Another Fake?

A woman has been working the town for several days with a hardluck story. She has been trying to raise money to go to her husband, and has been reluctantly parting with keepsakes and heirlooms brought from her old home in Scotland. For six dollars she sold to one lady a set of silver teaspoons and table spoons, a wedding present from her dear old father, and worth $25. It is said that she has made several other sales, but those who bought are reluctant to display the articles, since they came to think the thing over.

Bishop Wells of the diocese of Spokane, who was here in place of Bishop Morris, of Portland, held services at Empire and Marshfield Sunday. At Marshfield he confirmed the following: Kathleen Bennett, Elizabeth F. Twombly, Hattie Ferrey and Mary Minot. The Bishop will leave this morning for the Coquille and visit Bandon this week and preach at Coquille City next Sunday and expects next Monday to proceed to Roseburg.

Is. Lando has accepted a position in the merchandise department of H. Sengstacken's store.

Bishop H. L. Barkley, of the U. B. church was in Marshfield Tuesday coming overland via the old Coos Bay wagon road. Mr. Barkley made the Coast Mail office a pleasant call. It is a pleasure to meet a whole-souled, conscientious gentleman. Mr. Barkley is visiting Coos and Curry counties in the interest of his church, this being part of the territory over which he presides, which includes the three Pacific states, and Idaho and Montana. He went up Coos river Tuesday to take part in the camp meeting at Mosher chapel. Bishop Barkley is a forcible and eloquent speaker and is well worth going a long distance to hear.

A. J. Cottingham went to Washington County, Ark., to see his sister and while there was taken with flux (dysentery) and was very bad off. He decided to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was much pleased with the prompt cure which it effected, that he wrote the manufacturers a letter in praise of their medicine. Mr. Cottingham resides at Lockland, Ark. This Remedy is for sale by John Preuss.

C. S. Whitcomb, of the Great Central Land Co. arrived Monday from Portland to take a position in the office of the company at Empire city, assisting President J. W. Cook, with whom he was formerly associated in Los Angeles.
