W. O. Christensen and Charles Johnson are the builders and owners of that new saw now under construction on Christensen's vacant lot on Front street in front of his shop. The saw is 41 feet long, 11 1/2 feet beam, 3 1/2 feet deep, decked over, and is being built to hire.

Rev. Richardson of Empire made another failure to keep his appointment at Unity chapel, Catching slough, last Sunday, for the reason that he got lost, as before. He don't say so, but he looks as if he thought nobody but a mugwump would say there is a road from Bay City to Ross' place; but then the reverend gentleman hasn't lived here very long, and may be he don't know what is called a road in this region.

"There is fine material in the Arago," remarked our smoking friend, while he was puffing the fragrant fumes of his Havana. "Yes," replied the other, "she is the finest steamer on this bay."

"What are you talking about, sir?" "The steamer Arago, of course."

"Well, I am speaking about the Arago, too, but not the steamer, but the cigar Arago, kept at Blanco Drug Store, and sold 3 for 25 cents. They are as much superior to every other cigar sold at that price as the steamer Arago is to every other vessel on this bay."

For two or three years, long before any one else thought of such a thing, Golden has been making a valuable Asthma Cure. It has reached such large sales that a rival druggist, wishing to reap some of the advantages, a few weeks since borrowed the original prescription forming the basis of Golden's preparation. This evinces the popularity of this medicine has gained through Golden's efforts. As now prepared by Golden, it contains all the original ingredients, and others that no one else can imitate. The following is from Golden's last order: "Mr. F. A. Golden, Drugist—Dear Sir: I have been using your Asthma Cure for the last month, and it has proved a good remedy. My medicine is now out. Please send six bottles and charge to me."

Golden would be glad to have other druggists borrow "the original formula," as it will only advertise the medicine, and he has implicit confidence in the discrimination of the public, who will soon find out that only at Golden's can they get the genuine "original" improved article. Reductions on large orders.

Thos. Hirst has been putting in his leisure hours, morning, noon and night, this season, in demonstrating the feasibility of making a nice garden spot by digging down a hill and filling up a mud-flat. Tom did the digging by proxy, and we suspect he does most of his gardening that way too; but no matter, he has a nice garden, and Mrs. Hirst does not claim the credit of making it, though there is no doubt in our mind that she is entitled to the most of it; but Tom's the boy who takes the pride in showing a nice strawberry patch in the southwest corner of the lot, from plants put out this year, which are now well stocked with berries; also thrifty cabbages, an embryo celery bed, rows of telephone peavines, loaded with big pods containing from nine to ten peas each, sundry remarkably robust tomato vines, lettuce, radishes and onions by the wholesale, mushrooms in abundance, and roses, dahlias, daisies, peonies and many other things pretty to look at but too numerous to mention—all growing on ground where last year was an unsightly hill and a dirty mud-flat. Hirst is just beginning to find out that he does know a little something about agriculture, and he intends to next year improve upon what he has done and learned this year.

A. M. Crawford, Esq., is going to Roseburg to-day, on land-office business.

The steamer Arcata is tied up at San Francisco, awaiting an improvement in the coal trade.

Mrs. Chas. Thornquist of East Oakland, Cal., arrived by the Arago, on a visit to friends on the bay.

Hurray for the Fourth of July! Closing out goods at cost! Must be sold July Fourth! Entire stock at Norton & Levar's, Empire City.

The Coaledo base-ball club has challenged the Newport club to play at Empire on the Fourth, and the challenge has been accepted, and each club is now practicing, with the expectation of winning.

Buckley, of the Palace restaurant, is serving ice-cream nowadays at all hours—morning, noon and night—any way and at any time, to keep the community cool and good-natured.

Empire will have a benefit from this place and vicinity on the Fourth, and no mistake. Every available vehicle has been chartered for the occasion and those persons who cannot procure passage on the boats will go down a-foot.

In one day, recently, Mrs. Joe Fox and her two little boys picked enough blackberries at the Isthmus to fill 49 quart jars after the berries had been prepared for putting up in that way, and Joe says it wasn't a good day for blackberries, either.

Huden & Young's cream soda and Buffalo mead go to the right spot these warm days, and the demand for these drinks is immense, but their machine is equal to the emergency, and to keep cool it is only necessary for you to send in your orders.

The new postal law took effect yesterday. Letters weighing an ounce are now carried for two cents, whereas that has heretofore been the charge on half an ounce. Newspaper postage is also reduced one-half on papers sent from the office of publication.

At the semi-annual meeting of the order of United Friends at this place last Saturday night the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Mrs. Ida C. Stora, chief counselor; Miss Sarah Merchant, vice counselor; C. N. Edmunds, treasurer; Mrs. Olivia Edmunds, financier; Mrs. Sarah Keating, prelate; Mrs. F. M. Bates, marshal; D. B. Keating, guard; Herman Johnson, sentry; Aaron Cory, past chief counselor; Dr. C. W. Tower, medical examiner; F. M. Garrison, secretary. The installation of the foregoing officers will take place Saturday night, the 13th inst.

The throttle-valve of the large engine at Dean & Co's mill No. 2 burst last Monday, which accident frustrated the intention to run the machinery this week, that everything might be got in good order to start the mill to cutting lumber next week. Another throttle-valve was at hand and the damage has been repaired, but the starting of the mill has been delayed for at least another week. The chains and cables for this mill, for which there has been some waiting, arrived by the Arago, and now there is no doubt that it will soon start, and when it does the mill at this place will stop, temporarily.

The first wagon load of poultry from the Coquille was brought to this place last Monday by J. D. B. Lee and disposed of at $4.50 per dozen. Lee lives three or four miles above Myrtle Point, and he left his ranch Monday morning and reached this place about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, without having raised the sweat on his team or worried his poultry, which he experienced no difficulty in at once converting into cash, a commodity handy to have in his business. When we first inquired of Lee the price of his poultry and he said $4.50 per dozen, it seemed to us to be remarkably cheap; but then, when our mind wandered back to the good old democratic days of 40 and 50 years ago, for the return of which Brother Upton and some other ranchers we might mention are yearning, when the chickens' legs were tied together and they were strung across the horse's back and carried to town and sold at 75 cents per dozen, and eggs at 2 cents, we concluded that Farmer Lee did not do so badly, after all; indeed, that he did tolerably well, considering that all the supplies he wanted to purchase and take home with him are much cheaper now than they were then; unless it be whisky, and Lee did not have the appearance of being a man who would load up with that. At the time we refer to, when eggs were 2 cents and chickens 75 cents per dozen, whisky was cheap and democrats practically had a monopoly of the traffic. You could count the crowd at the "dog-gery" and confidently stake your boot-tom dollar that every one there voted the democratic ticket. That was when they shouted for free trade and sailors' rights, and when one became weary and thirsty—then they hadn't got hungry—he would propose a "splice" and the purchase of another quart, when 10 cents would be dug up among the wealthy ones of the congregation and invested in red-eye, which they would take behind the shanty and pass from hand to hand and from mouth to mouth while it lasted, and the splicing process usually went on as long as the funds held out and the bibulous chaps could stand up. When the collapse came, it was general. But think of it! If whisky was only as cheap now as then, how many a fellow could get on a dozen eggs! The rise the republicans have caused in whisky is what makes some democrats mad.

County court will meet next week.

Z. T. Siglin has returned to the bay.

Preparations are being made to have some good races at Empire next Saturday.

The steamer Arago brought up about a ton of ice for use at Empire of the Fourth.

According to the Herald, the Coquille base-ball club beat the Coaledo club last Sunday, the score being 68 to 21.

The Herald says Robt. Frederick had the flesh of one of his arms badly lacerated by the planer at the Parkersburg mill last Monday.

Hall's prairie seems to be too small for the Coquillers, and now two celebrations are announced—one at Hall's prairie and another at Coquille City.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the O. R. I. company, held at Empire last Thursday, elected the old board of directors, except G. B. Knowles, whose place is filled by Jas. Webster.

Suderlund & Keino have been making marked improvements at the Pioneer saloon, inside and out, and that old and favorite resort now presents a more pleasing appearance than it ever presented before.

C. H. Merchant made a trade with Geo. Davis for the Pendergrass house at Centerville, and Davis lately moved the house to Aaronville, where it looms up to advantage. In course of time Dean & Co. will erect a number of houses at Aaronville for the accommodation of the men that will be employed at their mill.

John Nasburg has been adding to the Bon Ton saloon a pair of neat swinging doors, inside the front door and main entrance. In each of the new doors is a large pane of cut glass containing John's monogram. If some reckless and enthusiastic customer should suddenly poke his paw through one of those panes some day, the house would not be big enough to hold him any great length of time should John be there or thereabouts at the moment.

R. M. Hutcheson, our esteemed fellow townsman, last week received the sad news of the death of his brother James, at Barkserville, Cariboo, B. C., on the 4th ult., in the mines at that place he had been for some 23 years. Deceased was well known to many residents of the bay, he having visited his brother here two or three times, the last time about five years ago. Mr. Hutcheson was aged about 41 years, and his death was the result of dropsy.

A few days ago Eugene O'Connell received a letter from H. P. Whitney, written at Spartansburg, Pa., on the 19th ult. At that time Whitney, with a niece and nephew, expected to leave on the 23d, for San Diego, Cal., where he no doubt is by this time and where his nephew expects to embark in the lively business with A. F. Whitney. Times are dull in Pennsylvania, at the locality where Whitney has been. Steel rails are selling at $28 and nails at $45 per ton, and butter at 12 1/2 cents per pound.

John Hongell, a young man employed at Hilstrom & Hongell's logging camp on the east fork of the north fork of Coos river, came near being killed last Friday. He was at work on a hillside, swamping, when a log, 3 feet through and 18 feet long, to which he had his back, suddenly rolled down the hill and upon him, doubling him up and crushing him to the earth in such a manner that he was unable to call for help; but some other men at work further up the hill heard the log when it rolled, looked, failed to see Hongell, went in search of him, and found him under the log, where he remained for three or four minutes, until jackscrews had been brought and the log in that way raised and he pulled out, in an almost lifeless condition and supposed to be fatally injured; but he soon recovered consciousness, when he was brought to this place and treated by Dr. Tower, who found two of Hongell's right ribs to be broken and his body badly bruised, but he will soon recover. Hongell's escape from death is due to a depression in the ground at the place where he happened to be, which prevented the full weight of the log coming upon his body.

Chicken Supper for Fifty Cents.

Next Saturday night, July Fourth, a first-class Chicken Supper, with clam soup, will be served at the Marshfield Lunch Rooms, at the moderate price of 50 cents per plate, for the accommodation of those who attend the ball and the public generally. The bill of fare will include, regardless of cost, everything desirable that can be procured in the market, and attentive waiters will be in attendance at the tables.

Mrs. R. P. SMITH.

Passengers by Steamer.

Departures by the Coos Bay, June 26: D H Getchell, R Painter, wife and three children; Mrs John Norman, Miss Ethel Sherwood and John Thomas.

Arrivals by the Arago, June 29: C J Leeds, W C Walls, wife and daughter; Mrs Chas Thornquist, Mrs Weidner, and two in the steerage.

Mrs. Nicholls was the only passenger booked to depart by the Arago when we went to press yesterday.

Being More Pleasant.

To the taste, more acceptable to the stomach, and more truly beneficial in its action, the famous California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs is rapidly superseding all others. Try it. Sample bottles free and large bottles for sale by Henry Sengstacken, Marshfield and Empire City.

Dwelling Rooms and Offices to Let.

Dwelling apartments and office rooms are offered for rent very cheap in O'Connell's building, Front street, Marshfield. For particulars inquire at the hardware store. July 2nd

Large Order Received.

Arrived at Blanco Drug Store, a variety of single and double circuit Electro-Magnetic Belts. By special arrangements with the manufacturer, we are enabled to give these belts at prices before unknown, in order to have them thoroughly introduced. They are invaluable in all cases of nervous, liver and kidney diseases, paralysis, back-ache, general debility, etc.

Facilities for Getting to Empire on the Fourth.

Next Saturday, the Fourth, Smith Bros. intend running two vehicles from Newport to Empire, via this place, carrying passengers at $1 for the round trip. If you want to patronize that line, see Smith, the milkman.

The steamer Comet will leave her wharf at this place on the morning of the Fourth and go to the Newport coal company's new bunker, which place she will start from at 7:30, coming back here and starting from here for Empire at 8:30 o'clock. The Comet will return from Empire in the evening after the conclusion of the day's doings, and then go back to Empire and remain there until after the ball.

The steamer Myrtle will go from this place to Uter City early Saturday morning, in order to leave Uter City for Empire at 7 o'clock, touching here, as usual, on her way down. She, too, will remain at Empire during the day and start on her return from there to this place about 6 o'clock in the evening.

The steamer Coos will also run on the Fourth.

Concerning the Marshfield Race Track.

An adjourned meeting of citizens who feel interested in getting up a race track at this place was held at the recorder's office last Saturday night, J. D. Garfield presiding.

J. W. Bennett, secretary, reported that he had, according to instructions, called for bids for preparing the ground for a course at the westerly side of Dean & Co's marsh, south of town, and that six bids had been received, which were opened and found to be as follows:

J. Nelson.....$50
John McLeod.....399
John C. Manning.....475
Hop Kee.....359
Alex Suderlund.....879
Alf Butler.....400

On motion, the committee to solicit subscriptions to raise funds to pay for clearing the ground was given until 7 o'clock p. m. Monday next, July 6, to report, and the acceptance of any or the rejection of all of the bids was postponed until that time.

It will be observed that there is quite a discrepancy between the bids for doing the work and that the Chinaman is the lowest by $49. There is where the trouble seems to come in, and the supposition is that there are too many white men idle hereabouts at this time to let a Chinaman get away with that job. He is bound, for McLeod can do the work more than $49 worth better than a Chinaman.

Another New and Nice Residence Completed.

Victor Lackstrom has just completed Jacob Lando's new dwelling house at the corner of A and Fifth streets, west of the Academy building and Dr. McCormac's new residence.

In the selection of a site and the construction of his house Lando has displayed and carried out good taste and judgment. His house is not as big as some, but it is big enough and as cosy and convenient as can be.

The lot, 60x100 feet, is inclosed by a neat picket fence. The rear of the house runs to the center of the lot, which leaves a back-yard 50x60 feet and over 20 feet in front, along Fifth street, and about 20 feet along the side, on A street.

The building covers 22x28 feet, fronts the bay, and has bay-windows, 3 1/2 x 10 feet, upstairs and down, which give to the structure an imposing front and at the same time afford a fine view of the town, the bay and all the surroundings—east, north and south.

The first floor has an 11-foot ceiling and is occupied by a parlor 14x14, a kitchen 10x14, a hallway 7 x 4, and a stairway, beneath which is the pantry. The parlor and dining-room are handsomely finished with gilded paper and decorative ceilings, and dado paper decorates the hall and stairway, the ceiling over which is also very neat. The doors are grained in imitation of walnut, except in the kitchen, where the graining represents ash. The parlor will be heated by a grate, for wood or coal, which grate is ornamented by a marble mantle-piece. Other rooms will be heated by stoves, the pipes of which will connect with a flue in the center of the house.

The second floor contains a hallway 4 x 12, a suite of rooms to the east, and a closet, bed-room and bath-room to the west, each of the two last-named rooms being 10 x 11 feet.

All the rooms in the house except the kitchen are on the south and sunny side; a heap roof shelters the structure and a veranda ornaments it in front, while a porch adds to the comfort and convenience of the rear.

Pete Rhoda did the painting and paper-hanging and the graining is the handiwork of Geo. B. Hilborn, a young man lately from the east.

To the north, convenient to the main building and under one roof, are the wood-house, wash-house, store-house, chicken-house and water-closet.

The premises are supplied with water from a spring on the hill above, and pipes carry the water to the kitchen, the bath-room and the wash-house, and in the yard, along the north side of the house, is a large pipe to which a hose can be attached for sprinkling purposes or for subduing flames in case of fire.

A drainage from the kitchen at the northwest corner of the house carries all the waste water from the building to a ravine to the northeast.

Lando expects to move into his new house within a week or two.

Religious Services.

Rev. W. Lund will hold Episcopal services at the Baptist church in this place next Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Rev. I. Richardson will hold services at the Methodist church in Empire next Sunday, morning and evening, at the usual hours.

Unclaimed Letters.

Following is a list of the unclaimed letters remaining in the postoffice at Marshfield, Coos county, Or., July 1, 1885: Basyo Theodore S, Ellexer Edwd, Erickson Emil, Myers Jas, Nelson J D, Rolandson Jan E, Rapp Louis, Soper Robt, Smith E Y, Upton J M, and Yoe C H. THOS. HIRST, Postmaster.

Edgar E. Allen of Drain has been sent to the insane asylum. He imagines himself to be a great astronomer, and under this hallucination, prior to being sent to Salem, he would get up from his bed in the middle of the night to study the stars.

The Roseburg papers complain of being crowded with advertisements. Papers so afflicted should discard their patent outsiders. Nothing of that kind has troubled us in a four-years experience at this place.

The Plainerder says P. B. Beckley recently took to Roseburg from this county 150 head of the finest beef cattle ever seen in one band. Coos is the county that can send out cattle of that kind.

The force of miners now employed at Newport find no difficulty in keeping the bankers full, and then have too much time for recreation.

Teacher's Examination.

There will be a public examination of those desiring teachers' certificates at Marshfield and Coquille City.

On Saturday, June 27, 1885.

While the law requires but one examination to be held during each quarter, it has been decided, on account of the great expense to which teachers are necessarily subjected in making the trip from the Coquille to Coos bay, and vice versa, to hold one at each of the above-named places.

J. T. McCORMAC, County School Superintendent.

Marshfield, June 17, 1885.

Farm for Sale.

A desirable place, four miles from Marshfield, near the mouth of Coos river, and opposite Capt. Bogue's old ranch, is for sale at a bargain; also 500 saw logs, with or without the land, which is bench and bottom. Apply on the premises to

WILLIAM WILLIAMSON.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup company, San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's own true laxative. This pleasant liquid fruit remedy may be had at the Coos Bay drug store, Marshfield, or at Sengstacken's drug store at Empire City. Sample bottles free and large bottles at 50 cents or $1. It is the most pleasant, prompt and effective remedy known to cleanse the system, to act on the liver, kidneys and bowels gently, yet thoroughly; to dispel headaches, colds and fevers; to cure constipation, indigestion and kindred ills.

Notice to Debtors.

Having sold my interest in the Marshfield lunch house and retired from the restaurant business, it becomes necessary for me to have a settlement, and all persons indebted to me, by note or book account, are requested to make prompt payment, as I shall feel justified in resorting to stringent measures with those who do not heed this notice.

MATT STORA, JR. Marshfield, Or., April 9, 1885.

Important.

I have within the past week sent out a large number of bills. Please take notice that such as are not heard from promptly will be handed to an attorney for collection without delay. It is not my desire to inconvenience any one who is willing to pay but is unable. It is only necessary for such to convince me of this fact, and they will not be disturbed. Respectfully,

F. A. GOLDEN. Marshfield, May 27, 1885.

Important Notice.

Outstanding accounts at Golden's drug store since the 1st of September, 1884, are posted to April 1, 1885, and are ready for collection. Parties interested will oblige by PROMPT SETTLEMENT. I do not wish to push any one unnecessarily; but the purchases from the wholesale dealers MUST BE PAID FOR PROMPTLY to secure to myself and my patrons the benefits of LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES, and to do this collections MUST BE MADE PROMPTLY.
