

THE OLD RELIABLE

Absolutely Pure

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Wednesday's Daily.

H. N. Black, of Sumner, was a visitor to Marshfield yesterday.

The Degree of Honor entertained invited friends with a social time and refreshments last evening.

Dr. Mingus is again able to come down town, after his operation for appendicitis, whereat many friends are pleased.

The L. A. Club met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Weider. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Miss Merchant.

Gardiner Gazette:—Geo. Sealey, formerly of the Life-Saving station at this place, but who resigned his position and left for a trip through Ireland last summer, has returned. He came in on his old friends rather unexpectedly last night. He reports having had a grand trip both ways but says he is glad to be in Ore, again.

John, not Dan

In our dispatch from Myrtle Point in yesterday's paper, the wrong name was given to the central figure in the fracas. John, not Dan, McCulloch was his name.

Renewed Arcata

The Arcata sails from San Francisco Thursday. She had been on the drydock, has new tubes in her boilers, new paint all over, and has had a general overhauling. She will probably break some records, now.

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Julliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by Jno. Preuss.

Emergencies

Should a child swallow a button, lower a button-hole down its throat with a piece of string, pass it over the button and yank it out.—If you see a runaway horse approaching and are unable to get out of his way, speak to him firmly, saying, "Lie down, sir?"

Dredge Ready Soon

Morton Tower, government engineer, was in town yesterday. He informs the MAIL that he expects to inaugurate dredging operations on the Pony slough hogs-back about the first of the year. The work of building a new hull to carry the machinery, which is now on the Coquille, has commenced, and the dump scows are already built. This work will result in a great improvement to navigation.

Goes to Coos Bay

(Florence West)

An agreement has been made by which the steamer Lillian will be employed as a tender for the government dredger at Coos Bay, and the Lillian will be taken down there as soon as the ocean calms down enough to permit.

Captain Ludvig Christensen will be master of the craft, with J. J. Emmons as engineer.

Both gentlemen will take their families to Coos Bay while they are employed there. It is expected this work will take about six months.

CITY ELECTION

Little Interest and Very Small Vote Cast

Henry Sengstacken, mayor, W. H. S. Hyde, recorder, Chas. Lichtwerk and W. F. Bowron, councilmen for three years, Wm. C. Deubner, councilman for two years. This was the ticket elected at yesterday's city election, at which 82 votes were cast.

Following is the vote in detail: For mayor, H. Sengstacken 80, F. P. Norton 1; for recorder, W. H. S. Hyde 77, R. P. Smith 1; for councilmen for three years, Chas. Lichtwerk 47, W. F. Bowron 40, John Johnson 31, A. J. Savage 31; for councilmen for two years, Wm. Doeberner 38, F. S. Dow 35, J. J. Kronholm 2, A. J. Savage 1.

Very little interest was taken, as in evident from the small number of votes cast, smaller even than last year, when there were 101.

Travel By Sea

Passengers arriving on steamer Navarro Dec. 2nd 1903 from Portland. H. M. Van Amoring, W. M. Cox, Chas. Holmstrom, John Hankanson, Rev. Thos. M. Waller, Geo. R. Sawyer, C. N. Rodgers,

Freight Blockade Unbroken

The Navarro arrived from Portland yesterday and is scheduled to sail at 5 p. m. today on her return trip.

She was unable to clear up the congestion of freight at Portland, although she brought all she could carry. There are several weeks' accumulation still left on the Portland dock, which may or may not be cleared up by the Alliance and Navarro on the next trip.

Labor Meeting

The labor meeting at I. O. O. F. hall last evening, called to listen to an address by G. Y. Harry, organizer of the A. F. L. was well attended.

The MAIL will make no comment on Mr. Harry's address until that gentleman has an opportunity to call at this office and be shown how badly he was mistaken about the "paid advertisement" in this paper, which he will please consider this an invitation to do,

Calf Foot Jelly

Get a yard of the material, i. e., three feet, Chicago beef is best, as the calves have the largest feet. Cut off the calf for future reference. Wash the feet, applying chlorin remedies when necessary, boil them for a while or so, add enough glue to thicken; stir in a few molasses, strain through a cane-seated chair. Pour the amalgamation into a blue bowl with red pictures on it, and send the whole business to a sick friend.

Yeal Yeal

The Fraternal Order of Eagles was born in Seattle, Wash., Feb. 6, 1898, less than six years ago, and its growth has been marvelous; phenomenal, and today, from the rock-ribbed shores of Maine, to the golden sands of the Pacific Coast, from the frozen North to the land of the fig and date, with British Columbia and Canada joined in hands of brotherhood, and a charter on the way to the Orient and far off Europe, we stand a united brotherhood, proclaiming to the world, in the birth of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, that a divine democracy, or brotherhood of man, is born under its banner, and its colors the red, white and blue, with the mottoes of Liberty, Truth, Justice and Equality emblazoned thereon. The numerous barriers and bulwarks that had been set up against the great unorganized thousands of our fellow-men, demanded a change, and that they be given a fraternal home wherein they could be taught the great principles of the "fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man." This long felt necessity has now been satisfied by the organization of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the original organizers of which consisted of five men. The pleasant social features of this society attracted so many members of democratic tendencies and fraternal instincts, that it became necessary to perpetuate it.

Though its beginning was in obscurity, its end, can never be, until that millennial condition arrives, when there is no oppressor nor oppressed, no classes nor masses, no obscure one to be raised. Yet more, until every sinner becomes a saint, and every saint his fraternal brother.

"Till the sun grows cold
And the earth is old,
And the leaves of the judgment
book unfold."

Until all this work is done we are still of the earth, earthy, and our mission is not yet ended, nor can it be ended until man is endowed with the divine attribute of universal love.

Our aim in life is to alleviate the sufferings of a brother, zealously to watch at the bedside of the sick, to soothe the dying pillow, and perform the last sad rites at the grave, offering consolation to the afflicted, and caring for the widows and orphans.

Our cardinal principles are, toleration in religion, obedience to the law, and loyalty to our government.

The Eagles have passed the experimental stage, and are now a recognized entity in the affairs of man, the result of which would justify the most sanguine expectations of our most zealous members.

Let us be to the world what we are to ourselves, just, kind and considerate, meet censure, criticism and opposition with such conduct as will rob venom of its sting. Under no condition retaliate, though unkind things be said of you, and by no doing we will turn the dart aimed at us against the ones who cast it.

If we can get but a small percentage of those to whom our principles would appeal, it should be the strongest, as it is the most enthusiastic fraternal organization on the continent of America.

From Friday's Daily.

RECTOR OF ST. LUKE'S

Ashburnham, Ontario, Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Ashburnham, Ont., April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I should tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced. The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your Cough Remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle, and took about three doses of the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold had completely disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter Day. I know that this rapid and effective cure was due to your Cough Remedy. I make this testimonial without solicitation, being thankful to have found such a Godsend remedy. Respectfully yours,
E. A. LANGFELDT, M. A.,
Rector of St. Luke's Church,
To Chamberlain Medicine Co.
This remedy is for sale by Jno. Preuss.

Off for a Trip

Fire Companies Combine

A mass meeting of the members of the Marshfield Fire Department was held last evening, and it was decided to combine the several organizations of the fire department into one company. A meeting will be held next Thursday evening to effect the new organization.

No Prosecution

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Farrin went to Myrtle Point Wednesday to look into the circumstances of the recent row there in which one John McCulloch beat up an old man named Joe Kennedy. On investigating the affair it was decided not to prosecute the case. It seems that the row started in a poker game and Kennedy struck the first blow, and although the wounds on his head were evidently made by some sharp instrument, it would be difficult to prove it.

North Bend Items

The town is gradually moving forward, improvements are slowly being made. Street work is carried on and plans which were made some time ago are being worked out. There is a large amount of work yet to be done before the grades are all obtained, yet for a new town this can make as good a showing as any town of its age on the Pacific Coast.

The vault for the new bank was re-closed Wednesday and the building is nearing completion as fast as possible.

The large 5 story hotel building, being built by Mr. Gordon is inclosed and will be modern in every respect.

Mrs. E. Erickson has opened a short order eating house in connection with her confectionery store and the best of meals will be served at all hours.

A large consignment of wool has been received at the Woolenmill and the plant will be in full operations soon. Arrangements have been made to transport the Bandon plant here as soon as it can be accomplished and the floor spaces are already allotted and arranged for the power. The machinery will be brought to Coquille and from there to Eagle Point and loaded onto barges, thence direct to the dock at the mill. There will be about fifteen car-loads. When this plant is added to the one which is already at the mill the North Bend Woolen mill will not have an equal on the Pacific coast. Mr. Clark feels proud of his achievement as he has one of the most substantial buildings on the coast of the kind. The new machinery is all of the latest pattern and the finest goods will be turned out.

Peter Loggie, manager of the North Bend Sash & Door factory has that plant about ready to start. This is the best and largest mill of the kind on the Pacific coast. Everything is uniquely arranged and the machinery is of the latest kind. The large dry-kilns are now being filled and the mill will soon be steamed up. This mill will have the largest possible capacity for the least expenditure of energy consistent with the best grade of work. The plans of this company when fully carried out, is a large band saw mill, which will be built and run in connection with the plant. Mr. Loggie has built the two large kilns after plans of his own and the idea is an original one. The two kilns are as near fire proof as possible, built out of wood and cement and are arranged so when closed that steam and water can be turned in instantly and fire extinguished. The new mill was planned after a careful study had been made of all the prominent mills in Oregon and Washington and only the good points in all those have been utilized in the construction of this mill.

The extension of the wharf is progressing and when completed North Bend will have the best public wharf of any city in Oregon.

It has been rumored that the mills at North Bend and Porter would be shut down. This we are informed is not true but logging has been eased up on some but both mills have an ample supply of logs for a long run, as the alarmist is talking through his millinery.

Many new buildings are going up, ever though winter is here and many more will be built and needed before spring.

Hotel North Bend is one of the best equipped hotels on the bay and would do credit to a much larger town. The rooms and the entire house has an air of splendor and the meals are excellent and mine host Bud Turpin has reason to feel proud of his popular hostelry.

North Bend business men are all enjoying a good trade and seem to be content, notwithstanding that Marshfield is making a hard pull for its share of the mercantile business from Bend people,

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

Two Sailors Invade a Private Boarding House

Gar Sutton and Al Phil, two sailors off the Navarro, are lying in the city jail awaiting examination before Justice Hyde at 10 a. m. today on a charge of burglary.

They were doing the town Wednesday night, and after ginning up sufficiently they started for some point on the northern outskirts of the city. Going up Cedar street they arrived at Mrs. Kaino's boarding house and evidently thought they had reached their objective point.

The front door being unfastened, they went into the house. They raised some disturbance and were thrown out by some of the men in the house. Not satisfied, they went in the second time and were again ejected, but stayed there trying to get in until Nightwatchman McCulloch, who had been summoned by phone, arrived and placed them under arrest.

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Farrin being absent on the Coquille, the case rested until his return yesterday noon, when a complaint was filed charging the men with burglary, and the case was set for 10 a. m. today.
