

THE OLD RELIABLE

Absolutely Pure

HERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Thursday's Daily.

Ben Roberts, of Tenmile, was doing business in town yesterday.

Mrs. J. W. Catching, of Sumner, is quite sick with scarlet fever.

Victor Anderson of the Life Saving crew was in town yesterday.

Miss Annie Flanagan of Empire was in town Wednesday afternoon.

Robert Burns, the attorney, of Gold Beach, has been in town several days on business.

Prominent visitors from North Bend yesterday were Meadames Simpson, Rennie, Cursons, Kaiser and Miss Crique.

Mrs. Maggie Hodson, who has been quite sick for some time, was brought down from Sumner yesterday and placed in care of Dr. Mingus.

Frank Tanner and Alex Evanoff hold the record so far this salmon season, having caught 235 silverides in one night, quitting at 12 o'clock.

Walter Lewis, of Kentuck slough, who had his right leg broken in the Daniels creek camp a month ago, and has been under care of Dr. Horsfall, is now able to return home.

The supreme court of Washington handed down a decision in the case of McGian vs. Roller which fully settles in that state that a convict has the right to act as administrator of the estate of his wife.

Matt Matson, the energetic and successful Catching slough farmer, says that he has taken many different farm papers, but the New York Tribune Farmer beats them all and he wouldn't give it for all the rest. If you are interested in the best farm paper, see our clubbing offer on another page.

Assistant Keeper Joe Leonard of the Tillamook Rock light, died suddenly in Astoria Thursday. Several weeks ago he was injured by falling from the top of the rock to the beach while some supplies were being delivered there by one of the lighthouse tenders, but at the time a broken leg and arm were believed to be all the injuries that he had received.

Announcement.

Mrs. J. T. McCormac gave an "Afternoon" to a number of friends on Wednesday, and announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Grace to Mr. A. J. French.

Better Than Pills

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and live pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by Jno. Preuss.

Barbers' Board Here

H. G. Myers and J. C. Weis of the State Barbers' Board arrived on the bay Tuesday evening, by way of the Drain route. They polished off the barbers of this community yesterday, and also visited North Bend. R. K. Hanna, of North Bend was examined and passed. All the barbers of Marshfield have renewed their cards and Mr. Kelly who was working on permit was examined and issued a card.

The board go to Myrtle Point on this morning's train, return to Coquille on the same train and go to Bandon on the afternoon boat, interviewing the tinsmiths of the three towns. They will return to Marshfield Friday and will take the Alliance for Portland.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

George Cook Rescued By the Life-Saving Crew After 3 Hours in the Water

George Cook, son of Dr. Cook, of Empire, came very near finding a watery grave Tuesday night. He was only saved by the diligent search of the Life-Saving crew, who promptly went to the rescue at the call for help from Captain Rooke of the Blanco.

Mr. Cook and family had been camping and he had returned to Empire with his family which he landed safely and he was returning to the Life-Saving station for another load. The sea was running very high and his yard dipped into one of the waves, which upset the boat. Mr. Cook immediately began to call for help, which was heard by Captain Rooke and Mr. Cook's brother Lee, who were at the wharf in Empire. The Blanco immediately notified the Life-Saving crew, it being then 6:30 and quite dark and somewhat thick. The Lifeboat was immediately launched and search began, the crew constantly keeping up a call. The first sign of him was seen at 9:30. He was clinging to the bottom of his boat. When called to he could not respond, being to far gone to reply and had become deaf. He had to be shaken to arouse him. He was so benumbed that the crew were obliged to literally carry him to the station from the lifeboat. He was rubbed and given hot drinks and rolled in woolen blankets and put to bed. Wednesday morning he was returned to Empire safe and sound.

When the craft was capsized it was nearing flood tide, otherwise the craft would probably have drifted to sea. Where the boat was found it was a mass of sea weeds and not very far from land. It would have been next to impossible to get ashore.

Had the station been in telephone connection with Empire it would have been possible for the Life-Saving crew to have found the unfortunate man sooner. It would have been able to get to the locality before it got so densely dark.

From Friday's Daily.

The Alliance sailed from San Francisco at 4 p. m. yesterday.

Dr. Prentiss was moving into his new house in West Marshfield yesterday.

Contractor Clausen has commenced shingling the roof of the Masonic Temple.

Raising money in Salem is like pulling teeth; yet the citizens of Salem built about a mile of good sidewalk leading to their cemetery, a few years ago, by private subscription.

How much would it cost to lay a sidewalk from the bridge in South Marshfield to the cemetery. If any one has figured it out the MAIL would be pleased to hear from him.

Telephone advices from Port Orford yesterday were to the effect that the bay was full of boats, seeking shelter from heavy weather outside, among them being the revenue cutter McCulloch with cutter Arcata in tow.

J. M. Nye, Murphy Grant & Co's popular traveler, accompanied by his wife, arrived over the Coos Bay wagon road yesterday on his regular trip, speaking of Humboldt, which is on his route. Mr. Nye says that Eureka is booming with the prospects of a railroad, or perhaps two, and real estate is held at a very high figure.

Decisions Rendered

Judge Hamilton has rendered his decisions in the case of John Bear vs. A. Markievitch and Florence Sheridan et al vs. Empire City, J. W. Bennett being attorney for plaintiff and Hall & Hall for defendant in each case.

Judgment is given for defendant in the first case, for plaintiff in the other.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take: When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Jno. Preuss.

Collided With Wagon

Fred McCormac met with an accident yesterday afternoon by coming in contact with an express wagon at the corner of 4th and A street. He was riding a wheel, and while not seriously hurt his ear was badly cut and shoulder badly bruised. Dr. McCormac being at Coquille, Dr. Straw was called, and dressed the wounds and made the lad as comfortable as possible.

Now is The Time

Now is the time to prepare for your holiday campaign of advertising. Lay the ground floor now and reap the best harvest you ever gathered. Prepare the way for your Christmas goods now. The DAILY MAIL is an excellent medium to make known your special new lines. It has an ideal circulation covering a large field in Coos county. It is composed of the cream of the county. These subscribers order the MAIL and pay for it in advance. They are not deadbeats and are of the kind of people who are amply able to buy your goods and pay the cash because they are intelligent and up-to-date, taking their home daily.

Peculiar Accident

(Coquille Herald) Our old friend, Wm. Jenkins, of Myrtle Point, who returned from Bandon Friday, informed us of a peculiar and somewhat serious experience had by Fred Gross of Bandon on Thursday. It seems that Mr. Gross was down the coast on horseback, and the time of the accident was leading the animal through a yard where an old well had been covered up, and the timbers supporting the covering had evidently rotted and when he got over it the whole top fell in. When several feet down Mr. Gross looked up and to his surprise, saw the horse coming down after him, head first. By some means the animal got by Mr. Gross without seriously hurting him, he crawling up among the dying horse's legs, extricating himself with considerable difficulty. His dog which was at the horses feet went down also. While Mr. Gross is none the worse for his experience, it was an ordeal he would rather not go through very often.

Preparing to Erect a Water Fountain

The A. N. W. Club, an organization belonging to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, met with Mrs. E. O'Connell Thursday afternoon. The ladies took some action in regard to arrangements for raising the rest of the funds to carry out their civic improvement program. The plan is to get a fountain suitable for man and beast; something that will be an ornament to the town as well as a blessing to men women and children. On hot sultry days many a horse will enjoy a refreshing drink. The members of the club are very enthusiastic to carry out this enterprise and the president Mrs. E. O'Connell is organizing efficient committees to carry out a series of social entertainments for the coming season. In due time the city council will be asked for permission to place it on one of the street corners.

The announcement for the first one of a series of entertainments will soon be made.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. J. Rolanson.

Tommy—"Well, we'll pretend we don't advertise."—Anco Special.

Oxen Overboard

H. Sengstacken has dispensed with his ox team at his logging camp, and has turned the cattle out on his East Marshfield pasture. While ferrying them across, three of the oxen got overboard at East Marshfield wharf, and it was necessary to swim them back to the Marshfield side to get them out, which was work of considerable difficulty.

Cause of Lockjaw

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by John Preuss.

Mining Men Here

Mr. A. W. Dennis and O. C. Reeves, of the Johnson Creek Placer Mining Co., arrived in Marshfield Friday. These gentlemen will spend some time here. They expect a large shipment of pipe and giants for the placer mines near Salmon mountain. This company has completed the ditch and are now waiting for the pipes, when they will begin active operations. They have eight claims. The water has been brought two miles and the pipes used are 15 inch steel pipes capable of resisting the highest pressure. The fall of water is over two hundred feet and supplied by three creeks, which it is thought will give water enough to run nearly the entire year.

Mr. Dennis who is an old friend of the editors of this paper, brought in a fine bottle of nuggets which came from there. They are good for sore eyes. There are a lot of indefatigable work-worms in this mine. The Company do not owe a dollar and their stock was not sold in large blocks and each individual is interested in seeing the proposition fully developed. The pipe for the new works is expected on the Arcata, and will be packed in from Myrtle Point to the mines.

From North Bend

Hark! Do you hear those wedding bells? They are not far off. Get ready, boys.

R. C. Lee, manager of the Grissen Music Co. of Marshfield, paid our town a visit Thursday.

Lillenthal's building, on Sherman Avenue, is receiving a coat of paint. The work is being done by Mr. Edmunds.

Manager Robertson of the telephone company is putting a line into our town. Albert and Edgar Campbell are doing the work; pretty soon we can talk to the "Hello girl," or some other girl if we like.

The laying of the water pipe is getting well up to the north end of the town. A large crew of men are employed, and the work is being rushed to completion, and pretty soon we won't "have to drink beer to economize."

The railroad surveyors have been running preliminary lines through old North Bend this week. This is for the road that is to be built to Tenmile. The dredger has been taken up North slough to begin work. Wonder if this road will terminate at Tenmile?

J. R. Robertson has his three dwellings on Union and McPherson about ready for the tenants, and the tenants are about ready for the houses too. Mr. Robertson says he could rent as many more if he had them. No buildings vacant here, but an opportunity for some one who is seeking a good investment here.

The Fall term of public school began last Monday, with Prof. Gant as principal and Miss Rodine as assistant. The school opened with an enrollment of about seventy-five, and the number has increased to about ninety, with indications of its going over a hundred in a few days. The present number taxes the capacity of the school, and enlargements will have to be provided for.

Jas. Flanagan's horse which he has been using with the cart lately to drive down here from Marshfield, got tired of standing around and waiting for his master, so Friday afternoon he thought he would help the town be lively. He started from Porter and ran across the long bridge that leads from there to the saw and door factory, then up into town and down Sherman avenue. Some man who was building sidewalks near the North Bend stable saw the horse coming, and two of them pecked up a plank and held it across his path, which tripped him, and caused him and the cart to take a complete roll over. In spite of all the men's trying to stop him the horse got up and ran a few blocks and further. Little damage was done.

Is our town growing? Well, if you don't think so, just come down and take a look for yourself. Hardly a week goes by without the construction of two or three buildings is begun. Sidewalks are being laid now as fast a lumber can be got, and in all parts of the town one can hear the ring of hammers and the hum of saws. Messrs. Metter, Victor Anderson, Herman Nabb, Fred Supple, A. Merty, and Dr. Eaton are each building a dwelling of eight to ten or more rooms. The bank and the postoffice buildings, on Sherman avenue, and lawyer Rummell's large store and office building, on Union avenue, are all nearing completion. Mr. Gordon is making preparations to begin the construction of his three-story brick building on Sherman. Its size will be fifty by one hundred feet. Watch us grow.

MARRIED

PUGH—WILLIAMS—At the home of John N. Shaban, at Empire City, on Wednesday Oct. 14th, 1903, J. Virgil Pugh to Miss Adora Williams, Rev. B. F. Bengtson officiating.

Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present. The wedding was an unostentatious affair, but was thoroughly appreciated by those who were present. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was had. When the wedding guests departed they wished the happy pair all the blessings of a happy prosperous married life.
