

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Thursday's Daily.

F. F. Ross was a visitor in town Wednesday.

H. N. Black was down from his Catching slough ranch yesterday.

Emil Schjampf, of Astoria killed himself Monday morning by blowing out his brains with a revolver.

The Arcata sailed from San Francisco Tuesday, but the owners were evidently dreaming and forgot to send us the passenger list.

Frank Farrin, night cook at the Broiler, left Wednesday morning for a couple of weeks stay on his homestead at Tioga.

Capt. Bob Jones expects to have his dredger completed this week, and to commence operation at North Bend Monday.

We note with pleasure that Brother Dean is getting his new cylinder press broken in to that degree of effectiveness that the Herald is one of the best printed papers in the county.

The Marshfield Shakesperian society met last night with Miss E. N. Beams, at the residence of R. J. Coks. The subject studied was the last act of Hamlet.

The explosion of a Chinese bomb at the corner of Front and B streets caused some excitement for a few minutes last evening of which the young man who was responsible was, to all appearances, one of the most innocent observers.

Mrs. Susan E. Jones, Edna Tiffany and Susan Ferrell widows of the three prison guards killed by Merrill and Tracy will each receive $1000 from the state.

The friends of Mrs. E. M. Roork will be pleased to learn that she has so far recovered from her recent illness that she is able to be about, walking down town, yesterday for the first time for several months.

Rusty Mike's Diary, Feb. 19, 1903—It does not follow that a man is a successful ad writer because he has written two or three good ads, because it is the all-the-year-round boy that builds the reputation.

Coculle Herald—L. N. Barnes and Jacob Waldvogel, two enterprising citizens of Tillamook, are here looking for a location, and we think have about gotten arrangements made for a location for a packinghouse. There will be several families come in case they conclude to locate as well as another industrial enterprise or so be inaugurated. These gentlemen should receive all encouragement possible.

Another Immersionist

L. H. Heisner joined the ranks of the bather yesterday by falling off a scow into the cold, cold waters of the bay. He got out.

A Good Medium

When people have confidence in a periodical, that confidence is apt to extend to those who advertise in it. It is a good plan to advertise in a paper that is trusted by its readers.—Printers' Ink.

Travel By Sea

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 18.—Following passengers sailed on the Arcata Tuesday:—Mrs. Wm. Nasburg, Mrs. N. Dow, E. O'Connell and wife, Frank Davidson and wife, W. Riley and wife, V. Marshall and wife, Mrs. Agers and four children, Messrs. W. Graham, Thomas Guerin, C. Andrews, H. Wicks, C. Woodruff, one steerage.

A Neat Edition.

(Santa Clara Journal)

George T. Coleman, a former well known and popular resident of Santa Clara, sends us the New Year's edition of the Daily Coast Mail, published at Marshfield, Oregon. The edition represents Marshfield as a busy place.

Mr. Coleman states that he has all the work he can do and is much pleased with his prospects. He wishes the Journal to remember him to his Santa Clara friends of whom he has a multitude.

Bright Youths

In Chicago recently a young man whose heart Cupid had pierced, wanted to marry a 17-year old girl. An Illinois law provides that a girl under 18 years must, in order to wed, have the consent of her parents or guardian, and it also provides that a girl over 14 years may select her own guardian. In this case the girl's parents objected to the marriage and the young people decided not to wait a year, until the prospective bride should become of age. Accordingly they went before the court and the girl made application to have a guardian appointed. Being over 14 she was allowed to name her guardian, and she named the prospective groom, who was appointed. The groom-to-be in the capacity of guardian gave his consent to the marriage, and now the girl has a husband and guardian all in one.

From Friday's Daily.

J. D. Johnson is giving his house in South Marshfield a coat of paint.

E. H. Haskin, the Fairview farmer came to Marshfield yesterday.

S. R. Crawford, of Sumner was doing business in town yesterday.

The Alliance is due tomorrow from Eureka, and may sail for Portland the same day.

H. Lockhart returned yesterday by way of Drain from several weeks stay in San Francisco.

Theodore Swanton arrived yesterday from Ireland to join his brothers Bennett and Robert, of this place.

Dr. Haydon of Bandon who has been spending several days on the Bay expects to return today.

Geo. Beavis, of Portland, who travels for M. J. Brandenstein, arrived yesterday by way of Drain, to interview his customers.

The A. N. W. Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. L. M. Noble, and had one of the pleasantest sessions of the season.

We note that the product of the North Bend Woolen Mill is already on display in H. Bengtsson's show windows. H. S. keeps up with the times.

A. Abbott is again in the employ of the railroad, G. Leville, whose employ Mr. Abbott had entered as timber cruiser having changed his plans.

The Homer arrived from San Francisco yesterday morning and sails for that port this morning with a load of coal from the Libby mine.

Misses Ethel and Myrtle Boone, of Sumner, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Wm. Kardell, and other friends in town.

Gus Mael who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is able to return today to his home in Coquille, accompanied by Wm. Sagg, who has been nursing him.

Rusty Mike's Diary, Feb. 20, 1903—The advertisements and bits of publicity that go in the waste basket are like the proverbial clock in the insane asylum—it's not all right or it wouldn't be there.

E. Wells, who has been working for the C. B. R. & E. R. R., has accepted a position with Ed. Abernethy, as engineer of the portable sawmill which the latter is putting into operation above Myrtle Point.

Dr. A. A. Ames, the fugitive Mayor of Minneapolis, who has been arrested in New Hampshire, was the first city editor of Ben Holladay's Portland Bulletin. The paper was started in 1870 and died in 1875. Ames was brought there from San Francisco. At that time he was about 30 years of age, and remained in Portland about one year.

To Press New Laws

Attorney-General Knox will lose no time in availing himself of the new law giving anti-trust suits precedence in the Federal courts.

He will first ask to have the suit against the Northern Securities Company advanced, so that the Supreme Court may pass on constitutional questions involved at the October term.

Concerning Afternoon Teas

The afternoon tea is a favorite mode of entertaining. It is the best method of keeping in touch with one's friends, as well as to introduce a visiting friend to one's general acquaintance; and it is also the accepted fashion for the presentation of a daughter. A few special points in regard to this function are given in the March Delineator, touching upon the matter and form of invitations, the duties of hostess, assistants and guests, and minor matters.

Del Monte Warehouse Closed

The Dell Monte Milling Co. has closed its warehouse in Marshfield and discontinued its distributing depot here, finding that the volume of trade would not justify the expense. The company will be represented by a local agent and fill orders from San Francisco. P. W. Schroeder is here acting for the company in closing up the business. J. W. Flanagan, who has been acting as agent for the company, and pushing its products for all they were worth, will enter the employ of L. J. Simpson, commencing work in the North Bend store next Monday.

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP

OF MAIL CARRIER

Steve Lapp, who carries the mail on the Marshfield-Gardiner route, reported when he arrived in town last evening that an attempt had been made to hold him up.

At a point about mid way on his route a man stepped into the road a head of him, but his horse was going at a good speed and did not stop. After passing, Lapp turned and took a shot at the fellow but didn't wait to see its effect.

BANDON TO HAVE ANOTHER

MANUFACTURING BUSINESS

We are reliably informed that a new manufacturing industry is to take the place of the Bandon Woolen Mills, the same building to be utilized which the late mill occupied. The difference between the two being that the new one will employ double the number of people and the pay roll will be larger in proportion to the number of people employed. We are not at liberty to announce at present, the nature of this new industry, but are assured that it will be a great thing for Bandon. Bandon is blessed with business men who can see the necessity of a manufacturing business of some kind, and they are not slow to take time by the forelock. So the new business will be put in operation as soon as the old one is out.

Sold everywhere in cans—Standard Oil Company

BORN

OVERTON—At Marshfield, Or., Feb. 18, 1903, to the wife of C. A. Overton, a girl.

NOTICE

On the 20th of January 1903 a suit was commenced in the Circuit Court for Multnomah County by George R. Best, Daniel Best and the Ashland Lumber Company against Frank Boutin, Sr. and Frank Boutin Jr., for an accounting concerning the winding up of a partnership under the name of the Wisconsin Lumber Company at Trawanda, New York, to have the said defendants declared the trustees for the plaintiffs as their interests should appear upon the said accounting, as the partnership funds should have been proved to have been investigated in the following described property in Coos county: Sections 1, 12, 13, 14, 23 and 36 and the Northeast quarter and the East half of the Southeast quarter of section 35 township 27 South, Range 14 West of the Willamette Meridian, and also all of section 5, 6, 7, 8, and 18 in Township 27 South, Range 13 West of Willamette Meridian; and to enjoin the said defendants from conveying or encumbering all or any portion of the said property. 2-7-03 d. ft.

From Saturday's Daily.

EVERGREEN WHIST CLUB

ENTERTAIN THE GENTLEMEN

Last night the Evergreen Whist Club put on the cap sheet to a series of games, so far as enjoyable times are concerned—it shone.

This event was the regular monthly meeting, set aside to entertain the gentlemen, and it was successfully done. It took place at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Friedberg, which was an ideal one for so large a gathering. Eight tables were played and much interest taken in the game.

The prizes were taken by F. P. Norton and Dr. Straw, Mr. Norton winning first honors, and Dr. Straw took the booby.

At these games the ladies have never competed for a prize, though scoring, to count in the grand final. On this occasion, however, the gentlemen surprised their entertainers by giving a special prize to the highest and lowest. Mrs. J. R. Rochon and Mrs. C. Dungan tying in the one contest while, the gentlemen who played for the regular prizes had another tie for booby. The tie was played off by choosing partners and playing one hand. In this excitement ran high, as the gladiators entered the arena. Dr. Straw and Mrs. Dungan were pitted against Phil Wilbur and Mrs. J. R. Rochon. It was a neck and neck race when finally, the Dr. and Mrs. Dungan won out. Here Dr. Straw won the victory of his life. Winning the booby two times in one evening.

This entire party were then escorted to the attic, which had been transformed into a veritable bower by gorgeous decorations and electric effects. Here everything was a glitter with Chinese lanterns and electric lights. One long table, down the center sufficed for all. It was a grand feast of good things and all were on an equal footing and apparently there were no differences as to the lead, or what was trump, but all were leading from their longest suit, and there were a few who delt constantly. Gentlemen were trumping aces right and left and led from sneaks, or any old thing. Finally when the grand score was being summed up a speech was in order, and Dr. McCormac seemed to be the only one in the party who was not entirely used up, made some very nice remarks. Referring to the good old times etc., of twenty-five years ago or more. Right here he got his foot into it and was met with a storm from some of the younger ladies. He extricated himself however and will be able to meet with the club next month.

After luncheon all repaired to the parlor where music and singing were indulged in. The affair was a grand success and each and all lingered, loth to depart, but finally bidding the host and hostess adieu all went home with pleasant recollections of this occasion and will be only too anxious for the next encounter.

E. O. Hall and Hillis Short are tallying lumber onto the schooner Chas. E. Falk, at the railroad depot, and Roy Twombly is tallying onto the Salvalor. All these are loading from Johnson's mill, and the schooner Esther Bohne is due in a few days to load from the same mill, for San Pedro.

Friday was banner day at the school. A large number of visitors were there to enjoy the exercises. The banners were awarded to the 1st grade, Mrs. Wilbur, teacher, who was proud of the little band, while the 9th and 10th grades were awarded the upper grade banner.

Episcopal

Services at the Episcopal Church Sunday Morning and evening, conducted by Rev. Wm. Horsfall.

Young People's Meeting

Don't fail to attend the Young People's meeting tomorrow evening at the Baptist Church. Special music has been arranged for the occasion.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sabbath School at 10 a. m. This is a Bible school for old and young. The pastor Rev. F. G. Strange will preach at 11 a. m. on "A Vision of the Morning." Young peoples meeting at 6:30 p. m. Song service at 7:30 p. m., led by Mrs. Dr. Tower assisted by Miss Eckworth and Messrs Sacchi and Nichols. Anthem—"How Beautiful upon the Mountains." Solo by Mrs. Tower: "I Hear the Voice of Jesus Say." A hearty welcome to all.

The North Iowa Times, published at McGregor Iowa says of the COAST MAIL holiday edition:—We are in receipt this week of the Holiday number of the "Daily Coast Mail," published at Marshfield, Oregon, by P. C. Levar and F. K. Hofer. Mr. Hofer was a former resident of McGregor. The edition tells much concerning that country and is a commendable effort.

Baptist Church

Sunday school at 10 a. m., preaching service at 11 a. m. Topic: The Time of The Restitution of all Things. Text Acts 3:21. B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 p. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. Topic: A True Conversion. Text, Lu'te 14:18. Thursdays Prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m.

Methodist Church

Revival services still in progress; at the Methodist Church and continue through the week, a special song service will begin at 7 o'clock Sunday evening Preaching at 7:30. The themes will be of a revival character. All are invited and will be made welcome.

T. C. Nowlin returned yesterday from the middle fork of the Coquille. He reports the roads as almost impassable and suggests to any one who is inclined to kick at the mail not coming through on time to make a trip out over only the best part of the road. He thinks they will be satisfied with the service or to get it at all.

Miss Kate Beatty, who was summoned from San Francisco by the death of her father, Wm. Beatty, returns on the outgoing Arcata.

A fresh lot of crabs 15c each at the Broiler.

The Alliance is due from Eureka about 10 o'clock this forenoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hodson were down from Coos river yesterday, accompanying their sister, Mrs. B. L. Ayers who is a passenger on the outgoing Arcata.

Alex. Wilson is around again after an attack of rheumatism, and expects to take his place on the engine Monday.

Judge Watson will return to his Coos City ranch today for a few days accompanied by his family, who will enjoy country life until Sunday evening.

Mrs. R. L. Ayers, of Berkeley, Cal., is a passenger on the Arcata for her home, after a visit to her parents and family on Coos river, having been called here several weeks ago by the illness of her father, Dr. Hodson.

W. Barkas and family are preparing to move back to their farm on the North fork of Coos river, for the Summer.

The Arcata arrived yesterday morning and is to sail from Empire this morning.

Rusty Mike's Diary, Feb. 21, 1903—A great many "witty" ads are similar to the razor that has been used to open a tomato can.

The absolute necessity for the high price of meat has been demonstrated by the announcement that one of the big packing concerns made a profit of 13 per cent on a capital of $25,000,000 last year. Had the price been lower the packers could not have made the 13 per cent, and that would have been deplorable.

The statement by English interests that the cotton crop estimates of the agricultural department are not believed is answered by Secretary Wilson, who declares that this assertion is made by English buyers who are anxious to keep the price of cotton down.

The intimation that Prince Henry will visit us again next year may be taken as evidence that the Germans do not look for any serious or extended trouble with the United States over the Venezuelan affair.

Signor Marconi is credited with being able to conduct wireless telegraph experiments and a successful courtship at the same time. A wonderfully versatile man is Marconi.

It is all very well for Thomas A. Edison to insist that he can extract electricity directly from coal, but where is he going to get the coal?

President Baer shrugs his shoulders and says the middlemen are guilty. But that doesn't keep the furnace going.

Because she was so fat a New York woman was able to hold a burglar by sitting on him the other night until the police came. And still there are people who are constantly trying to reduce their weight.