

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Sundry's Daily.
Postmaster: Ben Roberts, of Templeton, was in town last night.

Captain Norman Nelson was up from the Cape Argo wharfing station yesterday.

R. B. Herron is doing some development work on his land near the south Coos river rock quarry.

The four masted, bald headed schooner Salvator arrived yesterday and went to the Bay City mill for lumber.

"It says here, Samantha that Reverend Tomwood was a saloon passenger on the Majestic. Beats all how them preachers do cut up when they get away from hum."—Judge.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by John Preuss.

Looking blue for milkman: "I more than suspect our milkman." "Of what do you suspect him?" "Of trying to work the Filipino water-cure on us. Look at the color of that milk!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mrs. Chas. Snedden, started by stage Wednesday, to Roseland, B. C., having received word that her son Walter was sick with typhoid fever there. At last account his physician reported the fever under control.

The commuter at home: Suburban—"This is shameful! I'll not stand that cook's insolence a moment longer. As soon as I get to New York I'll ring her up on the telephone and discharge her."—Judge.

"Doesn't it worry you to have people intimate that you are a political boss?" "No," answered Senator Sorghum, "I don't nearly so much as to have them intimate that I have ceased to be a political boss."—Washington Star.

Convincing proof: May—"I had no idea before last night that Mr. Pilcher was a man of such lofty ambitions and exalted ideas." Mend—"How did you come to find it out?" May—"He proposed to me."—Bazar.

THE CAMEL'S HEAD.

"Where the camel's head goes his body follows," says an Oriental proverb. It's the same way with disease. A small opening will give an entrance and when disease once has a place in the body a large number of ills may follow it.

The opening for disease is often found in a "weak" stomach. When the stomach is "weak" the body also becomes weakened by lack of nutrition, and disease attacks the heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the weak stomach strong. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables the body to resist or throw off other diseases.

Men and women who are sick are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so obtain without charge the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"For the past two years I have been a very sick woman," writes Mrs. Chesley, of 108 Woodland Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. "I tried medicines from doctors and to no avail. At last I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When I started I was all run-down and had a very unpleasant taste in my mouth. Was choked up, and at times it was very hard for me to breathe. I had severe headaches and cutting pains in my knee joint. Was so weak I could not attend to my work nor walk up or down stairs without the assistance of my brother or some friend. I am now taking the fourth bottle, and am happy to say I feel like myself again. I can go up and down stairs and perform my duties as well as any one. Everything seems to be brighter, and I can assure you that life is worth living.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing just as good for dyspepsia or debility. Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

company's new boat, and a barge will be made of the hull. She made her last run last Monday. The Favorite has taken her place, while the Beta took the run of the Favorite.

Bandon Recorder.—C. H. Paterson is recruiting from a tussel with Frank Barrow's bull. He was passing the animal which had been let loose. It had its head down and he struck it with a rope, lightly, and was surprised by being knocked down and rolled over several times. He had one rib broken and was somewhat bruised. He might have been hurt worse but for Clyde Barrows who caught the rope which was fastened to the animal and stopped him.

A Night Off

The Keane Company played to a full house again last night, including a large part of the COAST MAIL force, leaving this paper unusually shy of news matter. The large audience was highly pleased with the presentation of "A Night Off", which is one of the funniest things on the American stage. The Keane Company are artists and should meet a warm reception wherever they go. They will appear in Marshfield again, of which due announcement will be made.

A coast lumberman recently got a little heady and asserted that Washington cuts more lumber than Michigan ever did. He simply allowed his local pride to lead him away from facts. One year Michigan cut nearly six billion feet. In 1890, its output was valued at $83,000,000, and Washington's $17,450,360. In 1900 Michigan's output was valued at $51,000,000 and Washington's $30,586,280. In the next census Washington should be at the head of the lumber producing states and Oregon second.—Puget Sound Lumberman.

The Second base ball team of Marshfield and North Bend played a game Sunday at North Bend. The game resulted in a victory for Marshfield, the score being 22 to 9.

Captain Allen, of the Emma Utter reports exceedingly cold weather on his trip up from San Pedro.

"I have been troubled for some time with indigestion and sour stomach," Mrs. Sarah W. Curtis, of Lee, Mass., "and have been taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets which have helped me very much so that now I can eat many things that before I could not eat." If you have any trouble with your stomach why not take these Tablets and get well? For sale by John Preuss.

S. C. Brown had his arm quite badly bruised while working on a building yesterday. It seems the accident was caused by the Jack bar unexpectedly was turning around by heavy pressure of building. Dr. Horsfall attended the injury.

The Temperance Society which held forth at the South picnic grounds last Sunday, furnished, it is said, a highly pleasing and entertaining program, consisting of music, recitations and speaking. Everybody reports a very enjoyable time.

In this issue the barkeepers challenge the clerks and barbers to a game of base ball for the benefit of the Heppner sufferers. Marshfield can well afford to do something for the unfortunate victims of the Heppner disaster, and this move of the bartenders is a highly commendable one.

A new use for citric acid has been discovered. Added to sea water it precipitates the salt and makes the liquid palatable and usable. Seven ounces of citric acid will be sufficient to supply a shipwrecked sailor with enough purified sea water to meet his requirements for a week.

J. C. Laird, mail contractor on the Coos Bay wagon road, was in town last night. He informs the Mail that the stages will be taken off the route between Sumner and Marshfield, and passengers and Mail will be carried between those two points by gasoline launches, the new service commencing this morning.

Mrs Olive Passes Away

The sad news reached Marshfield Sunday, by a dispatch to A. G. Aiken, of the death of Mrs. C. W. Olive at San Pedro, Cal., at 1:30 p. m. that day. This was not entirely unexpected, as word had been received that the lady was very low, but a very large circle of friends in Coos county, where Mr. and Mrs. Olive lived for over a quarter of a century, will grieve to hear of the fatal termination of the malady, to seek relief from which they moved to San Pedro something over two years ago.

From Wednesday's Daily.

At the school election held in Myrtle Point last week it was voted to add the ninth grade to the school, which has heretofore stopped with the eighth.

J. W. Bennett and son Tom, F. A. Golden and Russ Tower returned Monday from a week's outing on the Ten-mile lakes. They report fine sport with the trout, and Professor Golden has some fine photographs to prove their assertion.

Hon. Binger Hermann in a letter to the Coos Bay Chamber of Commerce expresses his intention of visiting the bay this summer, for the purpose of looking fully in the needs of commerce here.

Injunction Dissolved

E. B. Barnes informed J. T. Hall, by phone from Roseburg yesterday, that Judge Hamilton had dissolved the injunction obtained by R. D. Hume against his fishing in certain parts of Rogue river. The case was fought hard, and Mr. Burns was naturally jubilant at his victory.

THE BEST COUGH MEDICINE.

I sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of all similar preparations put together and it gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I ever sold. I guarantee every bottle of it—F. C. Jaquith, Inland, Mich. This remedy is for sale by John Preuss.

Improved Facilities

A new range has been installed at the Coffee Club, and the kitchen has been otherwise extensively improved, and the management is now prepared to feed all that come. Besides the regular six-course dinner, all such delicacies as strawberry short cake, strawberries and cream, ice cream etc are provided. With the improved equipment the institution is prepared to serve its patrons better than ever.

Killing Birds

Some of the boys are making a practice of shooting wild canaries and other harmless birds with airguns. If the natural cruelty of the younger generation is such that they delight in inflicting suffering and death on the helpless, and if parental authority is not sufficient to deter them, they should be given a taste of the law of a four-year-old club.

Change Your Ads

What would you think of your newspaper if it came to you with the same news and editorials it had a month ago? Would you not be justified in thinking that the editor was a failure if he had nothing new to say or tell? What must your customers think of your advertisements and of you when they find you have nothing new to tell them for months at a time?—Retailer and Advertiser.

Will Canvass Town

The Coos Bay Chamber of Commerce met last evening and transacted some important business. The committee having in charge the matter of a steamship to be built on the bay and ply between this port, San Francisco and Portland will commence today to canvass the town for subscriptions to stock in the new boat, and the project should receive the heartiest support from Marshfield business men and capitalists.

Mill Man's Tale of Woe

"Dad bang it man you don't know what trouble is," said a weary looking, well fed appearing mill man from a small town in Western Washington, and he dropped with a perfunctory drop into a comfortable chair in this office. He had just twisted a four inch shaft off and had come to town to get it fixed up. But that was not what worried him, he expected shafts to break, he expected pulleys to fly to pieces, he expected chains to pull apart and he expected sometime his boiler would blow the whole crew across the Cascades, but these were more incidentals in saw milling, which might be called legitimate. What he was groaning about was the manner in which men quit their jobs without cause or warning. "Every morning when I go down to start up the mill," he said, "from five men have passed down the pike, and I have no surplus to fill from. It keeps me all in a commotion, with a feeling that there is something loose inside my vest. It is wearing me out, but what can I do. All I know is how to run a saw mill. Why I couldn't even get a pulp in Buckley." And then Marshall Chambers went down to the shop to see if his shaft was fixed.

HIS LAST HOPE REALIZED.

From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.
In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1890, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his camping about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help feeling grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by John Preuss.

Prevention of Corns.
There are suggestions without number for the cure of corns. Any reputable chiropodist and some who are not reputable can furnish an unfailing remedy. But there is one sure way to prevent them. Don't wear the same pair of shoes two days in succession. Corns are caused by friction on the toes, and the most expert bootmaker cannot make two pairs of shoes which will rub the feet in the same place. The change of shoes gives the feet a chance to rest. It is also good for the shoes, and footwear which is treated in this fashion will last much longer than if put to daily use.

The Crocodile.
Pity said the crocodile's skin "will abide any injury and not be pierced." That may have been true in his day, but it is not true now. The bullet of a heavy modern rifle will pierce the skin anywhere unless it strikes in a slanting direction. The crocodile is not as a rule hard to kill, provided one can get a good shot at it, but that is just the trouble. It has not the marvelous vitality of the shark, which will sometimes struggle furiously for an hour, although covered with apparently mortal wounds.—Chicago News.
