CUP WILL STAY HERE

COLUMBIA VICTOR

IN THREE RACES

Friday's Race Would Have Been Shamrock's but for Handicap—Will Race Again

The American Cup races have again gone to the American yacht, and the cup will stay on this side of the Atlantic for at least another year. The second race was sailed Thursday and was won by Columbia.

Course in the fourth race was a triangular one, first leg east, half south, second leg southwest, half south; third leg north, northwest.

The American yacht crossed the line nearly two minutes ahead of the Shamrock. With 43 second handicap which Shamrock must allow Columbia, latter wins by three minutes and thirty five seconds.

The third race was sailed Friday, and was the closest call Columbia has had, and she was only saved from defeat by her time allowance. Shamrock crossed the line two seconds ahead of the American yacht, but her handicap of 43 seconds gave the race to Columbia by 39 seconds.

This gives Columbia the three races, which decides the contest. It was announced last evening that the crews of the yachts would be changed and another race sailed.

Bears Killing Sheep

Capt. A. D. Boone, of Sumner, was in town Friday. He reported that bears are raising havoc with sheep in the vicinity of Sumner, having killed about a dozen for him lately and as many for his neighbors, James and J. W. Catching. There is a demand for good bear dogs in that neighborhood.

RECEPTION TENDERED

REV. R. C. LEE.

Last evening the friends of Rev. R. C. Lee gave a reception to that gentleman, in honor of his return to the Marshfield church, by appointment of the M. E. Conference.

About a hundred of his friends and members of his congregation were present to extend a hearty welcome to the pastor.

The reception came in the nature of a surprise to Rev. Lee, he having been unavoidably detained down town and when he arrived at the parsonage he was astounded to see the church lighted up, and this not being one of the evenings upon which any meeting took place, he at once smelled a mice. When he came in he found the church all torn up, preparatory to a big old-fashioned Methodist time and baskets of goodies were seen in many places.

An impromptu program had been arranged of songs and instrumental music and all were highly appreciated. Remarks from several were made, and an acknowledgement from the pastor in which he expressed his appreciation of favors, past and present, to him and his. It was a source of much gratification to be greeted by so many, many not members of his or any other church. The speaker showed that he loved Marshfield and its people very much.

Coffee and cake were served, before which a spirited contest at authors took place, for which a first and second prize was given, Miss Alice McCormac winning first and Milo Sumner second.

Rev. Lee entertained those present with several very amusing incidents happening to him while at conference and he has gone on record as an ideal story teller, although it be at his own expense.

The occasion will long be remembered by those participating.

MARRIED

COLTIEN — JOHNSON — At the residence of J. D. Johnson on Ross slough, Oct. 2, 1901 Henry Coltien and Miss Alice M. Johnson, both of Tulare, Cal., Rev. S. B. McClelland officiating.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Alice Yoakam desires to sincerely thank all those who at the time of the death of her husband, George W. Yoakam, showed so much kindness and sympathy for herself and family.

WILL TRY TO SAVE THE BARODA

Capt. W. Burns, of London, and Captain J. H. Roberts, of Portland, arrived in Marshfield yesterday from a visit to the wreck of the British bark Baroda. Captain Burns is Lloyd's expert wrecker. He had charge of the work of taking the Glenmorag off the north beach at the mouth of the Columbia. He represents the underwriters association.

Captain Roberts recently accomplished the work of floating the stranded Columbia river lightship, bringing her overland and launching her inside.

These gentlemen have carefully examined the Baroda and it is understood that Captain Roberts will undertake the work of getting her off the beach.

She now lies uninjured but bedded in the sand, with about three feet of water around her at high tide.

MAN HURT AT GAGE'S LOGGING CAMP

Henry Borquist was severely hurt at Gage's logging camp on Tuesday, by being caught between the cars and the landing. His right collar bone was broken and he was considerably bruised. He was brought to the hospital here, where he is getting along all right.

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN THE SHIPYARDS

Lost Schooner James Sennett to Be Duplicated—Capt. Reed Commences Work at Bay City.

The Pacific Ship Building Co. have commenced work preparatory to the construction of a four masted schooner, a duplicate of the James Sennett, C. H. Merchant having received telegraphic instructions to that effect. E. Heuckendorff will therefore build another boat from the same patterns, and the rigging and fittings just brought back from the wreck of the Sennett will be utilized in rigging her, thus saving about one third of the expense.

Captain H. Reed commenced preparations on Wednesday for the construction of the new vessel which he is to build in his Bay City yard. O. J. Seeley is getting out the keel.

ANOTHER COOS BAY VESSEL WRECKED

The three-masted schooner Laura May, built in the Marshfield yard in the seventies, and owned principally by C. H. Merchant and E. B. Dean & Co., is another Coos Bay vessel lying a wreck in Alaskan waters. She went to Strangier river or Bristol bay, in the spring, with a load of canner supplies, with orders to wait until the seasons work was over and bring back the product. She had part of her hull on board when she drifted ashore on a high tide and could not be floated. She was stripped of her rigging and will probably leave her bones there. This information comes in a letter to Mr. C. H. Merchant.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE NEAR MCKINLEY.

All buildings except the granary and most of the fencing on the Peter Lasswell place near McKinley, were recently burned by a fire that came over the hill from E. L. Wilson's slough. Thos. Lasswell was living on the place but was unable to successfully combat with the flames.

Stricken With Paralysis

Henderson Grimmett, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo. R. McDonald, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. For sale by John Preuss.

English Robber of State.

Every robberster in London always keeps some of the most expensive robes of state—those of a registrar, for instance—ready and lends them out when officials have to use them at any great ceremony. Many a peer, when his portrait is to be added to the family picture gallery, has obtained the crimson and ermine from his tailor for a small consideration.

SURPRISED BURGLAR MAKES HASTY RETREAT

On last Tuesday night burglars tried to enter the house of H. Bradburn, at Ferndale, and at two times previous, all within a few days, some one wanted to gain entrance by trying all the doors. It was discovered that in the absence of the family some one had been at the windows and doors. There was no one at home at the time but a small girl and the younger son Roy. The burglar was so persistent that he worked a long time at the front door. The children became alarmed and Roy procured his gun and shot through the door panel. Whether he hit the man or not he does not know. However, the latter rolled off the porch and by the time Roy had reloaded his gun and opened the door the man was seen running through the orchard. The miscreant was evidently not hit, but he will probably not try those doors again soon.
