For Goodness' Sake

EDITOR MAIL, Marshfield, Oregon, Dear Sir:— For Goodness sake, what are you doing now. For goodness sake, are you writing our writing our advertisements? For goodness sake, is that type setter of yours out of a job? For goodness sake, what do you want to spoil a good thing for. For goodness sake, I thought you were next to yourself. For goodness sake, I'm so mad so I'll say no more, for 'tis time for the geese in the geese house to turn out the light. F. S. Dow.

Water Receding

On Tuesday the freshet on the Coquille river had reached its highest point and began to recede at Myrtle Point. The river has been full of logs and nearly all have been stopped at the booms and segregated to their respective departments, but few passing, and they were logs which belonged to the lower river. The logs coming down were mostly from the middle and an North Forks.

Coos-river has fallen several feet, Captain Edwards left early yesterday on the return trip to enable him to get through the floating logs safely. The freshet has done very little damage so far.

Friendly Spirit

The citizens of North Bend circulated a subscription for A. J. Davis, who had the unfortunate to have his new store building blown down. They met with good success, raising over $500 in a short time. This was presented to Mr. Davis to show the good will of the citizens.

The above is one of the things which always takes place in an up-to-the-times and progressive community where a businessman meets with unexpected misfortune. Mr. Davis is amply able to rebuild his store but the citizens realize the serious loss and wish to demonstrate their feelings and interest in his business in a substantial manner. May the present spirit of friendliness never die out.

Encourage the Hustler

If you want a live town, push the hustler. Few towns are without men who have more push and energy than means to carry out their plans. Perhaps the hustler may occasionally make a mistake, possibly he may over-reach in his efforts to build up the town, keep him going, help him push. He may become weary and should be encouraged. Don't get jealous of him and throw cold water on his efforts. It is more difficult to build up than to tear down; that is why so many are engaged in destroying what the few are creating. A half dozen active men in a town are worth more to it than a hundred passive men. It takes more enterprise than money to build up a town. Get behind the hustler and keep pushing; don't push back. If you can't push crawl out of sight and sit down. If you can't say a good word say nothing.

Will Work Prisoners

Purport to and under the authority of an act which was passed at the last regular session of the Legislature, Superintendent James, of the Penitentiary, is now making preparations to begin work on the roads between the state institutions; that is the roads from the Penitentiary to the Asylum, to the Asylum Farm, to the Deaf Mute School and to the Reform School, altogether about 20 miles of road. While it provides that the state shall furnish the money for the work, convicts to do it, and empowers the Superintendent of the prison to hire or purchase such extra teams as shall be found necessary to do the work, and employ a suitable person to oversee it, Marion county is required to furnish all of the necessary machinery and gravel and material with which to carry on the work.

Remember When You Buy Meat

The following story was recently told of a Marshfield married couple for which the husband had been accustomed to do all the buying. The husband finally had so much business on hand that it became necessary to turn the buying over to his wife. One morning he told her to get a shin bone to make some soup. She asked him what a shin bone was and the husband lifted his trousers and indicated that portion of the anatomy. When the wife arrived at the butcher shop she had forgotten the name of the bone wanted, and to inform the butcher, had to lift her skirts and show her shins. When she returned home she told her forgetfulness and how she had to show her shins to let the butcher know what she wanted. The husband heaved a tired sigh and said, "well my dear, I am glad I did not tell you to get a rump roast."

To Organize Board of Trade

Those interested in organizing a board of trade in Marshfield are requested to meet at the fire department hall tonight. There is nothing where Marshfield can benefit itself more than by having a live board of trade, which will rattle to encourage any new proposition which may arise, such as promoting a milk condensery, pulp mill, broom factory or any other enterprise which may seek a location in Marshfield. Every influential businessman in Marshfield should put his shoulder to the wheel in organizing this Marshfield board of trade, as the Coos Bay Chamber of Commerce cannot handle enterprises for any one locality. Marshfield citizens are generally wide awake to their own best interests and no doubt will see the advantage of in this move. The business men see that a united effort should be made to create a pay roll. It is to be hoped that this will result in action that will be of material benefit to Marshfield.

Perfect Confidence

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Pasford, of Poolesville Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject of severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Jno. Preuss.

River Falling

The Coquille river had fallen last evening so the track at Cedar Point was just about bare, the water having fallen about 3 1/2 feet and it is thought by this morning that it will be within the bank. The train may possibly get through today.

Log jam

The logs which were running out of the East fork of North Coos river have formed a jam near the mouth and are fast and solid. Fred Noah has undertaken to break the jam with his bull team. It is thought that several weeks will be required to let them out.

Passed Away

Jack, Otto Schetter's true and faithful dog, has passed from this world of ours to the regular dog heaven. Tuesday, something went wrong with his diges-ive organs and Otto exhausted all medical skill at his command. It is now thought that he had an attack of appendicitis, but it was discovered too late. Poor Jack had a pedigree as long as any dog on the bay. The death of this dog is only another exemplification of the uncertainty of life. Otto has already an option on a high bred pup who will in the near future step into Jack's shoes.

A Rough Trip

The tug Columbia brought in the bald headed, three masted schooner Bella and the schooner Ivy, yesterday. The schooner Bella, Capt. Jensen, master, was out 21 days from San Francisco bound for Coquille. She encountered severe Southeast and Southwest winds and sighted Coos Bay several times in her drifting. Her mainmast was carried away and she was short of provisions and was finally obliged to put in here at last. She will load at the R. R. dock. The Ivy was 7 days out from San Francisco.

Postal Checks

The rapid extension of the rural free-delivery service increases the demand that the Government shall provide some easy, convenient, and safe method for the transmission of small sums of money through the mails, and was urged upon Congress the importance of passing some law which will insure to our people this advantage at as early a date as possible.

As the rural free-delivery service has been extended the number of letters carrying small amounts of currency has greatly increased. At present there is no convenient method provided in the rural districts for making such remittances through the mails except in currency or postage stamps, and such currency and stamp remittances are a constant temptation to those handling them.

Young Atkinsons Body Found

Word was brought to Eugene Saturday by Ernest Lyons and Edward Whiteaker of Walton, of the finding of the dead body of William Atkinson in the mountains.

Atkinson was about 20 years of age, and on Tuesday morning he left his home at Walton and went into the hills with dog and gun for a hunt. He did not return that evening, but that did not cause the least alarm, as he was thoroughly at home in the mountains, and the family thought nothing of his remaining out over night.

Alarm was occasioned on Wednesday however, by the return of the dog without his master. Searching parties at once went out and beat the timber thoroughly. About noon on Thursday Sidney Porter, who had gone to the head of Rock Creek, about five miles from the Atkinsons home, found the corpse lying face downward in the snow near a log, his gun some distance from the body. It was evident that he had become delirious from exposure and fatigue and succumbed to the cold.

CHINA NEW YEAR

OBSERVED IN MARSHFIELD

Chinese New Year began last Monday at midnight. The Marshfield Chinese are celebrating the event. The year is reckoned in the Chinese calendar as the thirtieth in the reign of the Emperor Kuang Sui. The Chinese in every town celebrate this holiday as no other holi-

Ayer's Hair Vigor advertisement with logo and text: Feed your hair; nourish it; give it something to live on. Then it will stop falling, and will grow long and heavy. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the only hair food you can buy. For 60 years it has been doing just what we claim it will do. It will not disappoint you.

day is so important in the estimation of a Chinaman as New Year.

If the good old custom of the Chinese could be adopted by Americans of the dread of being in debt on the beginning of New Year it would be a blessing in a way.

The Chinese have a peculiar belief in regard to the celebration of their new year. The closing of the old and the beginning of the new marks practically a new existence with the Celestials. All Chinamen believe that they are doomed to destruction if they permit the new year to find them in debt, and they use every effort to pay their bills before the new year day arrives. Then, too, if the relation between themselves and any of their acquaintances be stained they seek each other and square themselves with a good handshake. Both agree to forget the past. Should this practice be neglected, it is said that the guilty one is doomed to destruction.

MARSHFIELD BOARD OF TRADE Organization to Be Perfected This Evening

The meeting last evening to organize a board of trade was a great success, being well attended and most enthusiastic. J. W. Bennett was elected chairman and H. Lockhart secretary, and a committee was appointed to draft bylaws for the organization, and Dr. Tower, J. A. Matson and Wm. Nasburg being named. After a general and animated discussion of different questions which came up, the meeting adjourned until 7:30 this evening, at the same place, the firemen's hall. Everybody should turn out and help start the ball rolling.

When You Have a Cold

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For Sale by Jno. Preuss.

Greenland Whales sometimes attain the age of 400 years.

Waves faster than wind. Waves travel faster than the wind which causes them, and in the bay of Biscay frequently during the autumn and winter in calm weather a heavy sea gets up and rolls in on the coast twenty-four hours before the gale which causes it arrives and of which it is the prelude.
