TIME TO WAKE UP.

Are Marshall business men and property owners aware that the situation in regard to that which they may never had to deal before? If not, they would better begin to do some serious thinking.

Marshakd has never had a rival. Her situtation is realiy for what they may never need to deal with. But any one who will keep his ears open will see that anotherchance is appearing into the problem-the element which brings town and cities to the front and often makes them outstrip rivals for more favored notice.

They are going to be a new town further down the bay, the first town we know, and no one need have the slightest doubt that it will be a hammer. Every one understands by this time that the western part of the town is behind the new town of North Saugus doesn't hold up by halves, and even this event the day can be seen that the new town will be the record, many factories being established there to support quite a population; and there is no doubt but an effort will be made to get a share of the country trade which now comes to Marshall.

The imposition also appears with some, that inducements will be offered to the C. R. R. E. E. B. to extend its line to the new town. In fact it seems that the modern spirit is permeating the new enterprises.

Of course the new impulse given will not hurt Marshall; that isn't the point. But this town should not be content to sit down and see its fellows in the bay, while other places are reaching out and taking the choice fruit. Nor will it do any good to set up a lawn or to try to ourover the work of others. The town must arise to the bat and take any of the more favorably situated and not a passive in the friendly race for supremacy, and try to stay up with the procession.

This is a matter which merits consider-
