Lively Runaway

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, Frank Hobson's delivery team, left standing in front of Preuss' Drug store, became frightened and ran down Front street at a breakneck speed until they came opposite Colman's blacksmith shop when someone ran out and "shooed" them into a telegraph pole where the horses separated on either side of the pole breaking the harness and smashing the buggy. The horses were soon caught and aside from a few scratches were not otherwise hurt.

For a lax liver try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They invigorate the liver, aid the digestion, regulate the bowels and prevent bilious attacks. For sale by Jno. Preuss.

Food Sum for Heppner

The money raised for the Heppner sufferers, by the ball game between the bartenders and clerks was turned to May or Norton last evening by the bartenders. The total gate receipts were $360. The money raised by the show given by the Keane Company amounted to $45 making a good total of $405 to be forwarded to Heppner by Mayor Norton.

Before this matter is passed by as a closed incident it should be mentioned that the credit for originating the plan of a ball game between the barkeepers and clerks, the MAIL is informed, belongs to John Back, of the Clay Moore saloon, and he has been largely instrumental in its success, has devoted his efforts energetically to that end.

The mill has a capacity of about 17600 feet per day and is located on the best sites on the river. The gentlemen who have purchased it will no doubt increase the capacity of the mill. It will be operated regularly and the new management will ship a larger amount of lumber. With the operation of the mill a number of men will be employed, and it will be a good thing for the town.

Over Four Hundred

Mayor Norton yesterday received the following amounts for the Heppner relief fund; from the ball game $354.75, Keane company benefit $43. Longshoremen's Union $10.

Mayor Norton wishes to thank all parties who were instrumental in getting up the ball game, on behalf of the town of Marshfield.

It will be noted that, as far as reported the Longshoremen's Union is the only organization here that has made a contribution to the fund, and this is a good showing for the longshoremen.

An Editor's Work

An editor works 365 days in a year to get out 52 copies of his paper in good shape and on time, then once in a while someone pays for a year's subscription, or a few copies, or an advertisement; that's capital. And often some son of a Joad beat takes the paper for several years, and vanishes without paying for it or even leaving a lock of hair; that's anarchy. But later on Justice will reach the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his deserts; that's hell.

The Woolen Mill

The management of the woolen mill at North Bend informed us that they would be ready to run about the last of August. Boilers and engines are being set now and the shafting will be here in a few days.

Mr. Clark states that if satisfactory arrangements cannot be made to board and lodge the employers that they will construct a large brick hotel. The managers are indebted to Hugh Wallace of the Portland Woolen Mill for the large silk flag which floats from the flag pole on their mill.

Many of the farmers along Cunningham have their hay cut down, and will be heavy losers by the rain that came on without much effort or notice. People who have lived in Oregon any length of time should know better than to cut hay until after the Fourth of July.

Rev. McMullen and party has been engaged for the past few days, cruising timber on the North Fork and Middle Creek, for Fred A. Kribbs' the timber King.

R. J. Coke, of Marshfield, who is rusticated in this section for his health, is feeling the good effect of getting back to Mother Nature, and expect to be able to work again by the first of August.

My Uncle From Sweden.

The Margarita Fischer Company in the farce comedy of the above name entertained a good house last evening. With McCowell in the title role the funny dialect play kept the audience in a laughing state throughout. The specialties also were good, and the afterpiece written by McBride and enacted by him and McCowell was irresistibly amusing.

The Fischer Company go to the Coquille this morning, and after playing the towns over there will fill a return engagement here.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea" says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physician's prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Boone county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but the one bottle of medicine cost but a few cents, cured me." For sale by John Preuss.

An exchange says whenever you find a man finding fault with a local paper, open it and ten to one he has no advertisement in it; five to one he never gave it a job of work; three to one if he is a subscriber he is delinquent; even odds go never does anything to assist the publisher to run a good paper, and 40 to 1 he is the most eager to see the paper when it comes out.

Champion Beef-Eater

Ex-Mayor Robert Van Wyck retains the title of champion beef-eater of Greater New York. An effort to beat his reported record of two years ago of eight and three-quarters pounds at one sitting, failed at a contest just held in Williamsburg. The contestants were Michael Shampauf and F. Ouchuan. Fully 500 Brooklynites watched the contest. The time limit was one hour and 40 minutes. Shampauf took the lead at the second steak, holding it until the finish, when it was announced that he had eaten in addition to 103 clams and crackers, five and three-quarters pound of steak, 50 oysters, two loaves of bread, a bunch of asparagus and ten crabs.

BORN

MILLER—In Marshfield, Or., June 7, 1903, to the wife of Marion C. Miller, a son.

HODSON—On Coos river, Or., June 27, 1903, to the wife of E. R. Hodson, a daughter. Mother and child doing well.

DIED

PATERSON—At his home in West Marshfield, Or., July 1, 1903, C. W. Paterson, aged 49 years 2 months and 6 days.

Charles W. Paterson was born at Ingersoll, Canada, April 25, 1854. At the age of 15 he went to Massachusetts and there learned the trade of a marble and stone cutter. He came to the Pacific coast in 1873 and went into the sheep business in Eastern Oregon, between the Dalles and Heppner. A few years later he removed to Portland, and later went to San Francisco. He lived some years at Ashland and afterward at Roseburg, coming from that place in 1888 to Marshfield, where he has resided ever since, following his trade of which he was a thorough master. The stone and brick building in which the post office is situated, is a monument to his ability as a builder. For several years Mr. Paterson was chief of the fire department. He was a member of Coos Bay Camp, W. of W. On Jan. 9, 1891, he was married to Miss Ida P. Hall, of this City. Two children have been born to them, Tom, now aged nine years and Edward, one year. Mr. Paterson's health had been failing for several years, his trouble being pronounced peritonitis. In February, 1902, he visited San Francisco in search of relief, and this spring he again went down. An operation was performed, but without permanent relief. Since his return home he had steadily grown worse, and he passed away at 1:10 p. m. yesterday. C. W. Paterson was a man highly respected by all who knew him Unobtrusive and amiable to all, he was a loving and indulgent husband and father and a man of sterling integrity. Besides the widow and sons, an aged mother, five brothers and three sisters survive him, in Canada and the Eastern States. The funeral will take place at 1:30 p. m. Friday from the residence. Rev. Wm. Horsfall will officiate and the burial will be by the Woodmen of the World, the fire department also attending in a body.
