PERSONAL AND LOCAL

From Saturday's Daily.

Guy C. Lattin, of South slough was doing business in town yesterday.

The steamer Homer sails for San Francisco at 6 o'clock this morning.

It is reported that the Coquille river is rising slowly but is not a high stage.

H. E. Bessey has rented the Ivy Condray farm, and has moved his family upon the same.

So far as can be learned, the rumor of damage to the Alliance in crossing out over the bar seems to have been without foundation.

The work of converting the shipyard shed into a warehouse for the Marshfield Deck & Warehouse Co. is progressing and the siding is now being put on.

I'm troubled with weak digestion, belching or sour stomach, use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will get quick relief. For sale by John Preuss.

Deputy United States Marshal W. A. Thomas, arrived in town Thursday from San Francisco to subpoena Guy C. Lattin and wife of South slough as witnesses at the Ames trial in San Francisco on the 9th of March.

Another New Boat

The MAIL is informed on good authority that the O. C. & N. Co. will not lag far behind in the matter of furnishing transportation, and that a fine passenger steamer will soon be placed on the run to San Francisco, carrying coal from the Libby mine in conjunction with the Arcata and Empire.

Hear Anything Drap?

C. H. Merchant, through his attorney W. U. Douglas received yesterday from a representative of L. D. Kinney $2000, the final payment on the land near Centerville which Major Kinney had bonded and which all of our Coos Bay wisecracks have been sure he would never redeem.

MARSHFIELD BOARD OF TRADE

Discusses Condenseries, and Furniture Factories and Hotels

The meeting of the Board of Trade Thursday evening was well attended and there was no sign of an abatement of interest in the work undertaken by this organization.

A considerable part of the session was taken up by the discussion of the milk proposition, and the consensus of opinion was that Mr. Seelye should be given every encouragement to locate a plant in Marshfield, and that an endeavor should be made by the board to meet any reasonable requirement in the way of site or bonus.

The matter of a furniture factory for Marshfield, was also brought up by the introduction of three letters recently received by J. W. Flanagan from furniture manufacturers, in reply to communications which he had sent them. At least one of these seemed to be well worth following up and President Matson instructed Secretary McKnight to write to the parties, giving them the information they called for, which touches the amount of ash, and oak timber available here and the amount of bonus offered. As neither of these woods is plentiful in the immediate vicinity of Marshfield, any one who can give information of any considerable bodies of either available will confer a great favor by communicating with the secretary of the Board.

The hotel facilities of the town were also discussed, and it was the unanimous opinion that an improvement was imperatively demanded, and that the Board should make it part of its business to see that they are furnished, and, if the owners of the existing hotels would not move in the matter, to find some one who would. President Matson accordingly appointed H. Lockhart, J. W. Bennett and F. S. Dow a committee to attend to the matter.

The following appointments of the two standing committees were announced:
 Industrial committee, H. Sengstack-Dr. Tower, Jas. Flanagan,
 Finance Committee: J. H. Milner, Wm. Nasburg, F. M. Friedberg.

From Sunday's Daily.

Morton L. Tower was a visitor in Marshfield Saturday.

A. Cavanaugh, of Catching slough, was in town yesterday.

Joe Hodson, of Coos river was in town on business yesterday.

B. F. Ross, of Ross slough, came to town yesterday to do some trading.

The schooner Signal was unable to sail yesterday owing to the weather.

Dr. Prentess returned today from Bandon where he had been on professional business.

Little Helen Guloison, daughter of M. P. Guloison is quite sick with rheumatism fever.

Geo. Kruse of Isthmus slough who has been visiting in town the past few days, returned Saturday.

C. F. McKnight and John Coke the Marshfield attorneys went to the sand hills last evening for a few days recreation.

The COAST MAIL will accept in advance the apology of the Coquille Bulletin for crediting a long article to the wrong paper.

Hon. Joe Laird, mail carrier for Ele Bange, was in town Saturday visiting his sister Miss Eva Laird of the Telegraph office.

A little boy who had watched the flames from a high building told his nurse that someone had made a hole in the earth and he had seen hades.

Sight singing and choral class—All those desirous of entering meet Monday evening at M. E. Church. Terms $2 per term of 20 lessons payable in advance. Mrs. C. T. McPherson, instructor.

Sir Henry Roscoe, in a privately printed book of lectures, says that once when he and the German scientist Bunsen were traveling together in England, they met a lady who mistook Bunsen for his cousin, the Chevalier Bunsen. "Have you finished your book, 'God in History, yet?'" she asked him. "No madam," he replied; "I regret that my untimely death has prevented my doing so."

LOST

A 16 inch Oliver Chubb plow. When last seen it was headed up a furrow on the Frank Ross place on Catching slough. The owner has some hope of finding the same when the weather clears up.

Fulton Floats

L. W. Shaw informs the MAIL that the Fulton has been afloat several times at high water, where she lies, at Port Orford, and the Dispatch is lying off in readiness to get a line to her and pull her off the beach as soon as the weather and sea will permit.

Another Cannery for Coquille River

Samuel Nass, of Astoria, has been rustling on the river for some time, with the result that he has formed a company which will build a salmon cannery at Prosper. Following are the names of the officers: R. W. Bullard, Pres.; T. P. Hanley, Vice-Pres.; Chas. Ashton, 2d Vice-Pres.; John Nielson, Sec.; N. Peterson, Treas.; J. E. Walstrom, P. Gehlke, William Hansen, J. A. Morrison and Sam Nass Directors. The company will incorporate immediately.

Wind at Port Orford

During the storm of Thursday one of the doors to the schoolhouse blew out and away, and the south side of the roof lost a large patch of shingles. The school took a sudden vacation and has been vacating ever since, but will probably resume next Monday. The roads were badly blockaded with timber, many fences were blown, telephone lines prostrated, and all the small streams were up out of their banks. The roads have been cleared, and other repairs are being made as fast as is possible.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack may be warded off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by John Preuss.

A Trio of Cockrels

A pretty good one happened recently to one of the clerks of Marshfield, but our informant wouldn't tell who. Knowing, however, that Vince Pratt handles more chickens than any other clerk in town, it certainly would be fair to guess that he was mixed up in it. It happened in this way: A blushing damsel from South slough tripped into the rear end of the store with three chickens under her arm. She held them for awhile and gazed about the store as if looking for some particular article. She finally laid the three birds down on the counter and started for the other end of the store, when the affable young clerk shyly asked her, "Will they lay there?" not knowing they were tied, and being too busy to take care of the poultry at the time. "Why no," she replied, "they are all three roosters." Mr. Pratt immediately began looking for something under the counter—but he never found it.

Juvenile Surprise Party

The young friends of Madge Savage gave her a surprise party Friday evening at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Savage. Games were played and nice refreshments served and the folks had a delightful time. In the guessing game the first prize was won by Mary Murphy, and Bessie Fyfe took the booby.

Those present were Misses Vivan Taylor, Nettie Morse, Mary Murphy, Uma Marsh, Ruby Campbell, Isia Marsh, Maribel Louie, Martha Bernitt, Florence Aiken, Bess Fyfe, Lillian Hall, Pearl Riggs, Grace Kruse, Hazel Tibbets, Madge Savage; Masters Ray Campbell Eddie Welder, Gordon Rasmussen, Tom Brown, Victor Dummick, Hansey Hansen, Ben Chandler, Pat Flanagan, Iris Elrod, Ben Wilson, Fred McCormac, Tom Minott, Joe Bennett, Eric Bolt, Harold Lee, Charlie Merchant, Charlton Lee, Willie Hutcheson.

An Assured Success

Chief Otto Schetter, of the Marshfield Fire Department, reports that the proposed historical souvenir of the department is meeting with decidedly liberal patronage on the part of the business men of the city. Mr. Looftonrow, who has been engaged by the department to complete the souvenir has been gathering data necessary in writing an authentic history of the organization. In speaking of the subject to a MAIL reporter, he said that there are many interesting incidents in connection with the early history of Marshfield's Fire Department, now all but forgotten. The boys are making arrangements to have their pictures taken, of which copper-plate reproductions will appear in the souvenir. The volume will no doubt be an interesting one—and we hope, its publication will quite materially aid the boys in their laudable efforts to improve the city hall and equip for themselves adequate quarters.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Hark Dunham was in town Monday.

The Carlos sails from San Francisco Wednesday morning.

E. H. Glenn of North Bend was in Marshfield Monday on business.

Mrs. F. M. Friedberg has been suffering several days from a severe attack of quinsy sore throat.

The meeting of the Ladies Presbyterian Aid Society has been changed to meet with Mrs. D. L. Watson Mar. 2nd.

Started up Again

Porter mill, which has been shut down for some time making repairs and installing a new band-saw plant in addition to the regular plant, started up again Monday and is running smoothly. This mill is now in fine shape for a big season's run and will have a capacity of 140 thousand per day.

Impromptu

Saturday evening some of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilbur dropped in on them unexpectedly and before the affairs stopped enough were there to fill three tables, so progressive whist was indulged in and a joyous good social time had. Mrs. Dr. McCormac carried off first prize, J. H. Taylor the booby. The party broke up after midnight.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by John Preuss.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church

On next Sunday evening, the pastor, Rev. Chas. T. McPherson, will begin a series of special sermons proposed especially for the business men of Marshfield and vicinity. General theme, "The Religious Instinct of Man". Subject, Sunday evening, "The Blessings of Solitude". At 11 a. m., the service will be especially for the children of the city. Subject, "The Blessedness of Giving". Parents are requested to prepare their children for the service.

A Committee of One

E. B. Seabrook who is known for his genial civility in all instances, nearly out did himself recently, when he went as a committee of one, representing the Marshfield Board of Trade, via launch to Empire to meet a distinguished capitalist, whom that august body wished to properly land in the interest of Marshfield. We dare not mention the details of just how the wonderful feat was accomplished, but possibly by approaching Mr. S. properly or leading up to it in the right way you can know.

A Collision

On Saturday morning, about daylight a collision occurred on the bay which did considerable damage. Robert Kruger was having his logging outfit towed up the bay to attend to some rafting work, when the steamer Homer was going out. The scow was being towed by the Mayflower and all lights were yet displayed, though it was near daylight. There was no occasion for a collision as the channel there was broad and the tug was entitled to the advantage. Fortunately the scow reared to one side or she would have been run under. Mr. Kruger says everything loose in the scow was put in a heap by the jar. Luckily the stove had no fire in it. The scow was considerably damaged and will have to be drawn out, recaulked and spiked.

Capsized

George Lattin, who has been delivering milk at North Bend for W. L. Walker, met with an accident while returning home Sunday morning. His boat, a sail boat, was capsized, the bay being unusually rough and the seas running high. He righted the boat and was clinging to it when picked up. Lattin remained in the water about one and a half hours before assistance reached him. E. E. Riggs rescued the man with a gasoline launch.

Mr. Lattin was nearly exhausted from cold and could not have lasted much longer, the water being extremely cold. He considers himself very lucky to be alive to tell his story. Word was sent to Marshfield for aid and Capt. Holland, Marshal Carter and George Boone left for the scene and had gotten within 50 rods of him when the other launch reached him. The Marshfield launch picked up the sail boat and returned to North Bend with it. Those going from here said it was the roughest they had seen it in many a day the launch dipping water many times.

What's the matter with Mr. Preuss, has he quit the drug business and gone to running gasoline launches for the benefit of school district number 7.

The subject is now before the people of consolidating the school in the rural districts. By all means let us consolidate the schools. Why should country boys and girls only have three, four or five months of schooling and the children in towns nine or ten. The education of the children is the future hope of the nation. We wish that some good speaker would come among us and call the people together put the subject before them plainly. Surely if the subject was properly understood there would not be a dissenting voice to the plan.

GETTING ALONG FAIRLY WELL

Not a Very Encouraging Statement of Mr Markievitch' Condition

Mrs. A. Markievitch received a letter yesterday from W. D. McNary, 2d assistant physician at the Oregon Insane Asylum, from which the MAIL is permitted to make the following extract:

"Mr. Markievitch is getting along reasonably well. He does not seem to be distressed by his confinement here and is apparently making the best of the situation. He, of course does not realize his past or present mental disturbance and, consequently, believes that he is confined here without just cause; but he is taking it cheerfully and seems to be in a very good humor most of the time and says that he will, of course, have to stay here until we change our views concerning him. His is a form of insanity that is usually very chronic and it does not yield readily to treatment, so I am not in a position to give you a very encouraging statement as to the outcome of his case. However, it is not devoid of hope and he may get along better than is anticipated. I think, however, you can count on it being a number of months at best before he would be in a condition to look after his own business."

Best Remedy for Constipation

"The finest remedy for constipation I ever used is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets," says Mr. Eli Butler of Frankville, N. Y. "They act gently and without any unpleasant effect, and leave the bowels in a perfectly natural condition. Sold by John Preuss"
