HIGGINSON MANOEUVERS

HIS FLEET CLEVERLY

Port Trumbull, Sept. 5.—At seven this morning Commander Higginson's fleet returned to Block Island. The manouvers were exceptionally clever and the general opinion prevails among experts that while the vessels employed in last night's midnight attack on Fort Wright may have been put out of action, it has been demonstrated that an enemy with a sufficient fleet could force the approaches to Long Island Sound and make a disastrous dash on New York.

TO BE EVACUATED

GRAND BALL IN HONOR OF

THE MISSES SHERIDAN

The most brilliant social event of the summer was the ball given by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Flanagan, at their cozy home on A street, Thursday evening, in honor of their nieces, the Misses Minnie and Grace Sheridan, of Roseburg, who are spending the summer on the Bay.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in huckleberry and Oregon grape and abundance of fragrant cut flowers were banked in profusion on the mantles. The spacious hall and stairway was a bower of beauty.

A large canvas pavilion lighted by electricity and beautifully carpeted was erected on the lawn, where the most luscious refreshments were served. The table decorations were of Sweet Peas, which mingled with fine China and sparkling cut glass was most beautiful and pleasing to those present. The electric effect under canvas was out of the ordinary and very pleasing.

Stauff's orchestra furnished most excellent music for those who indulged in the mazy dance. The beautiful costumes of the ladies added much to the brilliancy of the affair. The time passed all too swiftly and the guests were loth to bid adieu to the royal entertainers.

Those receiving invitations were:

Messrs. and Mesdames. J. H. Taylor, Byler, Rennie, Turpen, L. J. Simpson, Cursons, Dr. J. T. McCormac, Luse, J. A. Matson, E. O'Connell, H. Lockhart, W. T. Merchant, E. E. Mingus, J. H. Flanagan, T.
