GOVERNOR GEER'S DEFEAT

Governor Geer's decisive defeat for renomination is a great disappointment to a large majority of the people of Coos county. Geer is personally popular in this section, aside from the fact that we had hoped to see his clean and business-like administration endorsed by the Republican party of the state.

It is one of the stumbling blocks in the way of good government, that the official who desires to stay in public life is almost obliged to devote his energies while in office to the building up of a machine, rather than to giving the best possible service to the people. Had Governor Geer used the patronage and influence of his office with the sole object of securing his own renomination it is likely that he would have carried his point, and the people would have paid the freight.

So far as is known here, W. J. Furnish, the candidate selected is well qualified to fill the office. He is a banker of Pendleton and it is understood that he is well provided with the sinews of war for the campaign. He was a Democrat until 1895, when he left his party on the silver issue.

It is said that Governor Geer will now turn his attention to the United States senatorship. It may be that history will repeat itself in his case. It will be remembered that his being turned down in his application for the collectorship at Portland had the effect of landing him in the State House. If his present defeat should result in giving him the senatorship he will have no cause for regret.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

The ticket nominated by the Democratic convention on Wednesday is composed of gentlemen of good character and clean records, so far as the MAIL is informed. It seems as though the campaign, so far as county officers are concerned at least, might be conducted without any mudslinging or personal abuse. Coos county campaigns have, in fact, been usually free from the objectionable features which prevail in some localities.

The Democrats seem to have hopes of electing several of their candidates, and it is a satisfaction to know that if they are partially successful it will not be a cause for intense alarm on the part of the taxpayers.

While, as a general proposition, partisan politics should not count much figure in county affairs, yet it seems that in this case there will be little excuse for scratching which means that the Democrats will be severely disappointed when the votes are counted.

If the Boers had been able to confine in a prison camp all the British soldiers they have captured during the last year the spectacle would be an unpleasant one for British pride.

Canada's military establishment, consisting of less than 40,000 men, all told, will be increased to 150,000 if the British idea of colonial defense prevails. But the dominion as yet has not warmed to the expansive idea.

Reflections of a Bachelor

The poor man saves what the rich man squanders.

A woman who hasn't got a family doctor never feels that her social position is secure.

In modern households doctors are luxuries, dressmakers necessities.

The man who saves money began yesterday; the man who doesn't is going to begin tomorrow.

Speculating in Wall Street is easier than gambling with matrimony, but it isn't any more profitable.

You can get interested in some people without caring for them the way you can get interested in a mustard plaster without liking it.

The last argument of a woman is suddenly to veer around and take your side of it, declaring you have come around to her side.

The man who always seems to be more hard up than the one who is trying to borrow money is the one he tries to borrow it from.

After a woman has been in love ten or fifteen times she wants to knock off spooning the way a workman does work when the whistle blows.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:
Baltimore, Md., March 10, 1902.
I have been entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment. I had not heard in 10 years and my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until that my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, several of the best of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialists of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the best result would be to have the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the ringing ceased, and today, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. This is a happy and long day for me.
Very truly yours,
