Asthmalene Brings Instant Relief and Permanent Cure in all Cases.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL.
Write your name and address plainly.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene relieved my asthma in ten minutes. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a doctor, chained with painful sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had spoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full sized bottle."

Rabbi of the Cong. Israel.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.

Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its combination alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is certain and wonderful. I can state that Asthmalene cures all cases, morphine, chloroform or other. Very truly yours,

REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER
Astor-Speyer, N. Y., Feb. 4, 1901.

APT. BROS. MEDICINE CO.
Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 15 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as some others, I desired to see your sign upon my window on 130th street, New York. I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the 1st of November. I verily believe a radical improvement. After using one bottle, her asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can conscientiously recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.

Yours Respectfully,
O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Feb. 5, 1901 A.
Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full sized bottle and I am ever grateful. I have family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit.

Commenting on Lord Kitchener's proclamation to the Boers, F. Peter Dunne's Mr. Dooley says: "Lord Kitchener's a good writer. 'Ladies an' gentlemen,' he says, 'this war as a war is now over. Ye may not know it, but it's so. Ye've broke th' rules, an' we give th' fight to ourselves on a foul. Th' first principle iv a war again England is that th' infantry shall wear red or purple coats, with black marks, fr to indicate th' location iv vital organs be day an' a locomotive head-light be night. They shall thin gather within aisy range, an', at the word 'Fire!' shall fall down dead. Anny remainin' standin' atherward will be considered as spies. Shootin' back is not allowed be th' rules, an' is severely discountenanced."

The Secret

Of womanly health would be esteemed as priceless by thousands of suffering women. Each month sees them moaning in a darkened room. At the hour they endure pain every day. At the word the pain becomes torment.

The secret of womanly health is in keeping the womanly organism in a perfectly healthy state. This can be done by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, drives debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Women suffering from chronic forms of disease are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential and womanly confidences are guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is nothing else "just as good" for womanly ailments.

"I suffered for more than ten years with female weakness of very bad form," writes Mrs. D. M. Brown, of Troy, N. Y. "I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery with great results. I am able to do all my own work. I do not know how to thank you enough for the kind advice you have sent me by letter. Your remedies did for me more than all other doctor's medicines, and I have taken lots of them."

be our ladin' military authorities. Anny attemp at concealment is treachery. Th' scand'lous habit iv pluggin' our gallant sojers from behind rocks an' trees is a breach iv international law. Rethreatin' when pursued is wau iv our copyrighted manoeuvres, an' all infringements will be prosecuted. At a wurrud fr'm ns the war is over an' we own ye'er country."

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to Red Cross drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One or two doses will make you well. They also cure biliousness, sick headache and constipation.

In an address at Lincoln Neb., on occasion of the late President McKinley's funeral. Mr. W. J. Bryan said: "Let us hope that this National affliction, which unites all factions in a common sorrow, will result in a broader charity and a more liberal spirit among those who, by different policies and through difference parties, seek to promote the welfare and increase the glory of our common country."

In more ways than one the prediction of President Kruger that "would stagger humanity" has been realized. The British losses have sufficed to produce that result; now humanity is being staggered by the admiration it feels for the indomitable courage and desperate struggle of the Boers. No matter to which side the sympathies tend, we cannot withhold our admiration for the sturdy resistance to one of the strongest military powers on earth that is being made by these untainted tillers of the soil.—Port Orford Tribune.

Relation of Teacher to Pupil.
(Mrs. S. F. Abernethy prepared and read the following paper at the Sunday School Convention and on special request permits the same to be published.)

We are supposed to be talking of the Sunday school teacher and his or her relation to their pupil. The Sunday school is the one place where the Bible is taught, or it should be, and if the teacher is a Bible student and loves it because it is the word of our Father in heaven, who is all-wise, whose love is perfect because justice upholds it and mercy tempers it, and he so loved us (the people of the whole earth) that he, through Christ, gave his life for us, and the teacher's heart is full of this theme. What relation do you think they would have to the pupil? Or child who is very dear to the heart of the Father? To me it is fascinating, 'tis like preparing the ground for the seed you have laid up with care for the planting time. You drop the seed and pray the Father to give it life. How your heart will glow when there is some sign of life, you have caught their attention, and they give you a thought on the lesson, or ask a question that shows they are thinking. You thank God and ask him for wisdom to speak the right thing, or not to speak but let the word speak for you and the spirit do its perfect work. How your heart yearns over one, perhaps more than one that are hardening their hearts against the truth, and turn away resisting the Spirit. You can realize something of how Christ felt when he wept over Jerusalem, and how his loving heart bled when he said "how oft would I have gathered you as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings and ye would not." And how you must watch yourself, and your words, lest you put a stumbling block in the way of one seed (or truth) that is started to grow. How carefully you want to cultivate it, pull out the weeds, and keep your own heart. Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler says "heart keeping is very much like house keeping. There must be a continual sweeping out of dirt and clearing out or rubbish, a daily washing of dishes, and a perpetual battle with all sorts of vermin. If heart cleaning could be done up once for all, then the Christian might discharge all his graces, and have an easy time of it. And just because the assaults of subtle temptations are so constant, and the uprisings of sinful passions are so frequent and the task of keeping the inward man what it ought to be is so difficult, many a one who begins a religious life gets discouraged and makes a wretched failure." So the pupil watching the teacher is either helped or hindered, as our lives either show that we know and love the blessed Master or are trying to deceive ourselves and them too. I think it can be summed up under six heads. 1. To be an ideal Sunday school teacher, one should be familiar with the whole Bible. Questions will often come up in the class, involving other scriptural teachings than those of the day's text. It is sometimes necessary for persons to act as teachers who are not thus qualified. In such cases, they ought to prepare the lesson very carefully and look up the Bible references which bear upon it. When we go to school, we expect our teachers to know more than we do about the branches of knowledge they undertake to teach. Likewise, the teachers of Sunday school classes, should be regarded by their scholars as an authority upon the teachings of the Bible.

2. Conduct the lesson in such a way that the more ignorant ones will not be embarrassed by being unable to answer the questions. When a wrong answer is given, the teacher should use such tact in correcting it, that no offense will be given. In this way scholars may be encouraged to answer who would otherwise have so little confidence in themselves, or such fear of being ridiculed, that they would remain silent, even when they knew the answer. 3. Make each pupil feel that you are his, or her, personal friend. Know the circumstances of their home life. These can best be learned by calling upon your pupils and becoming acquainted with their parents. It is sometimes wise to bring your class together at your own home, in a social way and provide such entertainment for them, as, according to their age, they would enjoy. This will generally do much in the way of endearing you to your pupils. 4. Encourage pupils to come to you, as teacher, for sympathy and counsel in the daily affairs of life. This was the secret of Moody's great influence, as a Sunday school worker, in the earlier years of his remarkable life. Never betray these confidences by repeating them to any one, or by talking to the scholar concerned, about them, in the presence of others. They are a sacred trust. 5. We cannot do much for our pupils unless, in the spirit of Christ we can truly love them. Our interest in their welfare must be real. If we are making believe, the sham will soon be discovered and our influence for good is at an end. "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." If we love our pupils as Jesus loves them, our supreme object will ever be to get those who are not Christians, to accept Him as their Saviour. For that reason, many Sunday schools have appointed one day each year (generally in March, I think) called "Decision Day." It is expected that every teacher will work throughout the year, with a view to bringing the unconverted members of their class to a decision for Christ, on or before that day. 6. We teachers must be very careful that we set a good example. If our pupils are to have any confidence in us, they must see that we are evidently trying to put the Bible teachings into practice, in our daily life. Alice Shudder in her practical suggestions to leaders, in work with children says "it needs a person of a bright, happy disposition, with time and inclination for work; one who possesses the combined qualities of gentleness and firmness, spirituality and mirth, tact also, is an essential element, for there are troublesome children who often try one's patience. Scolding, however, must not be resorted to, for spiritual lessons will not be kindly received from one who has shown an impatient temper.

"The teaching of Jesus was full of life and reality. He stood among men, and spoke to them in terms of their common thought and surroundings. Catching up present suggestions of spiritual truths. And notice how He constantly makes use of common incidents to draw from them, or rest upon them some new teaching." He is our example, and we need never fear if he is our ideal teacher and we keep so close to him that we can see the shining of his face and it is reflected in our lives.

Children's Fertilizer.

That's a good name for Scott's Emulsion. Children are like young plants. Some will grow in ordinary soil. Others need fertilizers.

The nature of some children prevents them from thriving on ordinary food. Such children grow right if treated right. All they need is a little fertilizer—a little extra richness. Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment.

Fertilizers make things grow. That's just what Scott's Emulsion does. It makes children grow in flesh, grow in strength, grow rich blood, grow in mind, grow happy. That's what we make it for.

Stricken With Paralysis

Heudson Grimet, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—GEO. R. McDONALD, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. For sale by John Prens.

Literary Notes.

At a time when all the world is asking "What manner of man is our President?" Modern Culture reprints in October number an article entitled "Theodore Roosevelt—The Typical Man of the Twentieth Century," by Day Allen Willey. Of this article the President himself has written: "I have so genuinely liked that article of yours about me that appeared in Modern Culture, that I must send you a line to tell you so. You have recognized what I was trying to be and do—no matter how far I have come short in both respects. It was at Windsor castle that Queen Victoria, then only a girl of 20, did what she described as "the most nervous thing a woman was ever called on to do"—when she announced the young Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha to a private interview and "proposed" to him. She had first met him when as a boy of 17 he came with his father to England, and when, three years later, he "made no secret" of his love for his fair cousin "no one was surprised and every one was delighted."—London Tit-Bits.

THE HOME GOLD CURE

An Incurable Treatment by which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Noxious Doses—No Weakening of the Nerves—A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by protracted or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves, at home, without publicity or loss of time from business, by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE," which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how long a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!

This remedy is in no sense a nostrum, but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of drunkards have cured themselves with this druggery remedy, and many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the
