A Runaway Bicycle

Terminated with a ugly cut on the leg of J. E. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c, at Red Cross Drug Store.

R. A. Huffscheidt has severed his connection with the Coos Bay Iron Works, and Fred Nelson will carry on the business hereafter.

The Sumner young people are making preparations for a masquerade ball on the Saturday after Thanksgiving, and it will undoubtedly be a grand affair.

W. J. Butler is agent for C. P. Heinger & Co., dealers in smokers' goods and sell pipes only to the trade. Mr. Butler carries a full line of samples and can supply any business man in that line to the Queens taste.

The Empire is on the dry dock in San Francisco, having twisted her rudder on the way down. She is expected to get off this evening and sail tomorrow. The Arcata is scheduled to sail for Coos Bay Friday.

Tom Micklewright has a new glass show case counter. It is the work of C. H. Marsh. The case is made of Myrtle and is especially designed for a counter and show case combined. Mr. Micklewright expects a large stock of silver ware and jewelry and general Christmas goods.

Windows for Alma

The little steamer Alma, from North Coos River, has been fitted up with a set of windows at the front end of the cabin, which will be a great improvement over the rolling canvas formerly used, especially in rainstorms.

A New York State Dairyman

Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Lattin and children and Alonzo McDougal, George McDougal, and Ira Bacon all of Elmira, N. Y., arrived on the Alliance. Mr. Lattin has rented the Dr. Cook farm on Big Creek. Mr. Lattin came here last winter. He returned in the spring and brought his family with him. He is going to operate a dairy and will milk about 50 cows and make butter. This gentleman is an experienced New York dairy farmer and thoroughly understands the art of butter making. A gasoline launch will be used to facilitate operations between the farm and Marshfield which will be their market. These gentlemen like Coos Bay and have leased the Cook farm for five years.

Logs all Safely Boomed

Dr. J. T. McCormac returned from the Coquille yesterday and reports that the logs which came down the Coquille during the recent freshet are all safely within the various booms on the river, excepting about 150 that went out over the bar and a few that were beached near Bandan.

There are in all about 15,000 logs, fir, cedar and spruce and they are an unusual good lot.

Mr. McCormac has about 7000 logs in his Cedar Point boom on the Coquille and the one at Eagle Point on the Isthmus. There are now about 600,000 worth of logs in these two booms and Mr. McCormac says that he expects to fill this boomage at least four times this season.

These logs are nearly all for the Simpson Lumber Co. This is but a drop in the bucket so far as the amount of logs which the Simpson Lumber Co. cut in a season.

The development of these booms has benefited the lumber business both here on the bay and on the Coquille, whereby logs could be handled in a way for shipment to Coos bay mills, giving us virtually the entire Coquille timber output at the doors of our bay mills, while on the other hand they are of vast benefit to the Coquille timber men, giving them a ready log market.

A man who paid the cash in advance for a paper because he wants it is worth more to the advertiser than a dozen who have the paper forced upon them.

If you have a little job of printing give it to your home printer. When you want a favor from the printer you surely don't go away from home for it.

Doesn't Respect Old Age

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to these perfect pills. 25c, at Red Cross Drug Store.

Richard Noble had the misfortune to run into a cross cut saw striking his head cutting a severe gash in his scalp. Mr. Noble knows that a cross cut saw is harder than his head.

The Evergreen Whist club will meet at the home of Mrs. S. H. Hazard this evening, this being the regular monthly meeting at which the gentlemen friends of the members are entertained.

Some miscreant turned the scow adrift used by Peter Clausen for transporting lumber and supplies from the mill to the Masonic Temple. This may be fun for some boys but Mr. Clausen is not a little annoyed by such pranks. This would not be very pleasant for the one doing it if he finds out the parties, however, they are pretty well known.

Skipped Out

Mr. White of the firm of White & Matson, loggers has left a lot of loggers as mourners to the tune of salaries unpaid amounting to several hundred dollars. He has skipped, vamoosed, disappeared.

Not a Sick Day Since

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at John Preece Druggist.

Catch the Brute

A horrible story of outrage comes from North Bend, but it seems that there is but slight clue to the guilty party. Every effort should be made to apprehend the beast, and if caught it will take fine work to keep him from meeting his just deserts without benefit of clergy.

Alta Back

The Alta's voyage was cut very short this trip by the obstinacy of her gasoline engine which balked several times before she reached North Bend and finally refused to work altogether. She was then run on the mud near the Bend where she remained all night. Larsons launch, Penelope, towed her back to town this morning.

Stock Sold

R. J. Coke, Receiver for H. Sengstacken has sold the stock of merchandise and fixtures to H. Lockhart, who took charge yesterday morning.

SPECIAL ILLUSTRATED EDITION

Coast Mail Will Issue one on New Years

The special illustrated edition of the COAST MAIL, for which plans have been maturing for several months, will be issued on the first of the year.

It will consist of 32 or more pages, printed on fine book stock, with a handsome cover. This number will contain descriptive matter of Coos county with a large number of new illustrations, and it is the intention to give a comprehensive review of the progress made by this community during the past year.

We do not promise to get out a bigger and better number than our last Holiday number, but we hope to do so. The pages will be smaller and there will be more of them. The printing and binding will be done in this office and the class of work will be as good as can be got in Oregon. A reasonable amount of advertising space will be sold and a large number of extra copies will be printed.

Every subscriber to the daily or weekly COAST MAIL will receive a copy of this edition. Extra copies will be 15 cents each, but we will book advance orders until December 1st at 10 cents each.

We make this low rate so that we may know before printing about how many copies will be needed to supply the demand. Send the money with your order or not, as best suits your convenience. We will guarantee satisfaction, or refund any advance payment made. If desired we will mail the paper to any addresses you may furnish. In cases where the papers are to be mailed from this office advance payment is necessary.
Further announcement will be made later.

Disastrous Wrecks

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Craig of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases. John Preece Druggist. ### From Friday's Daily.

Judge D. L. Watson is spending a few days in town.

Lumber Schooner Abbie towed out by tug Columbia Thursday afternoon.

The friends of Cully Druhot will be glad to know that he will be back in Marshfield in a short time.

H. Sengstacken expects the stock shortly with which he will open an up-to-date drug store in the Golden building.

J. A. Matson has positively declined to be a candidate for councilman, and by the ruling of the caucus, this vacancy will probably be filled by the next time, H. Lockhart.

If Marshfield business men really want to save a little money by sending out of Marshfield for the very biggest job work ever gotten out in Coos county, at cut prices, they have an opportunity to do so. But if they want work that will do them credit, they would better patronize the home office.

To the Voters of Marshfield

In the morning paper I noticed that you placed my name in nomination for mayor of your city. I thank you very sincerely for your kind and liberal consideration which I assure you I deeply appreciate; but I find that I can not serve you to advantage, as I expect to be out of town a great part of the time and will not be in position to give the office the attention it requires. I therefore respectfully decline the nomination.
HENRY SENGSTACKEN.

A Wide Difference

The editor of an exchange has discovered that there is a wide difference between the school books of the present and those of long ago. He says that when he first went to school he read the lesson something like this: "See the cow. Is not the cow nice? Can the cow run? Yes the cow can run. Can the cow run as fast as a horse?" But the latest up-to-date style of reading it by the average kid is about as follows: "Git onto the cow. Hain't she a bute? Sure she is a corker. Can the cow get a move on herself? Can she hum it like a hoss? No she ain't in it wid de hoss."

Change of Candidates

Of the nominees of Wednesday night's convention, for councilmen, J. A. Matson and H. Lockhart declined, as he is holding a residence elsewhere.
If there are no other withdrawals, this leaves Chas. Lightwerk, John Johnson, Chas. Bradbury and W. F. Bowron as candidates for the 3 years term, R. J. Coke and A. J. Savage for two years.

The vote is given below as an indication of the line-up in case other vacancies occur.
Chas Lightwerk 79
C E Nicholson 77
John Johnson (Ferndale) 71
J A Matson 47
Chas Bradbury 41
W F Bowron 37
H Lockhart 35
R J Coke 27
A J Savage 26
Wm Deubner 17
F S Dow 13

Mr. Sengstacken Declines

That was rather a nice bouquet for H. S. — to be nominated for mayor without opposition, and with such unanimity and enthusiasm by the citizens' convention.

As will be seen by the notice in another column, Mr. Sengstacken declines to run, on the ground that he would be unable to give to the office the attention it requires. This is greatly to be regretted. Mr. Sengstacken is thoroughly wide-awake and progressive and those qualities will be need in the management of Marshfield's affairs in the next few years. It is certain that there will be great disappointment at Mr. Sengstacken's decision.

BORN

COFFELT—On Coos River, Or. Nov. 19, 1903, to the wife of E. T. Coffelt, a daughter.

DIED

HIRST—In Marshfield, Or., Nov. 14, 1903 Thomas Hirst, aged 68 years, 6 months and 29 days.

The deceased was born in England, April 15, 1835. He went to Australia at the age of 19. On Nov. 12, 1855 he was married in New South Wales to Miss Louise A Milton, who survives him. Three years later they came to America, and coming to Coos in 1859. They lived a short time on the Coquille, settling later at Eastport, where they resided several years. Then they went to Nantiamo, B. C., but returned later to Coos Bay, when Mr. Hirst bought an interest in the mercantile business of Andrew Nasburg at Marshfield, then a very small town. After conducting their business for several years in the building now occupied by Coleman's blacksmith shop they constructed what was then one of the finest store buildings on the Bay, and for many years the firm of Nasburg & Hirst was identified with the development of this section. They did a solid and conservative business and enjoyed a large trade, especially among the farmers. After the death of his partner Mr. Hirst carried on the business. In July 1902, Mr. and Mrs. Hirst started on a well earned vacation, intending to visit their old home in Southern hemisphere. When they arrived in Australia they found it so hot and dusty that they stayed only a short time. They returned to San Francisco in October, where they visited friends. On Jan. 10th Mr. Hirst was taken seriously ill, and from this sickness he never fully recovered. They arrived home April 5th. Mr. Hirst then appeared in good health but failed steadily and for a long time his condition had been considered very critical.

Thomas Hirst was one of the most highly respected citizens of Marshfield. Of a jovial disposition, he was universally liked, and his strict integrity and thorough reliability won the highest esteem. He was a valued member of the Masons, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias. The Odd Fellows will have charge of the funeral which takes place at 2 p. m. tomorrow, and it is expected that the Knights also attend in a body. Rev. Wm. Horsfall will conduct the service at the family residence.

Using the Toothbrush.

A German dentist says that few persons know how to use the toothbrush properly and that it is quite as important to brush the roof of the mouth as the teeth.
