

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

Tide Tables at F. P. Norton's.

F. M. Underwood has opened a pile camp near Allegany.

Any one wanting pure A No. 1 Leaf Lard from strictly corn-fed hogs can find it on sale at the Marshfield Cash Meat Market.

Miss Mand Coke, who has been quite ill recently, is recovering rapidly and will soon be able to see her friends again.

The children of Wm. Bremer, who have recently been undergoing a siege of the measles are still quite sick, one of them having taken a backset.

Chas. George has got his boat back which was stolen some time ago. It was found adrift near Bay City. The chain and lock, however, are missing and Mr. George is still expecting a call for the key.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES color more goods per package than any other. Sold by John Preuss, 10 c. per package.

The Daily Coast Mail, Marshfield, Oregon, is a lively reflection of Coos County life. The Mail is an interesting publication, and should be heartily supported at home.—Portland Evening Journal.

Nothing better than Red Cross Expectorant for that troublesome cough; try it.

At the primaries held at Port Orford last Saturday, the voters expressed their choice of candidates to be placed on the ticket. R. D. Hume was the choice for Joint Representative.

Vaccine for sale at the Red Cross drug store. Mail orders promptly filled.

Our informant as to Coquille City delegates elected Wednesday was two shy, omitting the names of Frank Thompson and B. R. Banning.

The body of Gus Berg will be exhumed, and Dr. Caldwell will make an attempt to extract the bullets that are supposed to be still remaining in the body. Sheriff Walker will accompany Dr. Caldwell down to the Berg cabin next Wednesday, and will be present when the body is examined.—Port Orford Tribune.

The A N W held one of their banner meetings Thursday afternoon at the residence of J. T. McCormac the guests of Miss McCormac who expects soon to depart for a lengthy visit to Astoria, Portland and Salem, the large attendance was evidence of the regard in which she is held by the members of the club. These meetings are growing in interest and proving to be an event which is looked forward to from week to week with pleasure. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. R. Smith.

The best male vocalists on the Bay are announced to appear at the minstrel entertainment April 5th.

It is said that the name of J. B. Suedden will come before the Republican county convention for the office of assessor.

The little daily is gradually filling up with good paying ads. When this process has reached a certain point the paper will be enlarged.

John Pierce returned yesterday from a cruise in the woods. He says that there is a surprising amount of locating of timber going on.

It is reported that Wm Howell of Coquille, has sold a raft of cedar logs to A. Pershbaker at $11 a thousand. The logs were put in at Fat Elk, and are of superior quality.

John Curen, of Coquille, informs a MAIL representative that he will be in the race for the Republican nomination for sheriff, if Gallier can not secure it.

J. J. Lamb has said to a MAIL reporter that he is not a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the judgeship, and would decline if nominated.

J. D. Laird, of Brewster Valley, telegraph lineman, was in town last night, having come down to find the trouble which has been knocking the daily out of its dispatches. He found nothing wrong with the line, which came all right ahead of him.

During the high tides of the past few weeks, the railroad culvert leading from Wall's place to Isthmus slough was washed out making a bad trap for the cars. The section men were repairing the culvert Friday and the train managed to get over by slowing down.

J. W. Hoskins and Jim Edleman have commenced to take up the piping and machinery in the old Klondike coal mine and will move the same to Maxwell's mine on Isthmus slough.

Delegates

In the list given of delegates to the Republican convention elected at Myrtle Point, the name of G. M. Short was omitted.

J. B. Crooks and Jos. Davis are delegates from Lake precinct.

Roy Twombly left for Marshfield on Wednesday's train. He had been at Bandon hustling for the little daily (the Coast Mail) and reports splendid success. The Mail is setting a good pace for a new daily in a sparsely inhabited district, and if energy will succeed its success is assured.—Coquille Bulletin.

Archie Kruse will ship about 200 cases of canned clams to San Francisco on the next steamer. The excellent quality of this Coos Bay product is fast becoming known in the market and are already known as an article that has no superior and few equals. The cannery is now employing about a dozen men.

Coquille correspondent: A. B. Carey has been in Coquille City and vicinity for a week last past. He leaves for his home in Curry today. He purchased some horses and logging trucks which he will use in his logging business. Mr. Carey expresses himself as having a good social time as well as a successful business trip. Also he traded for a fine bear dog, which he will take to his ranch. He says bears are very plentiful in Curry.

Robert Ahl, the practical tin, granite ware and umbrella repairer has just finished his tour of the Coquille river and will soon be over to call on the residents of Marshfield soliciting orders in his line d&w2

Tenmile Items

Alex Reason has gone to Schofield. Peter Robertson had business on the Bay Tuesday.

John Monson returned home Wednesday after a visit in Mild. Dave Roberts the Road Supervisor is repairing the county trail in the Big Creek country.

B. E. Adams & Sons are hauling potatoes to be shipped to the San Francisco Market.

Stephen F. Johnson has been sick for several days suffering with La Grippe.

W. F. Bowron had business on the Bay this week.

The Marshfield and Gardiner Mail was delayed nearly two hours on Thursday owing to a large tree that had fallen into the road.

The family of Gust Carlson is on the sick list.

The Little Girl and the Match

R. C. Amstien's residence near the school building had a close call a few days ago. Mr. Amstien's little girl had found some matches on the floor, and going outside, she lighted one and dropped it into a box of paper and excelsior which sat under the house. The result so far exceeded her expectations that she ran in the house and kept still for fear of the consequences. Fortunately L. W. Mauzey, who lives near, saw the blaze leaping up several feet, and running over, he dragged the box out from under the house, and a few buckets of water put an end to the incipient conflagration.

Up-To-Date Arrivals

Shoes, Underwear, Dress Goods, Fancies, Notions, Gents' Furnishings, Hats, Caps and Clothing. 3 3

Everything will be ready for the Spring and long before you want to wear it—Leave your purchases till you see the latest novelties. $ $ $

GEORGE & TIBBETTS

Odd Fellows' Bldg., Marshfield

The Second Southern District Agricultural Association, we are informed, are making preparations to hold a fair at Roseburg this fall. It is stated by some of those who took premiums at the last fair that they have not yet received their premium money.

Dave Holden has been putting in some of his idle time towing out snags on Isthmus Slough. If more of the launch owners would follow this practice there would be much good done.

A. D. Wolcott is talked of on the street as a possible candidate for County Clerk on the Republican ticket.

DIED

HINCH—In Marshfield, Or. Mar. 18, 1901, Alonzo Hinch, aged 18 years, of consumption. The funeral took place yesterday and the body was laid to rest in the family burying ground on South slough.

Allegany Items

The farmers are fixing to make gardens. Wm Bramer's little boy is very sick at this writing.

Billie Gage is among his old neighbors again. He came up last week and is helping to clear a piece of land for early planting.

J. C. Robinson's logging camp has shut after putting in the water several hundred logs.

It is reported that work will commence on the Allegany-Elkton road by the middle of April.

There were cattle buyers in from Douglas county and they bought several head from Mr. Thomas that were in fine condition.

There are nine cases of "smallpox" at Leon Lake, but at last reports they were getting along nicely.

The latest on the river is a stroll on a dark night by the glimmer of a lantern.

A new boiler for the Lake creamery arrived on the Aranta and lies at North Bend.

The Alliance sailed yesterday morning at 6:30 a. m. and expects to leave San Francisco again next Sunday.

Posters are out for a dance at North Bend next Saturday evening, the proceeds to go to the public school at that place. This is a worthy object and the dance ought to be well attended.

F. J. Ward was down from Maxwell, Wednesday. He is in receipt of an extensive line of postoffice supplies and will be ready to open the office of which he is postmaster, in a few days.

The tug Hunter was down from Gardiner Wednesday, bringing some freight to go north on the Alliance. She is none the worse for her experience on the Umpqua bar a few days ago when she struck on the spit and was thrown on her beam ends and things looked decidedly squally for a short time.

A large lot of plank for the Fourth street bridge are on the ground and that highway will soon be put in good condition.

A. Markievitch is having a new foundation built under his building on Front street.

A carload of stall fed beef cattle was received at the Marshfield Cash Meat Market yesterday. They came from Messrs. Garrett and Radabaugh of Myrtle Point.