MARSHFIELD, OREGON: Thursday, August 27, 1890

Go and see the Trombone Band. T. R. Sheridan was on the bay last week.

The bridge south of town is being planked. President Harrison was 57 years old yesterday.

Boring has begun on the Artesian well at Porter. Novels of W. Gilmore Sims, at Sengstackens, at 25c. J. W. Bennett has gone to Roseburg on railroad business.

The Glasgow wharf is finished so that steamers land there. The new vessel at North Bend will be launched on Saturday.

"A Midnight Mistake," at Old Fellows' hall, Saturday night. Be sure and attend the entertainment and dance Saturday night.

Dr. J. T. McCormac was on the sick list this week, but is out again. Quite a number of Douglas county people are camping at Rocky Point.

A good brewery property on Coos bay for sale cheap. Inquire of Gray & Hill. A new barber shop on A street, next to the Central hotel, opened on Monday.

Chas. Fisher, editor of the Roseburg Review, arrived in Marshfield on Tuesday. Wolfe & Olsen have sold their vegetable and fruit store on A street, to J. B. Kilesoot.

C. F. Edmonds has sold his house on Cedar street to Mr. McPherson, the real estate man. Otto Greenwald, of the California Lumber Co., returned to San Francisco on the Ajax.

E. A. Anderson is building a large warehouse for wood on the wharf north of town. John A. Gray left for Bandon this morning to lecture at the Teachers' Institute to-night.

Engineer McMillan has been doing some work this week at Glasgow, setting stakes on the streets. The room in front of the restaurant in the John Bear building has been rented for a real estate office.

Nasburg & Hirst have just received a large and new stock of boots and shoes and dress goods. Business houses seem to be pushing up A street, and that may yet become a business thoroughfare.

Good music and lots of fun at the Trombone Band entertainment and dance Saturday night. Why don't some of our investors put up some houses to rent? The newcomer has no place to lay his head.

Mr. and Mrs. Deunber have been to California to place their son George in school, and returned on the Ajax. Is Danham returned home on the last steamer, and he brought a bicycle with him which he rides in fine style.

D. L. Rood is working a force of men at Yarrow, and as soon as the grading there is finished he will begin at Glasgow. Dr. Spongole went over to the Coquille on Tuesday, to see James Aiken, who is sick with congestion of the lungs.

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Suderlund died on the 17th, and was buried from the Lutheran church on Tuesday. Capt. W. S. Wheeler, of Kentuck slough, owns a steam launch, and its name is "Rooster," but it is a water fowl all the same.

We are now prepared to produce the finest work, equal to San Francisco's best. Call and see the new work at McMILLAN'S gallery. Elijah Smith and John L. Howard, of the S. O. Co., have been spending a few days on the bay looking after the interests of the company.

The Bandon-Empire road is now open and said to be in a very good condition. Fred Scheller drove over from Bandon last week in five hours. Hon. A. C. Jones and family and Miss Belle Moore, of Roseburg, have been taking in the sea breezes at Rocky Point for several days.

Read the card of Dr. Minnis, which appears in this issue. The doctor comes well recommended from Douglas county as a very successful physician. There has been a great deal of sickness in town during the past month, most of it occasioned in all probability by eating freely of unripe California fruit.

A social dance was given last Saturday night at Odd Fellows' hall in honor of "Pitchwood Jimmy," at which there was a large attendance of the elite of the town. Reserved seats for the entertainment of the Trombone Band, at Odd Fellows' hall, Saturday night, are now on sale at Kellner & Land's cigar store in Blanco hotel building.

Alva Bonebrake returned from a visit to the Goose Lake country on Tuesday. He has been to the hot springs there for several weeks and is much improved in health. The Trombone Band, of Coquille City, will give an entertainment and ball in Marshfield, Saturday night, Aug. 23d. The band is in fine training and will do themselves credit.

Wanted, 1200 cedar piles, 8 inches at small end, and from 25 feet and upwards in length; to be delivered at Porter mill or at Uter City. Inquire of E. E. Hinchman at Porter.

Richmond Perry Smith has invented tools for manipulating Insertible Saw Teeth, and secured a patent on the same. Mill men say the patent is a good one. T. G. Owen is half-owner in the right.

The Coquille Herald undertakes to make strictures on the affairs of Glasgow, which demonstrate that he is entirely ignorant of the whole business. Some one has been stuffing the susceptible editor.

Work was commenced on the building of the steam laundry at this place on Monday, and the machinery is expected on the next steamer. J. D. Johnson and Chas. Magary are doing the carpenter work.

Arcbie Kruse, son of John Kruse, at North Bend, took the spring of an old clock and has built a miniature steam boat which he winds up and sets going on the waters of the bay in fine style. He is an ingenious little fellow and will make a boss ship-builder in time.

Dr. Tower received a present from the city on the last Ajax in the shape of a sure-enough, full-blooded greyhound. The animal looks like a cross between a grasshopper and a kangaroo, and can run as fast as a politician thinks he is going to before election.

News was received here on Tuesday that the residence of W. E. Rackliff, near Myrtle Point, was burned to the ground on Monday night, but that nearly all of the household effects had been saved. The loss is quite heavy, as the dwelling was one of the best in the county.

Almira Campbell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Campbell, died last Sunday, aged nine years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. Horsfall at the residence on Tuesday. The grief of the stricken family was very touching and awakened deep sympathy.

Wm. Johnson, of Ross slough, was driving a team on Tuesday when one of the horses kicked him in the breast and on the arm, causing a compound fracture of the right arm and severe bruises on the chest. He was brought to town and Dr. J. T. McCormac dressed the wounds and reduced the fracture.

Dr. J. T. McCormac has received from a friend in New Orleans specimens of sugar cane, rice and moss, which are quite curiosities to citizens of this section. Also some scales of the alligator gar fish, which constitute a protection equal to the war armor worn in olden time battles. They consist of solid bone scales, overlapping, and are firm enough to turn a bullet.

"Won at Last, or The Heart of Ashes," which is to be presented here on Sept. 6th, by the Marshfield Dramatic Club, under the direction of Albert Lando, is a drama of the society-emotional order, with plenty of comedy thrown in, and is one of the best of its kind. It holds the interest of an audience from beginning to end. After the performance there will be a social dance.

A note from Postmaster H. G. Davis, of Remote, dated Aug. 14th, says: "The opening of the Middle Fork wagon road has been the talk for the past two months, and to-day Coos and Douglas counties are connected by one of the best mountain roads in the state. Several wagons and teams passed over to-day, and still the work goes on in the way of widening narrow places and making pass ways."

The new four-masted schooner on the ways at North Bend is nearly completed and has been sold to Mr. Hume. It will be used to run to Alaska and carry supplies for the fishing business. This is one of the staunchest vessels ever built on the coast, as there are knees under her deck, giving strength to the vessel where so many go to pieces from the wrenching which comes from the deck-load as separated from the cargo in the hold.

H. C. Smith, aged about 62 years, of South slough, dropped dead last Friday on the Elliott place, where he was living and his sudden death was probably occasioned by heart disease. Deceased was a very large man, weighing about 300 pounds, and was engaged in cutting matchwood. He was in Empire City a few hours before his death and seemed in usual health. He came to Coos bay about eight months ago, and leaves a wife and four sons.

Judge Holcomb came down on Saturday and left for Portland on yesterday's stage. The engineers are at work on the route between the Umpqua and Coos bay, and the active work of grading on the Coquille end will begin next month. There is no doubt but the road will be constructed and without delay. Judge Holcomb goes to Portland to make arrangements with contractors for the work and will return next month for active operations.

Messrs McPherson & Ginsler will open a wholesale liquor store at Marshfield in a few days. They have engaged the services as manager, of R. C. Haise, who has had twenty years experience in handling liquors, in California, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, and he left on the last steamer for the East to purchase a large stock of pure Kentucky whiskeys. The best foreign and domestic wines and cigars, bar fixtures, cards, etc., will be kept on hand. The new firm is entirely responsible and will keep a first class establishment and make it to the interest of retail dealers to spend their money at home. This business house will supply a "long felt want" in this part of the state, and should receive liberal patronage.

O'Connell's mixed paints can be seen on every hand, beautifying the town of Marshfield.

Suicide.

On Monday morning a sad case of suicide occurred at Coquille City. Mrs. Addie Mackey, a young woman who had been married only three months, shot herself with a revolver and died instantly. Deceased and her husband occupied a house owned by John Baker, a livery stable man, and Mr. Baker slept in the house upstairs. Mr. Baker says the young couple were at home on Sunday night and seemed very affectionate. Mr. Mackey, the husband, rose early Monday morning, built a fire and went to the stable where he was employed, and shortly came home to breakfast. Finding the meal was not ready he returned to his work, and after he left deceased called to Baker to go to once for her husband, saying, "You be sure and come back with him." Baker hurriedly dressed and coming down asked if she was ill, but received in reply the request to go to once for her husband. Baker started and after going a little distance heard a shot and thinking she had acted strongly he returned to the house, and found she had gone to his room, taken his revolver and placed the muzzle to her forehead, just above the eyes, had sat down on the lounge and fired, blowing out her brains and presenting a most ghastly spectacle. The husband was called and was almost insane with grief. He burst into the window when they tried to keep him from the corpse and tried to take the body in his arms asking her all the time in the most piteous tones, "What did you do it for?" There is no doubt but the act was committed under the impulse of insanity, and no one seems to be able to suggest any reason for the rash act. Coroner Butler went over from Marshfield and held an inquest on Monday.

The Coast Survey party under Capt. Dickens, at present engaged in the survey of the bay, have established a tide staff on one of the piles of the wharf back of Golden's drug store, and have taken a complete set of tidal observations both day and night during the month of July, from which they derive the following data:

Plane of reference (mean of the lower low waters) to which soundings are reduced, reads on staff..... 7.24 ft
Mean rise and fall of tide during month, 5.83 ft
Fall of lowest tide below Plane of reference..... 0.82 ft
Rise of highest tide above Plane of reference..... 7.00 ft

They have established a Bench Mark on the outer and upper edge of the stone window sill of the southern windows of Webster's brick building, the sill slopes a little, therefore the edge is taken as the Bench Mark.
Height of Bench Mark above zero of tide staff..... 20.95 ft
Height of Bench Mark above Plane of reference..... 13.76 ft
Height of Bench Mark above Mean High water..... 7.84 ft

Porter.

The new boat is ready for her machinery. She will be a daisy. The steamer Maggie Ross arrived at Porter on Saturday with a cargo of freight.

Mr. Shepard, our blacksmith, is laid up with rheumatism. There are several of the boys under the weather.

Mr. Otto Greenwald left on the Ajax for his home in San Francisco. He goes back much pleased with the way that things are shaping. The Maggie Ross will go to sea Wednesday, the 29th, with a cargo for the Golden Gate Lumber Co., of San Francisco.

Manager Hinchman went to Coos river Tuesday on a business trip. The railroad is doing good work and we will not want for logs, for Laird is a rustler. Mr. Casey, the well borer, of San Mateo County, Cal., arrived on the 14th inst. He commenced work immediately upon his arrival, and is now down sixty feet, with very good prospects.

The mill is working to its fullest capacity. There are orders enough ahead to run four months. All we lack is water and we have good prospects for that. Everything will be O. K. then.

There was a social dance at Marshfield Saturday night, and Porter was represented as usual. Say, we have editorial and musical talent here, in fact, almost everything that is wanted in a first class town, if some of our boys would tell you their experience you would think so to. CARL.

Resolutions.

At a regular meeting of Sunset Lodge, No. 51, I. O. O. F., held August 8, 1890, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Most Worthy Grand Master of the Universe to remove from our midst our late brother, Robert M. Hutcheson, Past Grand, and
WHEREAS, It is but just that we should recognize his many virtues; therefore, be it
Resolved, By Sunset Lodge, No. 51, I. O. O. F., that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our departed Brother, who has been taken from us.
Resolved, That in the death of Robert M. Hutcheson, this Lodge laments the loss of a Brother who was ever ready to lend a helping hand and a word of sympathy to a brother in distress; an active member of this society, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity, a friend and Brother who was dear to us all; a noble and upright citizen, whose life was a standard of emulation to his fellow men.
Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Lodge be extended to his family in their affliction.
Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the records of this Lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased Brother; also a copy to each of the newspapers of the town of Marshfield for publication.

Mrs. William Bettys took a trip to Brewster valley last week to see her father's family.

Mr. L. H. Hazard who has been rusticated at Sumner for the past week came home Monday.

Mrs. and Miss Turpin went over to Bandon to attend the Teacher's Institute, which commenced on the 18th inst.

Mr. C. F. Lovelace and wife will soon commence housekeeping on their own account, as the house is nearly ready for them.

Messrs. Elijah Smith, Jno. L. Howard and Mr. Smith arrived here Saturday. They, in company with Geo. W. Loggie, went over to Coquille on a business trip.

The messenger of death is amongst us there was two deaths here last week, that of Mr. Smith on South slough, who dropped dead while working in his yard, and the little three year old daughter of Robert Whitted, who died here Sunday morning with brain fever. The bereaved people have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

Mrs. Capt. Marshall and two daughters are visiting at John Flanagan's. While driving near Rocky Point the other evening Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Flanagan had the misfortune of getting too close to the edge of a bridge and were scratched and bruised some, but no bones were broken. ONSERVER.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

Mrs. Dr. Mackey is visiting her mother at Elkton. Mrs. P. P. Palmer, of Scottsburg, was visiting friends here last week.

Another crowd of Drainites came down last Friday and are camping on the South Beach; among them we noticed the familiar countenances of Mrs. McCallister and daughter, Grandma Cartwright, Mack Johnson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ensley and many others.

The Juno took an excursion party to the beach last Sunday, the brass band went along and favored us with some fine music while on the steamer, and when we arrived at the beach a basket dinner was served by the ladies of the party, which was partaken of with evident relish by all.

A little boy from North Bend was attacked by a dog here last Thursday, and received a painful wound on the leg; the brute buried its teeth in the flesh and it was with difficulty the boy could release himself. The owner of the dog lives near the hotel, and, unless some one will administer a dose of poison, it would be well to have a sign, "Beware of the dog," placed in a conspicuous place on the hotel, as a warning to strangers, for this is the third time the vicious cur has attacked people; and yet he is still allowed to run at large, menacing the lives of our children, and of the "stranger within our gates."

Married, Saturday, Aug. 16, 1890, by Rev. J. H. Rook, David J. Culy and Mrs. Orpha Densmore, both of Gardiner. The wedding took place in the A. O. U. W. hall, which was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens. The bride wore a dress of cream-colored satin, which was a marvel of elegance. The ceremony was witnessed by about one hundred and fifty invited guests. A novel and charming feature of the occasion was the presence of the members of the Ladies Baseball Club, who stood up with the bride; the club consists of eighteen ladies (nine on a side). They wore their ball costumes of dazzling white, and many were the admiring glances cast upon them, as they hovered near the bride, or mingled among the guests. The refreshments were simply delicious, and so plentiful that "ye hungry reporter" has been unable to eat a meal since. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and handsome presents, which, to enumerate, would fill a column of the MAIL. At ten o'clock the crowd went to Nelson's hall, where a social dance was kept up until midnight.
