Attorney A. M. Crawford, of Roseburg delivered a lecture before the Drain Normal School Literary Society last week. "A Trip East" was his subject and his address is highly spoken of by the Plaindealer of Roseburg.

T. W. Rennie, of North Bend was in town Monday to have what he supposed was a splinter of steel removed from his left eye. It was found that the trouble arose from a slight growth inside of the eyelid, which was irritating the eye. Its removal was easy and ended the trouble.

E. G. Flanagan wishes it understood that the bargain list published for the last two weeks is a real list of bargains. It is not necessary to buy all the goods listed, in order to get the benefit of the remarkably low prices. Each item is a separate bargain on its own responsibility. You can take one item or more. Better call at the Pioneer Market and get them all.

Maxwell and Curson, received on the Alliance a large shipment of doors and windows to be used in the construction of a bunkalation and others building at their Crescent coal mine on Istibus slough.

H. Sengstacken has been having several thousand neat folders printed to advertise his pharmaceutical preparations.

The North Star store has received a new line of Children's Coats and Ladies' Coats and Capes. Nice assortment and very reasonable prices. Call and examine the stock, at corner of A and second streets.

August Farley is again seen on our streets, on crutches. He is not yet able to bear his weight on the ankle which was so seriously strained, but with time and care the member will probably be as good as ever.

J. A. Matson and Hillis Short start today for Roseburg to make final proof on their timber claims.

J. W. Kruse has gone to Portland to have his eyes attended to, as they are again giving him trouble.

One of the things crowded out of this paper last week by the lengthy premium list, was an item to the effect that Ghost Ball given by the Women of Woodcraft last week was a very enjoyable affair. The sheet and pillow case contingent, while not very numerous were quite awe-inspiring in appearance.

J. S. Coke, Jr and W. J. Butler were over to the Coquille several days this week.

Port Orford Tribune:—The running of debris from the mines into agricultural lands is an issue between some of the miners and ranchers of Sixes River, which will probably result in litigation.

Hillis Short has purchased the Albrecht property on the saw-dust. He has had the house raised five feet and moved, and is filling in the lot above the level of the surrounding lots. It is evident that Hillis is preparing for something.

After many vicissitudes, the Popular Restaurant seems to have fallen into the hands of a party who will place it upon a more substantial basis. Gilbert Trott, an experienced restaurant man, late of Boston, is now proprietor, and is taking hold of the proposition in a business-like manner. He will have the stand over-hauled and painted and fitted up as a first-class restaurant.

That Premium List

The MAIL printed the only complete copy of the premium list of the late fair sent down by the Roseburg officials. That there were errors and omissions even in that is apparent from the fact that Capt. C. E. Edwards has received a warrant for an exhibit in the vegetable department, while his name does not appear in the premium list as it was sent to us.

silver pie knife, Mr and Mrs C W Peterson, Mr and Mrs German, Mr and Mrs Cole water sets, Mrs John Bear, vase, Jack McCool, card receiver, J H Milner, China pie plates, Miss Nellie Norton, cups and saucers, Mrs C A Woodward, glassware, Mr and Mrs J Barrie, China pie plates, Chas Stauff, toilet soap, Miss Pearl Heiser, par-lamp, Mr and Mrs J T Coleman, vases, Mrs Josie Cowan, celery dish, Mrs A Abbott, napkins, Mrs Irvine, hand-painted pin cushion, Mr and Mrs V O Pratt, silver gray bottle, Miss Edna Ross, celery dish, Misses Saille and Ida Hall, sauce dishes, Miss Bessie Richard, handpainted China sugar bowl and cream pitcher, Mr and Mrs Geo Ayer, two pair vases, Mrs Alice Grimes, Chas Whitted, Chas Arnold.

At the residence of the bride in this city Monday evening, C. F. Dungan and Mrs. Ada Eganhoff were joined in matrimony by Rev. Wm. Horsfall. Both parties have hosts of friends to wish them happiness. Mrs. Dungan, when a girl, learned to set type in the office of this paper, being the first young lady to tackle the art preservative on the Bay, and the Mail wishes to join in best wishes.

Renben Brainard and Miss Lillie Carlisle were married at the residence of G. A. Bennett on Wednesday evening, Rev. R. C. Lee performing the ceremony. The groom is a native son of Coos county and is an energetic young man. The bride has lived in Marshfield several years and is highly esteemed by those who know her.

Invitations have been out this week for the wedding of Emil Nelson and Mrs. Waybright, which takes place this evening at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Olsen, on Haynes slough.

There are at least two more weddings on the program for next week and others looming in the future.

BUNDS-SOFTENERS.

(From our Doris correspondent.)

At 10 o'clock Tuesday Nov. 5th, 1901, Miss Clara Ahelle Seefeldt was married to S. C. Bunch, the wedding occurring at the home of the bride's parents, at Doris. Rev. P. E. Seefeldt being the officiating clergyman. The wedding was strictly private, there being only the immediate relatives present. The bride was gowned in white tulle lace, the groom wearing the conventional black. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was served. The bride is an estimable young lady and has a host of friends. The groom is a well known young man of sterling qualities. May every day of their lives be as sunny as was the day in which their lives were united is the wish of the writer. A number of the boys came with their tin cans, bells, but they must have got pretty tired waiting before they had a chance to use them. How is it boys?

Reported Dead

A report reached here this week that Frank Fisher, died at a Portland hospital, where he and his wife, formerly Miss Eulalie Tyrrell, of this place were both under treatment. Mrs. Geo. Bolster, mother of Mrs. Fisher, went to Portland on the last Alliance.

Ladies wanting first class work in the Dress-making line will do well to call at the dress-making parlors recently opened by Mrs. Masters and Miss Wilson.

Little Hero

The Florence West tells how Morris, the 8-year old son of John C. Beck, plunged into the water and rescued his 6-year old sister who had fallen in while fishing. The water was six feet deep, but the boy dove and brought up his sister and lauded her after a hard struggle.

Following is a list of those invited and the presents received with their donors:

L. H. Christensen, silver castor, Mrs C H Merchant, silver butter dish, Mr and Mrs D F Dean, silver butter knife and sugar shell, Mrs McDonald, silver butter dish, Mrs L G Land, silver pickle castor, Miss Lillie Merchant, Rest and Comfort.

These substantial mattresses are deep inviters. They are comfortable and will retain their "springiness" for years. Made in two pieces or all in one piece. These buck mattresses, with cotton fill are equal to all-hair and cost a great deal less money.

Y. M. C. A. READING ROOM CLOSED AGAIN

The doors of the Y. M. C. A. reading room were again closed Tuesday morning, it being found that the institution was not self-supporting, even on the scale of reduced expenses. The ladies, however, have taken hold of the matter again with the intention of making some arrangements whereby the association's career of usefulness may not be curtailed, and it is to be hoped that they will succeed. A meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary at the association rooms Friday afternoon and a committee was appointed to canvass the situation and see what can be done.

Chapter of Accidents

Fuller Sprague of Haynes slough is suffering from blood poisoning, caused by cutting a slice off his hand while cleaning salmon. The hand and arm are considerably swollen.

At a practice game of football last Sunday C. A. McKnight had his ankle sprained so that he now goes on crutches, and Archie Kruse sustained a fracture of the left wrist, which he now carries in a sling.

While W. Wilkinson was riding down from Libby Saturday night his horse blundered out of the road, falling and bruising his rider considerably.

Pleasant Social

The ladies of the Degree of Honor gave an informal whist party at their hall Tuesday evening, which was enjoyed by a goodly number. Prizes were given and refreshments served. Some of the younger members enjoyed a short season of dancing. The evening was one of the usual social privileges enjoyed by the members and invited guests of this popular lodge, and the ladies of the D. of H. are justly noted as among Marshfield's best entertainers. The young people of this city by belonging to this popular order, can enjoy some rare social privilege and should lose no time in handing in their names.

Business Change

Fred Nelson has bought his partners' interest in the Coos Bay Iron works, and is now the whole thing. Mr. Klahn retires from the works, and Nelson is acting as patternmaker until he completes other arrangements. Mr. Hufschmidt stays with the works as foundryman. It is to be hoped that nothing will again interfere with the continuous operation of the iron works, as they have already proved themselves a great convenience for this section.

Another item crowded out last week was a note of the fact that the boys in their Halloween pranks displayed more than usual moderation, and while they had lots of fun no malicious damage has been reported. The COAST MAIL man hasn't found his buggy yet, but thinks it is safe somewhere.

Bicycle Recovered

J. W. Tibbetts, bicycle, which was stolen some time ago, was found last week near the rail road and about a mile from town. A tag directed its return to the owner. The thief is known. He is an incorrigible, about 17 years of age. His mother is a widow in poor circumstances and Mr. Tibbetts will probably refrain from prosecuting. The discovery of the party who stole Tibbetts' bicycle led to the recovery of another, bicycle belonging to Mr. C. A. Painter which had been sequestered by the same thief several weeks ago. Marshall Carter went down to Empire where the family resides and found the wheel concealed in the barn. It seems that a pair of opera glasses is also likely to find its way back to the owner from the same quarter.
