CONCERT, CARNIVAL

METHODIST LADIES SCORE A SUCCESS

Musical Program of Rare Excellence Followed by Cold Ice Cream and Hot Tomates

The concert and carnival given last evening by the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church was a pronounced success. The grounds on the Rialto (the oyster-shell beach adjoining the church) were enclosed with a row of evergreen trees brought from the woods and were lighted by an arc lamp placed for the occasion. Chinese lanterns also lit up the scene, and added an effective touch to the elaborate bunting and music decorations which had been tastefully placed by the ladies.

The half dozen booths were presided over by the following ladies: Ice Cream, Mrs. Hansen, Tamalen, Mrs. Grimes; Candy, Mrs. Wade; Soda Water, Miss Nettie Savage; Coffee, Mrs. Abbott; Art, Mrs. Heineke.

The concert fully bore out the program promise of a musical treat and nearly every number encored. The following list of the musical artists who took part will indicate the excellence of the entertainment: Mrs. C. W. Tower, Miss Florence Smith, Miss Eickworth, Miss Edna Bear, F. A. Sacchi, Dr. W. A. Tove, C. S. Kaiser and F. Kaiser. No extended notice is possible, but it is proper to say that one who has not heard Miss Smith for a number of years notices the material gain in the sweetness and expression of her voice. The orchestra work was good and was continued after the close of the concert proper.

The voting for queen resulted in the election of Miss Hattie Perry who was afterward crowned under a canopy outside, by Miss Grace McCormack, and looked the part to perfection.

The weather was rather cool for outdoor entertainment, and the hot tamale booth was crowded, while the others did a good business.

Of the carnival committee, Mrs. John Bear was president, Mrs. J. R. Rochon secretary and Mrs. Mary Smith treasurer. The carnival was the suggestion of Mrs. Rochon and the ladies are to be congratulated on their success in carrying out the idea.

THE PICNIC SEASON OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY

Three Events so Far This Week-- Presbyterian Score Big Success

The were two picnics last Sunday and one on Wednesday, and this may be considered as fully inaugurating the season.

On Sunday last a small party from Marshfield and the stave mill went up Coos river with gasoline launches and enjoyed a pleasant outing. The objective point was the Elk Rock, but the launch balked, and a stop was made at an equally pleasant place further down the river.

Nearly 200 people took part in an excursion to John Matson's place on Catching slough, given by the Vainuoinen singing society. The picnickers feasted on strawberries and cream, played games and with recitations and songs had a jolly good time. The voyage was commenced with a song as the boat left the Marshfield dock, and some remarkably good voices were heard among the singers, the peculiarities of the foreign tune enhancing the charming effect across the water.

The presbyterian Sunday School picnic on Wednesday was a great success. The steamer Blanco took about 150 people to Piper's grove on Coos river, where the day was spent in usual manner of Sunday school picnics. An early start was taken, and as the weather was all that could be desired, the day was greatly enjoyed by the young people and their older escorts.

PATRICK HUGHES DIES FROM ACCIDENT

While Riding After Cattle His Horse Falls Upon Him With Fatal Results

Patrick Hughes, of Curry county, died Thursday night at his home at Cape Blanco, from the effect of injuries received last Sunday by his horse falling upon him. On that day he started to drive up his cows, riding a heavy team horse. In jumping over a log the horse fell between two logs, breaking his legs and pinning his rider to the ground. Evidently to save himself, Mr. Hughes cut the horse's throat with his pocket knife to stop his struggles, but was even then unable to extricate himself. When found, several hours afterward, he was unconscious. Seven ribs were broken and he suffered internal injuries which resulted in his death.

Mr. Hughes was one of the wealthiest and most highly respected citizens of Curry county. He was a native of Ireland, but had lived in Curry county since about 1860. He was county commissioner for about 20 years, and was always a stalwart Republican. Besides a widow he leaves four sons and two daughters, all grown.

Did You Dream?

If the mixture of hot tomatoes and cold ice cream at the Carnival last evening had the same effect upon all that it did upon the Coast Mail man, the town must have been visited by a curious assortment of dreams, toward morning. Traveling afoot and by automobile through a thickly settled country, clothed in a single garment, and being chased up a shallow mountain stream, in the same costume, by an infuriated sea-green bull, being accompanied by a dog who spattered the water awfully, until obliged to take refuge in a hotel filled with smiling ladies--this was but a small part of the after-festivities.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

As a rule the summer months are difficult and trying ones for a Young Men's Christian Association. This fact is due to the tendency for people to remain out of doors as much as possible when the weather is nice. The Association in Marshfield seems to be an exception to this rule however and good attendance at the rooms is still an evidence of the interest taken in the efforts to make the place attractive. Nevertheless the desire for, and the benefits of, open air argument have not been overlooked and ever this appears in print work will have been begun on the long anticipated chalet, and then swimming will be an order of entertainment for the season.

Short-hand classes will meet Monday, July 1st for their first recitation and a new 1901 Standard Remington Typewriter will soon arrive for use by students.
