

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Wednesday's Daily.

Buy your shoes at Peter Clausen's.

Fine Stationery at Norton's.

Bay city mill is shut down for repairs.

J. C. Pierce went up Coos river Tuesday on a timber cruise.

J. W. Flanagan returned yesterday from a trip to Portland.

H. Sengstacken has had three enclosed arc lamps put in his double store.

Fred Lilenthal has moved into the Bowron house just completed, near the depot.

New boilers have been ordered for the Bay City mill. They are expected here by Dec. 15th.

Albert Bettys and Fred Mast were down Tuesday from Yeakam's camp on the Isthmus.

T. J. Parsons, president and general manager of the Del Monte Milling Co. is in Marshfield.

John Pruess, proprietor of the Red Cross drug store, is again on duty after a trip to San Francisco.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES are fast to sunlight, washing and rubbing. Sold by John Pruess 10c. per package.

Jim Hutcheson got back yesterday from Portland, where he attended the Grand Lodge, K. of P. as a delegate from Myrtle Lodge.

Fred Wilson was down from Sumner yesterday. He reports potato digging under way in that vicinity, but the crop not up to the average in yield.

Otto Schetter was washing the windows of the W. U. telegraph office yesterday, and R. Walters was at work again, too, trimming at his hedge.

The wooden awning on the front of the Holland building, occupied by F. P. Norton and Murphy and Kruse has been torn away and will not be replaced.

Departures by Arcata South Oct. 21—Mrs. Dunham, H. Howard, J. Rosse, Miss Clara Davis, H. Weider, Lideck, wife and 4 children, J. Rugen, B. H. Henderson, R. Rogers, H. Matfieldt, 3 in the stateroom.

J. A. O. Kelly and wife arrived on the Arcata to make their home in Marshfield, and have moved into the Erickson house in South Marshfield, just vacated by Mr. Jacobs. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly have just returned from the wilds of Alaska.

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to John Pruess drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One or two doses will make you well. They also cure biliousness, sick-headach and constipation.

Too many words spoil the ad. A little white space in an ad. makes it stand out prominently on the printed page, but with some ads. more white space the better for the advertiser, as then there is less chance for him to prove his foolishness by his words.

Best line of school shoes at Peter Clausen's.

Mrs. C. A. Metlin who, with Mr. Metlin attended the district fair at Roseburg, took eleven premiums on embroidery and needlework, nine of these being firsts, including first premium on a tea cloth, as the best piece of embroidery on exhibition.

W. S. Chandler and Mr. Breschke, of the Coos Bay Mill & Lumber Co., visited Cedar Point yesterday to look over the situation and the booming and loading facilities for the handling of sawlogs, the mill company having contracted for some 5,000,000 feet of logs on the Coquille.

S. A. D. Eaton, late of Chehalis Wash., has located at Empire where he will practice his profession of attorney at law. Mr. Eaton came to this coast from Arkansas, where he stood well up in his profession, finding a change of climate necessary to his health. Chehalis did not agree with him, so he has decided to try the balmy breezes of the Pacific at first hand. He holds high recommendations from the legal and judicial fraternity of Arkansas, and will doubtless meet with success here.

Mrs. Chas. Hendrickson Insane

Word was received here yesterday that the wife of Chas. Hendrickson, of North Bend had become insane. The unfortunate lady was to have been brought up to Marshfield last evening for examination, but difficulty was encountered in getting her upon a boat, and the matter was postponed until today. Sheriff Steve Gallier came over on yesterday's train and will take Mrs. Henderson to Coquille en route for Salem after the legal formalities have been complied with. Mrs. Elrod will assist in taking her to Salem.

Returned from Road Convention

S. B. Cathcart has returned from the Good Roads convention which was held in Portland last week. Mr. Cathcart went because he was deeply interested in the study of road building. He went to seek more knowledge and feels well repaid for his visit. He says the good roads convention was not all a bag of wind, but made up of men who were practical road builders. The convention will do much good in promoting legislation that will give the future generations of Oregon passable high-ways. He says some people call him somewhat of a road crank and he is proud of the distinction.

From Thursday's Daily.

Painting commenced yesterday on the new schooner in the shipyard.

The schooner Jennie Thelin arrived Wednesday and docked at Dean & Co's. wharf.

V. O. Pratt has lumber on the ground for the new house he is about to put up, back of the steam laundry.

The steamer Flyer towed a scowload of lumber up Coos river, from the North Bend mill Wednesday.

The carpenters are tearing away the projecting eaves on the gable end of the Golden building to modernize the front thereof.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sunderland returned Wednesday from a few days' visit with friends on the Coquille.

G. S. Davis, proprietor of the Norway creamery, came over on Wednesday's train, on a business trip.

Chas. Kronholm is at home again, after spending the summer on the U. S. geodetic survey in Alaska.

Miss Mae McIntosh, of Coos river returned home yesterday, after staying all night, with friends in town.

Robt. Marsden has bought two corner lots in Yarrow, with the object of securing a location from which to dispense his products when Yarrow has grown sufficiently.

John C. Frye, of McKinley was in town last night. He reports much logging going on there this season, and that about 3,000 logs will come out of Middle creek this season.

Dr. McCormac has presented a full set, 28 volumes, of the Encyclopedia Britannica to the school library. There are doubtless others who could follow his good example to the advantage of the library.

The ladies of the Degree of Honor entertained some invited guests very pleasantly after lodge Tuesday evening. Games, refreshments and general sociability marked the event, which was greatly enjoyed by those present.

One ad. doesn't make a business, any more than one swallow makes a summer. It requires many and—all good ones—to build up any kind of a retail business nowadays. One step won't take you very far, you've got to keep on going. Ads. ditto.

E. A. Eickworth received a letter Tuesday from his son August, who is now working in a printing office in Cambridge, Mass. He expresses himself as well pleased with his surroundings, but says the weather is getting cold. He will probably be longing for some of the Coos Bay winter climate pretty soon.

Miss Rubie Grills, who went to San Francisco recently, writes her mother, Mrs. Murphy, that she arrived safely and had a very happy meeting with the family of her mother's brother, Mr. Mack. She will spend some time visiting her mother's relatives, who are among the early settlers of San Francisco.

(Coquille Herald)

George W. Majory, of Bandon, was fatally injured by a falling limb Saturday afternoon while working in the logging camp of J. T. Jenkin's, which is located near Prosper. The deceased was acting as hook-tender and had just hooked the team to a long log which swung around when the team started it, striking a dead tree near by from which the jar brought down a limb which struck Mr. Majory on the head, causing concussion of the brain. He never recovered consciousness and passed away the following morning at 2 o'clock.

GROSSMANN'S PATENT WRITING RING

The most important improvement of the age in the art of penmanship makes the poorest writer a splendid penman in a few weeks by the use of this ring. Endorsed by prominent College Presidents and Boards of Education in Europe and America. Sample dozen assorted sizes sent post paid for $1.00, single sample 25c. When ordering a single ring, state whether for man, woman or child.

PENN MFG. SUPPLY CO.

No. 119 S. Fourth St., Philadelphia

Boat Stolen,

Peter Scott's fishing boat and net were taken from his landing place near the coal bunker yesterday morning about six o'clock, and Mr. Scott is anxious to get some trace of the thief.

The Goat Returns

That Goat Coat of George's, which disappeared Monday evening from in front of his store, suddenly put in an appearance again last evening being discovered hanging up in front of Magnus & Matson's. When the COAST MAIL man came along Mr. Matson was considering offering a prize to any one who would guess who put it there.

New Vessel at Prosper

Major Tower passed through town to Empire Wednesday on his way home from the Coquille, where he measured the new steamer which is approaching completion at Prosper. The dimensions of the boat are, length 160 ft 9 in, Beam 34 ft 5 in, Depth 11 ft 6 in. She is built by Geo. B. Ross, of San Francisco, and her master will be C. G. Peterson. She will be launched in about ten days, and the intention is to tow her to San Francisco, to receive her masts and machinery there.

Looking After Coos Business

Adam Wilhelm, Jr. of the firm of Wilhelm & Sons, Flouringmill operators, who have mills at Junction City, Lane county, and one at Monroe and another at Harrisburg Linn county is in town in the interest of the firm of A. Wilhelm & Sons. Adam Wilhelm is superintendent of the Junction mill.

Coos county is a good market for flour as there are no bread stuffs grown here, and wideawake mill men are seeking our trade which is now practically in the hands of California people.

Bird McCulloch brought in a scowload of hay from his place on Haynes slough yesterday.

An Enterprising Man.

J. R. Robertson of Long Beach, California, who has located at North Bend was in town today. Mr. Robertson is an old seafaring man and has extensive property interests in California but is residing here at Coos Bay now. He seems pleased with this locality and thinks the climate here will much benefit his health. He has invested some in property at North Bend and Yarrow, and is much pleased with the prospect. He says that he cannot see why things have been held back here as they have, with our resources. This is the case, but an era of advancement has begun before which all the conservative element must give way or be left in the rear. North Bend and Yarrow are bound to be in it some day and Mr. Robertson has placed himself in a position not to be entirely left when that time comes.

Mr. Roberts has invested in Coos county to the extent of about $5,000. and will reside here and invest more as time passes.

BORN

MCCRACKEN—At Eastport, Or., Oct. 20, 1902, to the wife of — McCracken, a daughter.

ENEGREN—On Coos river, Or., Oct. 20, 1902, to the wife of Chas. Enegren, a daughter.

BONEBRAKE—On Ross slough, Oregon, Oct. 24, 1902, to the wife of C. L. Bonebrake, a son.

From Friday's Daily.

The Alliance was to sail for this port last evening.

Matt Matson was down from his Catching slough farm Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeland's baby is down with pneumonia, at North Bend.

S. McDonald, who has been suffering for some time from typhoid fever, is getting better.

The barometers in town were down to 29.60 and falling yesterday afternoon, and if we don't catch it somebody will.

Dean & Co's. mill started yesterday after several days shut-down to patch the boilers and make other repairs.

Geo. Beale leaves this morning for Fairview, where he will meet his brother-in-law, Ed Labrie, who is bringing in a band of Angora goats for Mr. Beale.

Capt. Harris, of Sumner, has been in the Tenmile country this week plotting his brother-in-law S. J. Defreese, of California, who is visiting him and looking over the country.

Is. and Sam'l Lando are back from San Francisco where they were in attendance at the deathbed of their father, Joseph Lando. They came overland via Myrtle Point.

The A. N. W. club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Is Lando. The club were royally entertained. The club meets at the home of Mrs. John Bear on next Thursday.

Four thousand dollars has been subscribed by Grants Pass citizens for the terminal grounds to the Oregon and Pacific railroad, the final survey which has just been completed from there to Crescent City.

The excommunicated dentist firm in Portland, who were expelled from practice on account of advertising now operate eleven chairs. Professional ethics and advertising don't mix very well.

Hattie Ferrey the young daughter of our townsman James Ferrey has on exhibition in the show window at George's drygood store. It is a bouquet of crystal tissue flowers. This piece of work shows great skill and much artistic taste. Take a look at it. It is not a daisy.

Club Meeting.

The Shakespear club met with Miss Mamie Mahoney Wednesday evening in regular weekly session and the evening was devoted to the second act of King Lear. A feature of the evening was the regular monthly feed. Part of the business transacted was the passing of a resolution limiting the membership of the club to 25. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Aiken.

Dr. Horsfall, assisted by Drs. Gross and Toye, performed a second operation yesterday on Ranson D. Hall. He had been getting along nicely since the recent operation for appendicitis until the last few days, when it became apparent that a second operation would be necessary. His physician expects the case to progress favorably now.