The Same Old Story.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entire satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by—John Preuss.

A party consisting of W. S. Chandler, John S. Coke, Otto Schetter, Fred. T. Thos. Coker and A. Abbott started Saturday for an outing trip of several weeks. If they knew exactly where they were going, they wouldn't tell, but they went first to Myrtle Point and from there towards the Sixes country, and it is reported that they will penetrate the mountains as far as pack horses can travel. They had ten pack horses along to carry their outfit, which include a good many things not always taken on an outing trip. For instance four new Ping Pong sets, were noticed in the lot, and it is said that one horse will be packed with cigars for Otto. That they will have a good time goes without saying.

"The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear." That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturers has been fully up to the high standard of excellence claimed for it. People have found that it can always be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by John Preuss.

Old Boreas was on a tear here Monday and shook things up in quite a lively fashion for several hours. Though no serious damage has been reported, some flag-poles and things that were not securely fastened were torn loose. The shed recently constructed for a gasoline house at the Standard Oil warehouse was swept overboard. The telegraph and telephone lines also suffered.

Later, the marine reporter says that a hot right; Boreas is the north wind, and this wind was right out of the south. But this was Boreas coming back.

DRAIN ROUTE FOR RAILROAD

The Oregonian has This Regarding the Proposed New Railroad

The Great Central railroad board held a meeting in Portland, and gave orders for the construction of a $10,000 wharf at Coos Bay and a mile of railroad leading from the wharf. This is regarded as preliminary to the main construction work that is expected to be ready by the time the work already authorized shall be completed.

A significant thing is the purchase by the Great Central Company of the map and profile of the Umpqua River Railroad company, a local concern that was organized to build a road between Drain and Scottsburg. To traverse that route between Salt Lake City and Coos Bay would be going out of the way about 40 miles farther than to go by way of Roseburg, necessitating the building of some 80 miles of additional railroad. But, inasmuch as it is the declared purpose of the company to build into Portland, as well as to Coos Bay, and inasmuch as the Portland traffic would inevitably be larger than the Coos Bay traffic, it is deemed entirely probable that the company would not regard the extra distance to Coos Bay by way of Drain when it is considered that the route to Portland would be shortened by just that much. It is also represented that timber owners in that region are willing to make considerable contracts for traffic with the new railroad. This, of course, is on the assumption that the line will give an outlet into Salt Lake.

The presence of R. A. Booth, the manager of the Booth-Kelly Company, in the city for a few days past gives strength to the report that his company is negotiating for accommodations on the projected railroad, and the purchase of the maps and profile of the Drain Company is regarded as another strong indication that the Drain route will be chosen.

Bright's Disease
The largest sum ever paid for a prescription, changed hands at San Francisco, Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases. They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians for judges. Up to August 24, eighty seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably. There being only thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address John J.
