The News is opposed to Wm. Hall having the custom house at Empire or anything else under the new administration, because he did not support Siglin at the last election. In the estimation of the News, elected by Siglin, Siglin is the democratic party here and hereabouts. If Siglin succeeds in running this part of Cleveland, Cleveland will have our sympathy. If Siglin be a straight-tongued democrat, what is a crooked one? How did he get back from Washington? How did he vote at the following session of the legislature? And why was he tendered by the last republican administration an appointment of some kind to some of the Pacific islands? Will the News tell?

One day last week over 200 letters were mailed between Ashland and Portland, in the United States postal car, directed to the postmaster general at Washington, D. C., and marked either "personal" or "private," the parties evidently being ashamed to put them in the postoffice of their respective towns. Over one dozen were mailed at the depot in Roseburg. We pity the postmaster general.—[Plainsdealer.]

A battle between the British and Osman Digma's Arabians has resulted in heavy losses by the Arabs and the capture of Digma's position by the British.

The democratic party has been dangerously ill for nearly 25 years; now it is dangerously well again.

Important to Pre-Emptors.

As recently published, this office was instructed by the commissioner of the general land office to reject all pre-emption proof made before notaries public. The secretary of the interior has since revoked said instructions and ordered that the testimony of witnesses in pre-emption cases may be taken before a notary public and that the final affidavit of claimant must be made before the register or receiver or before the county clerk of the county in which the pre-emption is situated. Applicants for final proof should, in case they desire the testimony to be taken before a notary public, state the name of the notary public and the time and place of taking testimony. W. F. BENJAMIN, Register, Roseburg, Oregon, March 18, 1885.

Hon. Thomas Smith dug up a cabbage stump last week, and found attached to the roots in the ground a perfectly-shaped cabbage head about six inches in diameter. This is the first monstrosity of the kind we have ever heard of.—[Plainsdealer.]

Miss Ella Ragon has closed her school at Laird's and returned to her home at Roseburg.

F. P. Norton has added a new soda fountain to the New Variety store, with all the latest fancy drinks of the season.

Ranch for Sale.

I will sell either one of my ranches— one containing 300 acres and the other 900 acres. The best stock range in the county. For particulars, call at my ranch, six miles above Myrtle Point, Coos county, Or. S. M. DEMENT.

Short-Horn Calves for Sale!

I expect to have a large crop of spring calves. All persons wishing bull calves will have to send in their orders before the 10th of May, 1885, as I steer all male calves that are not ordered up to that time. Postoffice address: Myrtle Point, Coos county, Or. S. M. DEMENT.

Special Notice.

All notes and accounts in favor of H. P. WHITNEY are left in my hands, and all persons interested are requested to call and settle the same. In case this notice fails to accomplish its object, I am directed to place the notes, as they become due, in the hands of an attorney for collection. EUGENE O'CONNELL, Marshfield, December 18, 1884.

To the Ladies.

They will find at Mrs. F. Mark's the Ross Novelty Rug Machine. Very simple and easy. Any child can use it; but any one not fully understanding the art can receive instructions, free of charge, from Mrs. Capt. Chester, who will be found at Mrs. Mark's. Clamps and frames, and Turkish rugs of all patterns and styles. Also all shades of yarn, for $1 10 per pound. ja22

Teachers' Examination.

There will be a public examination of those desiring teachers' certificates at Coquille City on Friday, March 27, and at Marshfield on Saturday, March 28, 1885. While the law requires but one examination to be held during each quarter, it has been decided, on account of the great expense to which teachers are necessarily subjected in making the trip from the Coquille to Coos bay and vice versa, to hold one at each of the above places. J. T. McCOMBAC, County School Superintendent, Marshfield, March 7, 1885.
