PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Sunday's Daily.

Dade Hayes was in town from the Alders yesterday.

About a score of Negro coal miners arrived on the Alliance.

F. R. Taylor, of Fairview, was in town on business yesterday.

Senator T. M. Dimmick, returned on the Alliance from his labors at Salem.

T. W. Clark, the woolen mill man, returned from Portland on the Alliance.

Frank Hague goes to San Francisco on the Alliance on a trip for health and pleasure.

The Alliance will sail at 2 p. m. today and the Arcata at 9 a. m. tomorrow, rom Empire.

Lee Neeley of the north fork of the Coquille was in town yesterday on business.

Three steamers arrived yesterday, the Homer and Arcata from San Francisco, and the Alliance from Portland.

H. R. Davis, who has been employed as clerk in Wm. Nasburg's store, has relinquished his position.

Rusty Mike's Diary, March 1, 1903.—The adv that pays is the one that tells what the customer wants to know.

Wm. Bonebrake, who lately bought the Stambuck farm on Catching slough, has moved with his family to the place.

A small locomotive came on the Alliance for E. Johnson, to be used in a logging camp on the lower Coquille.

John Rhoades, late of Coquille City, is in town on his way to Colorado, where he goes for the benefit of his health.

W. A. Crane, the Gospel Temperance lecturer, will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church tonight. He is well worth hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerrett, of Empire spent the day in town visiting with friends before leaving for California on a pleasure trip.

L. H. Heisner moved yesterday from the building where they have been conducting a boarding house, to one of Mrs Tower's houses on Fourth Street.

F. S. Dow returned on the Arcata, after a short visit to San Diego, and accompanied by his family who have been spending several months in that vicinity.

Miss Bird Short, was a passenger on the Homer from San Francisco, where she has been under medical treatment, with results not as benoficial as could be wished.

A. S. Dibble of Dibble & Williams, returned on tha Alliance from Spokane, bringing his family with him. They will conduct a boarding house in the building just vacated by L. H. Heisner.

Wm. Lackstrom of Marshfield, and and John Jonneon, of Ferndale, were the successful bidder for the construction of the new building which Robt. Marsden is about to erect in North Bend.

Landlord Snyder is making improvements at the Central hotel by putting larger windows in the dinning room, and will open up a restaurant, day and night, where meals can be obtained on the European plan.

E. O'Connell's driving horse broke loose from in front of the store yesterday and ran up Front street, and on out through South Marshfield, coming to a stop near the end of H street. Fortunately neitner horse nor buggy was materially damaged.

F. C. Kaylor, late of Spokane, arrived on the Alliance to take a position on the force of the Coast Mail. Mr. Kaylor is an all round printer and newspaper man, and with his assistance we propose to make improvements in the servise, both as regards advertising and job work. We bespeak for him a kindly reception.

"Where is that d——d fire shovel Mary?" asked a Greenpoint man of his wife, as he entered the house, after a search for the implement. "I'll be d——d if I know dear," she sweetly replied, and the lesson went home with such a distinct thud that he raised his right hand on the spot and took an oath that he would never again pollute his lips with such a profane word—in her presence.

Moves to Coos Bay

A. S. Dibble and family left today over the O. R. N. . for Coos Bay, Oregon, where they will make their future home. Mr. Dibble has been a resident of Spokane for 14 years, and is well known as an enterprising real estate dealer.—Spokane Daily Chronicle.

Work on the Belt Line

D. W. Small is grading on the belt line at the first cut this side of Pony slough. The ground there is sandy and works fairly well, while farther up on the line it is still too wet, especially in the clay cuts. With the advent of good weather and the increasing power of the sun, the ground will soon be in condition for the prosecution of the work to better advantage.

Fine Apples

Geo. Beale has left at this office a couple of apples from the ranch of F. R. Taylor, on the north fork of the Coquille. They belong to the King of the World variety, and are large and handsome, and of excellent eating qualities. They measure 13 inches in circumference, and are yellow on one side and red on the other.

Mr. Taylor devotes considerable attention to his trees and brings some fine apples to the market.

For a Coffee Club

The Womans Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bear. The topic was Biography of Lowell and Washington.

Mr. Crane, Gospel Temperance worker, gave an instructive talk on establishing a Coffee Club, and it was decided to meet Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the Blanco parlors. Every one interested in this work is cordially invited, business men especially.

SECRETARY

From Tuesday's Daily.

Wm. Lawhorn, of Sumner, was in town yesterday.

Bert Folsom, of Pleasant Hill on the Coquille is in town on business.

Assessor T. J. Thrift and Ex-Assessor Lawrence came over on yesterday's train.

George Hite of Coquille City came over yesterday to spend a few days on the Bay.

Frank Bunch's Academy at Gravel Ford has closed for the season, after a successful run of six months.

Bill Nye is in town on his regular trip for Murphy, Grant & Co, and accompanied by his wife.

John W. Kruse has taken passage on the Homer, sailing today for San Francisco, where he will seek medical aid.

Rusty Mike's Diary, March 3, 1903.—After the new business man has selected his "motto" there's a lull in advertising until he finds that people don't pay much attention to mottoes—not even "keepoffthegrass.

Myrtle Point Enterprise—We are informed that the railroad trestle below town, which was washed out by the recent high water, will be rebuilt in the near future. The loss of train service has proved a great inconvenience to our merchants and others, and everyone is anxious to see the train running again.

The Gardiner Mill company of Gardiner, Ore., will install a Searns band mill and Chamberlain log turner, increasing the capacity of their mill 25,000 or 30,000 feet daily. Another planer has been added to the equipment. The company expects to cut 20,000,000 feet this year.—Timberman.

Coquille Bulletin—B. F. Ross, of Marshfield passed through town Monday to Myrtle Point, returning Wednesday. He made sale of the church property at Myrtle Point belonging to the U. B church and the Dunkard church, to the Church of God, of Myrtle Point—Mr. Ross representing the trustees of the U. B. Church.

Bandon Recorder—A few days ago an item appeared in one of the Marshfield papers announcing the arrival of Terry McEwen in Bandon and crediting him with the management of the ball team of this place, this summer. Last week about the same item appeared in the Myrtle Point Enterprise, and now what the Racorder desires to learn is, what became of Terry, as he has not been seen here yet.

Business Change

Chas. Stauff has bought out J. W. Kruse' interest in the Grocery business of Kruse & Stauff, and is now sole proprietor.

Woodmen Will Celebrate

Coos Bay Camp No. 196, Woodmen of the World, will celebrate its eighth anniversary on Saturday evening March 14th in I. O. O. F. hall. The entertainment will consist of a drama entitled "Tatters: The Pet of Squatters' Gulch," enacted by home talent, and music, games, dancing etc. and a banquet in the hall. The members of the lodge and those of their friends fortunate enough to secure tickits are sure to have a good time.

Mrs. Herron Returns

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Herron returned on the Arcata from San Francisco, whither they had gone in search of medical aid for Mrs. Herron. Their friends will deeply regret to learn that Mrs. Herron's case was pronounced incurable by the doctors and she returned without relief, although she stood the trip very nicely.

She was at the Lane hospital for nine days, where her case had the attention of Dr. Rixford, head sergeon, and of Dr. Carpenter, president of the California State Medical Society, who was called in consultation. They decided that nothing could be done for her cure, so she expressed a desire to return home at once. Mr. Herron speaks in the highest terms of the kindness and attention of the nurses and attendants at the hospital.

For a Coffee Club

A meeting was held at the Blanco yesterday to discuss the establishment of a Coffee Club in Marshfield. This is the line of work in which W. A. Crane, the temperance evangelist has met with good success, and that gentleman is making a strong effort to found such an institution in this town.

The meeting adjourned over until 2 p. m. today, to give a chance to get more of the business men interested in the matter. There is no doubt but such an institution is needed in Marshfield, and, if properly conducted, would be of the greatest benefit.

Editor Riley a Benedict

(Port Orford Tribune)

After an absence of nearly two months, the editor of this paper returned to Port Orford by steamer Arcata last Thursday after having traveled more than 6000 miles, over all kinds of country and among all classes of people. Wearied by the long journey; travel-stained but happy I was truely glad to once more tread on Oregon soil, breath the pure air of dear old Curry and realize that, at last, I was back in God's country; home, among friends and kindred.

As was announced last week the editor did not return as he departed alone. One of the fair daughters of the sunny South, where wave the Cypress and the Seymore, has consented to take up her abode in the land of Oregon.

We hope this week to commence house-keeping in the dwelling known as the Sutton house, where our friends will be always welcome.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The Homer sailed for San Francisco yesterday.

Jas. Cowen has bought the Craig house in South Marshfield, and moved into it yesterday.

Rusty Mike's Diary, March 4, 1903.—A sharp knife is a dangerous thing—so is a snarp adv.

The Wasson Bros have bought of Jas. Wall a donkey engine for use in their logging camp on South slough.

John Pruess has put in a revolving show tray in the jewelry window of the Red Cross drug store, and it looks quite citified.

Mrs. Wm. Vincamp, of Allegany, came to town yesterday for medica advice, having been in poor health for some time. She was accompained by her son Will.

W. H. Noble has bought of A. E. Seaman a lot on the corner of D and Third streets, adjoining his property. The trade was made by H. Sengstacken and the price paid was $330

An attempt on the part of Dr. W. A. Toye to communicate with the dental depot in Portland yesterday disclosed the fact that the office had just been gutted by a fire. The office was in the Dekum building, but it is not likely that the fire was a serious one, as our dispatches do not mention it.

H. Sengstacken sold to H. J. Blake yesterday a fraction off the Haskell place on the East fork of North Coos river, being the residence spot of Robt. Haskell on the north side of the river. The price paid was $350. H. S. says it pays to advertise in the Coast Mail when you have anything to sell.

Cigar Factory for Marshfield

Fred Abell, late of Portland, arrived on the Alliance and will open up a cigar factory in Marshfield.

He has rented of E. A. Seaman the stand on C street formerly occupied by the cottage bakery, and has his stock stock on the way here. Mr. Abell proposes to devote his attention entirely to the wholesale trade, selling no cigars at retail. He is an experienced cigar maker, and will undoubtedly make a success of his venture, as the dealer of the county should be glad to patronize a home industry.

To Burn Oil

The Willamette Pulp and Paper Company in Oregon City is going to install oil burning engines for their factory. Crude oil will be shipped from San Francisco in steel tank steamers; these will anchoor below Portland's city limits, where the liquid will be pumped into wooden barges, and towed to Oregon City. The barges are being constructed, and will be finished within a short time. While the up-river paper mill makes use of the Willamette's running water for power to run most of its machinery, still a great deal of steam power is also employed. Wood has been used for the fuel heretofore, but the company has decided that crude oil a better and cheaper.

Suit Settled

Reliable information has been receive that the action of Thomas E Ryan vs George Quigley has been settled.

This was an action brought to recover the possesson of the property formerly owned by The California Lumber Company, and now owned by Morris Brown of San Francisco, Cal. The stipulation for the final settlement, signed by E. R. Seabrook, as attorney for Plaintiff and C. F. McKnight as attorney for Geo. Quigley and his principal, Morris Brown, is now on file in the Circuit Court, for Coos County, Oregon.

It is gratifying to learn that this suit has practically been settled, thus making it possible for the present lessee of Porter mill to acquire title to the property. This makes it almost certain that this plant will run steady in the future, and it dispels all doubt that might have lingered in the minds of some as to whether the mill would be permanently run.

It would appear that some of the big gambling houses in New York get enough free advertising out of an occasional raid to fully offset its inconvenience.

Cruel.

"And now," said the lonely stenographer who was kicking for a raise, "I will make myself plain."

"Nature saved you the trouble," snapped the crusty old senior member.—Wheeling News.
