

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure
HERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Wednesday's Daily.

Chas. Leggett, of Haynes Slough was town on business yesterday.

J. Porter Wilson, one of the Sumner pioneers, was in town yesterday.

News reached here last evening of the death of George Adams of Myrtle point

Wm. Blackmore, the butter and cheese expert, was over from Tenmile yesterday.

Milt Epperson of the Coquille has been spending a few days in town, visiting his sister, Mrs. Newland.

Christian Services in Flanagan Hall last Sunday were fairly well attended a good beginning was made. Services will be held again in three weeks.

Marshfield Citizens should not forget the caucus to be held on the evening of Nov. 18th, to nominate candidates to be voted on at the city election in December.

A Runaway Bicycle

Terminated with a ugly cut on the leg of J. E. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c, at Red Cross Drug Store.

The cause of the lateness of the mail in arriving on Sunday morning was a large tree across the road. This is something which is liable to occur at any time, and for which the contractor cannot be blamed.

Miss Alice McCormac who is attending St. Helen's Hall, Portland has recently been elected captain of the Basketball team also has been chosen Athletic Editor of the "Spinster" the school paper, which goes to show that Marshfield girls are favorites wherever they may be.

The Procession

Carrie Nation's had her day. 'Lijah Three is holding sway. Beat the drum! Let 'em come! Glory be! they never stay! —St. Louis Star.

Progress at Woolen Mill

T. W. Clark informs the MAIL that work is going ahead systematically at the North Bend woolen mill, although the outside work has been somewhat delayed by the rain. The dryer is completed and the tanks are being made. The water pipe is on the ground and connections will be made as soon as the weather is suitable for out-door work.

Women of Woodcraft Entertain

Miss Bertha Sumner the state organizer for the Women of Woodcraft gave the W. of W. a rare treat Monday night in the way of exemplifying the work and a good plain talk for the good of the order. Miss Sumner was tendered a reception after the regular lodge work and a fine banquet was also spread. There were many invited guests present. A program was rendered which was enjoyed by all who had the pleasure of hearing it. Miss Sumner expects to be in Marshfield again two weeks hence when she will give the Marshfield degree team another drilling in the work. This lodge is one of the strongest in Marshfield and they are adding many new members.

Accidental Shooting

Matt Paianpa was accidentally shot last evening at Chas. Stora's boarding house. How badly he was injured had not been determined when this paper went to press.

It seems that Paianpa and his room mate whose name was not learned, went to their room about 9 o'clock, and a few minutes later the shot was fired. There seems no question but that it was accidental. Paianpa was setting on the bed and his friend was handling the pistol, when it was discharged and the bullet entered Paianpa's groin. Dr. Straw was called and had not reported, when the forms were closed.

From Thursday's Daily.

The A. N. W. Club which was to meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. McCormac, has been postponed one week.

The Alliance sailed from San Francisco at 2 p m Tuesday, and would be expected here Friday but for the fact that delay may be expected at Eureka on account of rough bar.

Carl Carlson, the party who is serving out a fine of $10 in the city jail, was gradually cleaning up the streets yesterday, while from 47 to 68 freeborn American citizens stood around and gazed him.

Matt Paianpa, who was accidentally shot in the groin Tuesday evening, proved to be not dangerously injured, as the bullet ranged downward into the leg, and he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Capt. Edwards of the Alert, reports a good rise in the North fork of Coos river at Allegany yesterday morning, and the logs coming out of the East fork. Wm. Bennett, the raftman informs the MAIL that about 7000 logs reached the boom at the mouth of Coos river yesterday.

By letters to friends here we learn of the death of Mrs Jack Pence, formerly of Marshfield, but recently residing at Whatcom, Wash. About two weeks ago Mrs Pence was stricken with apoplexy from which she did not recover. Mrs Pence was well known here having lived here several years.

Dr. H. H. Eaton's new house, which was in course of construction at North Bend, was blown down by the heavy wind of Tuesday night and practically demolished. The walls were up and the roof on but the house stood on a high basement not enclosed nor well braced and the unexpected windstorm was too much for it.

To the Public

The Retail Clerks wish to inform the public that since the publication of the article entitled "How Would You Like to be the Electric Light Man?" Mr. Friedberg has assured us that it did him an injustice, and has expressed himself as favorable to the 6 o'clock closing. RETAIL CLERKS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

Doesn't Respect Old Age

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to these perfect pills. 50c, at Red Cross Drug Store.

Assault and Battery

E. J. C. Farrin, deputy prosecuting attorney, went to Myrtle Point Tuesday to conduct the State's case against Wm Wilson, charged with assault and Battery committed on W H Harris. A jury found defendant guilty and he was fined $25 and costs amounting to $30.

Insects Used For Medicine.

The cochineal insect is in some cases recognized as a medicine and at one time had a reputation for wonderful virtues. Honey and wax, often used in pharmacy, are insect products, while galls, used in medicine for the astringent properties and the galls and tannic acid they furnish, are also the work of insects.—London Tit-Bits.

An Affecting Scene.

Mr. Younghusband—Darling, you have been weeping. What is it, my sweetest love? Mrs Younghusband—Horse radish!

Not a Sick Day Since

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at John Frouse Druggist.

ENDS LIFE WITH RAZOR

Well-Known Marshfield Man Suicides at Myrtle Point

Further particulars of the death of Geo. Adams at Myrtle Point Tuesday show that it was a case of suicide.

The unfortunate man committed the deed by cutting his throat with a razor, after careful preparation, severing the jugular vein and carotid artery. From the condition of the body and blood when found it was evident that death occurred about 7 a m Tuesday.

Mr. Adams went over to Myrtle Point about a month ago. On Monday morning he commenced work in the mill. He ate no supper that evening, and retired to his room at the hotel about 8 o'clock. He did not appear on Tuesday, and about 8:30 p m his door was forced open and the body discovered.

Justice of the Peace Ed. Bender summoned a coroner's jury and held an inquest, finding a verdict in accordance with the facts.

The body was brought to Marshfield yesterday and the funeral will be held under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, of which deceased was a member, at 2:30 p m today, from the family residence.

Mr. Adams had been a resident of Marshfield for many years, and formerly conducted a barber shop here. He leaves a widow, but no children.

From Friday's Daily.

Dr. John G. Cook of Empire was in town Thursday on professional business.

Julius Larsen brought up a scow load of logs for Flanagan's market yesterday.

Mrs. L. J. Simpson and Mrs. Bod Turpin of North Bend did shopping in town Thursday.

John Grant and family have moved from South Marshfield to their new residence in Ferndale.

A man named Filler is reported sick with the smallpox near Randolph. Dr. Kime has him in charge.

Mr and Mrs Wm Eickworth returned yesterday from a few days' visit with Mr and Mrs Wirth at Millacoma.

J. B. Rochon is doing some fine lettering on the windows of the Garfield, where the Broiler man will soon be holding forth.

Three steamers went to sea yesterday, bound for San Francisco. The Arcata led the way, followed by the Czarina and the Signal.

I. Becker, of Coquille City is in town on his way home from Empire where he has been seeing about some improvements to his property there.

Mrs. James Catching, of the Sumner neighborhood, who was taken up the slough Monday, after being in town for medical treatment had not reached home yesterday, being still at Thomas Boone's in Sumner.

M. J. Wilson, who has been logging on the south fork of the Coquille, has been visiting his relatives on Daniels creek, and was in town yesterday.

John Snyder, Jr., is having considerable trouble with his eye which was recently burned by a cinder while he was working on the passenger train.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nasburg, "Jo" Grimes and C. F. McKnight spent a few days up Haynes slough for a season of duck shooting.

The Bazaar held by the ladies of the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and evening was well attended and financially successful.

Mrs. Maggie Hodson, who has been in town for several weeks in care of a doctor, was taken to Sumner yesterday. Her condition is not encouraging.

The Templeton mail carrier could only get part way with the mail and was obliged to turn back owing to obstructions from fallen timber on Wednesday.

Smith B. Squires and A. T. Andrews have purchased the fixtures of the old Broiler establishment and will open a confectionery establishment in that place.

Geo. Tillotson, who has charge of the Simpson dredger, brought her up yesterday in tow of the Blanco, and took her to Isthmus slough where he will do some dyking on the Archer place.

R. Gunnarson, an up-to-date printer, and a reliable young man, has taken charge of the COAST MAIL job office. Our customers are assured of first-class work and the same promptness and fair treatment to which they are accustomed.

Dr. Haydon, who came over from Bandon yesterday, reports that many logs had passed the booms on the river and were going to sea. When he left Bandon yesterday morning it was estimated that 1500 logs had gone out over the bar.

Emil Peterson of North Bend has received a letter from his friend Alfred A. Johnson, who is well known on the Bay. It is dated at Sande Fuca, Wash., and conveys the information that the writer is considerably elated over the arrival of a nice, healthy daughter, who put in her appearance on Oct. 25th.

Hardy Mast, of Lee, came over on yesterday's train and went to North Bend on business. He reports that his mother, Mrs. Lottie Mast, who was injured by falling from a apple tree recently and running some myrtle stubs into her cheek and temple, is getting along nicely.

Disastrous Wrecks

Corelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases John Frouse Druggist. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Carry County Recorder—Fishing on Rogue river has been discontinued for the present on account of the rains and the rise in the river, and all employees engaged in catching salmon and those employed in the cannery have been laid off. The fishing interests here feel highly gratified at the results obtained so far this season.

The storm knocked the Western Union telegraph line galley west, and it was down at both ends and the middle yesterday. This also prevented finding out what had become of the mail, which failed to show up yesterday for the first time this season. It is presumed to be flood-bound at Brewster valley. The telephone line to Roseburg was working yesterday, and Manager Robertson was smiling.

Accidentally Killed

W. H. Erdice, one of the proprietors of the Coquille City creamery, was killed Wednesday by being crushed under the elevator, on which was about a ton of cheese. He was a man of family and about 40 years old, and was also a member of the W. of W.

Logs Come Out

All the logs put in this season on the Middle creek and the north fork of the Coquille came out on the freshed and were stopped in the boom at Lee. There were some 3,000,000 feet from Middle creek and several times as many from the north fork.

Narrow Escape

Miss Anna Stone, who is employed at Dr. Horstall's home, met with an accident Wednesday which might have resulted quite seriously. Her clothing caught from the brick fire while she stood in front of the fireplace, and had it not been for prompt assistance and quick work of other members of the family, she would probably have been badly burned. She was only slightly burned.

BODY FOUND ON BEACH

Supposed to be Passenger on the Wrecked South Portland

Dave Holden, who is driving the stage on the beach to the Umpqua, reports finding the body of a man on the beach about 1 1/2 miles beyond Tenmile creek, on his trip North Wednesday. The head and feet were gone, and the body was in an advanced stage of decomposition, having evidently been in the water about 3 weeks. Mr. Holden estimates the man to have been about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches in height and well built. On the body was found blue silk underclothing, a pair of grey pants and a brown leather belt, and these articles may lead to identification of the body which is supposed to be that of a passenger on the ill-fated South Portland. Mr. Holden moved the body to the top of the seawall and notified the Douglas county authorities. Later he employed some fishermen to bury the body on the sea wall.

When you dance don't avote the fiddler next day, hoping he will forget to present his bill. The fiddler never forgets.—Atchison Globe.

The Real Thing.

"Tell me, Harold," she said as the gentle old horse they were driving along the country road dropped into a walk, "am I your ideal girl?" "No," he said fervently. "You're my real girl!" Whereupon the horse, finding himself totally neglected, stooped and began to browse.—Chicago Tribune.

An Unjust Aspersions.

"Yes, our society's new president certainly is a busy woman, but they say she is neglecting her duties as a wife and mother."

"That is not true. I know for a fact that she manages to see her family almost every day."—Brooklyn Life.

Confession.

"Pardon me, dear," said the village editor's bride, "for appearing at dinner in my wrapper, but—"

"Oh, that's all right," interrupted the knight of the paste pot; "some of our best thoughts come to us in wrappers." —St. Louis Star.

Envious.

Visitor—You haven't got half as nice a cemetery here as we have in Elmville.

Prominent Citizen (of Hawville)—No, I've always heard that the cemetery is the only part of your town that holds out any inducements for permanent residents.—Chicago Tribune.

A Wonder of Precocity.

Christian Heinecker was born at Lubec on the 6th of February, 1721. When only ten months old he could repeat every word spoken to him. At twelve months of age he had memorized all the principal events in the Pentateuch. Before he had finished his second year of existence he had learned all the historical parts of both the Old and the New Testament. At the age of three he could reply correctly to all questions put to him regarding universal history and geography, and in the same year he learned to speak both Latin and French.

In his fourth year he employed his time in studying arithmetic, especially the history of the Christian church. He was not only able to gibber repeat all that he had read, but was also able to reason with considerable judgment and to give his own opinion of things in general. The king of Denmark wished to see this wonderful child, so he was taken to Copenhagen. After his return to Lubec he learned to write and was beginning on the study of music and mathematics; but his constitution being very weak, he took down and died on June 27, 1725, aged four years, four months and twenty-one days. What a wonderful record for such a short life!

Buttered Locks.

In Abyssinia one method of doing the hair that is adopted by warriors is to stroll into the market place, buy a pound of butter and, putting it upon the top of the hair, stand still while the sun arranges things. When the hair is thus dressed with melted butter the Abyssinian knows that fate cannot or will not touch him. He is a picture of well dressed elegance done in oils. Another style is to tress the hair, and every tress means something. A young warrior with a head of hair untressed is of no account. He has not yet killed a man. When, however, he has done so all his hair is shaved off except enough to make one tress, which is of the same significance as a notch on a pistol stock. After that every man he kills entitles him to add another tress until as a conquering hero of 100 tresses he is a formidable man to try conclusions with.

Crimoline.

Crimoline had its origin in a woven fabric composed of hair and linen (fax) warp; hence the name. This fabric was first used for shoes, then for bonnets, the word being coined in 1839. As this article was costly and did not extend the dress to the desired bulk light steel hoops were fitted with tape upon the bird cage principle. So popular was the crimoline in 1862 that the rolling of the steel developed a great trade in Sheffield, and one firm alone averaged an output of from ten to fifteen tons a week. Several deaths occurring by fire through the use of crimoline killed the fashion, but Dr. Richardson in his "Field of Diseases" gives an instance of a lady escaping from the effects of being struck by lightning by the hoops acting as conductors.

Rearranging the Beds.

"You are charging me $7 a week for board and lodging, Mrs. Irons," said the gray haired person of the name of Harris. "May I ask how you would itemize it? What part of it is for board?"

"Five dollars," replied the landlady. "And $2 for my room?"

"Yes." "Well, if you don't mind, Mrs. Irons," he said, proceeding to square up for another week, "we'll consider hereafter that I'm paying $5 for lodging and $2 for board. It will seem more as if I were getting the worth of my money." —Chicago Tribune.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned wishes to express his sincere thanks to those friends who so kindly evinced their sympathy and condolence in the death of his beloved brother, Oliver Marcuse Marcuse, and especially to Mrs. Jensen and to Mr. and Mrs. Josephson and to those who brought flowers to the grave.

HENRY C. MARCUSE,
Brother of deceased

BORN

HIBBARD—In Marshfield, Or., Nov. 6, 1903, to the wife of Jas. Hibbard, a son.

DIED

HAYDON—At Bandon, Or. Nov. 8 1903. Edith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Haydon, aged 17 years.

Deceased had been seriously ill for a week or more, and Dr. Haydon was called from here to her bedside last week. The funeral took place Tuesday.

MARCUSEN—In Marshfield, Or., Nov. 7, 1903, Oliver Marcuse, aged 48.

The deceased was a native of Norway. He came to the Bay the early part of this year, and made some investments in property, and he has been living alone in West Marshfield, until about two weeks ago, when the progress of his disease, consumption, caused him to move to Mrs. Jensen's boarding house, where he died. He had no relatives here but had a brother, C. H. Marcuse, at Bohemia, who was telegraphed for and arrived yesterday.

The funeral will take place today at 2 p. m. from the Lutheran church. Rev. B. F. Beangton officiating.