During the first half of 1903 the expenditure for clerical assistance was but $900. In 1901 the expenditure on this account was $2425; in 1902 it was $2400, or about two-thirds of the appropriation. Fourth of July Accident

Disfigurement, death and fire were the grim companions of the Fourth of July patriot. Dispatches to the Record-Herald, of Chicago, give a total of 38 killed and 26 killed and 1093 injured, as a result of the day's celebration. The number of fatalities exceeded those of last year, when 21 gave up their lives during the observance of the day, and 2172 were reported injured. The list of injured, however, this year, is far from complete, and may have exceeded the large total recorded in 1902.

The Secretary in the decision on such filings made in the Fall River country, allowed the claimants 30 days in which to correct their filings, by going before the proper officer. —Del Norte Record.

School Fund Apportionment

The semi-annual statement of state Treasurer C. S. Moore, which has just been issued shows that the annual apportionment of school funds on August 1st will be the largest in the history of the state. The apportionment last year exceeded that of any previous years, but the money to be distributed this year will be fully 6 per cent greater. The total amount of money in the state treasury on July 1 was $1,278,136.12, of which $717,995.38 was in the irreducible school fund and $197,000.91 was in the common school interest fund. This latter sum is made up of the interest upon from the common school fund. A year ago the interest fund obtained $176,414.84. During July large payments of interest will be made, thus swelling the amount to be apportioned on August 1.

One farm, known as the Hill farm, contains 1000 acres and the other, known as the prairie farm, is also extensive. The first farm is valued at about $25,000 and the prairie farm, which goes to Roy, at about $20,000. To make Roy's share of the division of the property equal, his father gave him $5000 cash. Mr. Rickard also deeded his wife a farm of 150 acres near Corvallis, and a half a block land in the town of Corvallis. A fine residence is to be erected on the latter place, work upon which has already been begun. Mr. Rickard is 70 years of age, and concluded to dispose of his property before his death.

Body of Fred Weaver Found Floating in Coos River

The drowned body of Fred Weaver, a logger, was found at Richmond's landing in the north fork of Coos river, yesterday.

Coroner Horsfall was summoned, but being unable to go, Dr. Mingus went. The body was found to town last night by the gasoline launch Dixie.

The drowned man had evidently been in the water for some time, as the body was decomposed almost beyond recognition.

He wore a pair of overalls and a dark colored coat, and on his feet a pair of unlaced river boots, heavily soled and corded.

There was a long gash under his left eye, and a cut across the wrist.

The body was fully identified as that of Fred Weaver, although at first it was thought by some to be Oscar Kaino. Weaver was last seen alive at Simpson's logging camp where he had been at work. He left there after the Fourth, and at that time his fellow workmen had noticed that he acted as though his mind were unbalanced, so that it is likely that it is a case of suicide.

The coroner's inquest was to be held last evening, but too late for this issue.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The gentlemen came to Marshfield highly recommended and expect to remain here permanently. They wish it distinctly understood that their business is in no way connected with the Coffee club, such reports having gone current on the streets. Messrs. Emerson and Jones are here to stay and consider Marshfield a good point for the business venture and they will do their business in such manner as to merit a fair share of Marshfield's restaurant business.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physician's prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Boone county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but the one bottle of medicine acting but a few cents, cured me." For sale by John Preuss.
