NEW TERMINAL GROUNDS FOR THE RAILROAD

Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern May Improve Old Mill Site By Erection of Depot

The announcement is made, and is verified by Manager Chandler, that Spreckels Bros. have in view the purchase of the property on which the old Dean & Co. mill stands and the erection thereon of a new wharf, depot, warehouses etc., making that the terminus of the road. It is proposed to make improvements costing about $65,000, exclusive of the cost of the ground, and the residents of Marshfield will be asked to raise a bonus of about $5,000.

The site proposed would be an excellent location for the depot and warehouses of the railroad. It is the best piece of available waterfront in the town, without going some distance down the bay, and the acquisition of this piece of property would put the Spreckels road in possession of a fine frontage on the harbor.

It would also be much more convenient for the town if the depot and warehouse were brought down to the proposed location, and the improvement of this piece of property would greatly improve the appearance of the water front.

FOUND NO UNLAWFUL

SLAUGHTER OF DEER

(Portland Telegram)

Game Warden Quimby returned yesterday from an extended trip through the mountains of Douglas and Coos counties. He had heard of parties killing deer for the hides, contrary to law, in the Coast Range, adjacent to Camas Valley, but after rigid investigation could find no traces of such proceedings, and he thinks the practice has been done away with since the man Olsen, who was the head of a deer-slaying gang two years ago, was fined $300 for violating the law in that respect. Three of Olsen's confederates were fined $100 each, and Olsen has since gone to British Columbia.

Mr. Quimby says the mountains are full of deer in Douglas and Coos counties, but that large numbers are being slain by hunters who use the meat. The woods are full of timber cruisers locating settlers on claims at $100 a settler and these men killed a great number of deer. He found two carcasses of deer that had been slain just for their hind quarters, which had been removed and the rest of the meat left to rot on the hillside. There is no law against such waste, he says, but the practice is one that should be condemned.

Good One on Bryan.

A circular was recently sent out from the office of the Commoner which read as follows:

"It is my intention to discuss through the Commoner, from a Democratic standpoint, all question of public importance, and to use the Democratic party for mercenary purposes."

It is said that when Mr. Bryan read the foregoing, he, being orthodox and in good standing, and not permitted to swear, looked anxiously about him, eager to find some lay member who might, approximately, do the subject justice. What he wrote, or what he thought he wrote, was the subjoined:

"It is my intention to discuss through the Commoner, from a Democratic standpoint, all questions of importance, and to use the paper's influence to thwart the plans of those who would use the Democratic party for mercenary purposes."

The trouble came from using the word use twice, the word being nearly in the same place in each line. Nine out of every ten compositors will, under such an arrangement, invariably drop a line.

STATE AND GENERAL NEWS.

Chief Justice Morse granted a certificate of probable cause in the Belding murder case. This means that Belding, who was sentenced to be hanged today will have to await the decision of the supreme court on the appeal. The granting of it means only that the record shows that some debatable question is presented for the consideration of the supreme court, and that Belding should not be executed until the decision.
