Ready For Big Movement

taining the effect of the fast attack.

Tokio, Apr. 1-Sixteen newspaper men, mostly British and American, left this morning for Moji, going with sixty Japanese transports for a destination which is kept secret.

. This is the first party to be freed, and it is considered to signify that a big land movement is about ready or has been inaugurated. A big crowd at Shimbashi station cheered the correspondents on their dequrture.

Ito returned from Korea today and immediately had an audience with the Emperor. It is believed that his visit will result in furthering the cordiality between the Korenn and Japanese courts.

Japs Pushing Ahead

Tokio, Apr. 1-The Japanese troops in advance of the main body are pushing the advantage gained in the battle of Chong Ju. according to private advices received here.

After defeating the Russians at Chong Ju the Japanese rested twelve hours, when they marched to Yang Chun, 25 miles. After a brief engagement the Russians retreated to Unsin 80 miles north east.

It is said that the Russian Cossack cavelry in the vicinity of Anju are in great distress. They are using telegraph poles for fuel while scores

Afraid of A Magnet

St. Petersburg. Apr. 2 Siberian papers report that the legend, to the effect that the Japanese possess a magnet which is used in time of battle to draw strength from their foes, has profoundly impressed the Russian troops. The Military authorities to counteract this superstition called soldiers from the ranks and had them hold a magnet to see if they felt any weakness, but the soldiers were not convinced, stating that the Japanese magnets were different

CITIZEN LAID TO REST

Faternal Organizations and Fire Department Participate Un Obsequies of Wm Nashurg

In mournful contrast to the beaucourness of the fair Easter day, a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends yesterday afternoon wended its way to the City of the Dead, where occoured the operquies of the late Wm. Naspurg, and his remains were laid to rest in the bosom of Mother Earth.

Not in the history of Marshfield has there before been a funeral so largely attended as was this. The long procession, paying its last respects to an pored fellow-townsman wasa wonderfully impressive one, and evidenced the bigh regard in which the deceased was

Reverend Wm. Horsfall, rector of the Episcopal church in this city, read the beautiful ritualistic service of the church at the late home of the decessed. A special choir consisting of Mrs. Smith, Misses Eickworth, Elsie Bennett, Alice Butler and Eva Anderson, and Messre, Smith and Nichole, sang touchingly those favorite hymns: "Asleep in Jesus" and "Abide With Me."

The ceremonies at the cemetery were onducted by the members, of Blanco Lodge No. 48, A F & A M of which the deceased was an honored member who has gone on the long dark journey to the Celestial Temple of the Supreme Architect on high, bearing with him the secret of the Mystic Circle and a knowledge of Pythagorean philosophy.

There is no sadder spectacle than this: the lying down to eternal rest of a young man whose life is all be fore him-whose efforts are just beginning to be crowned with the ruby promise of a access. Mr. Nasburg was an energetic, talented young man of sterling worth and ability, respected by all who knew him. This fact was evidenced by the large attendance at the funeral, in which procession appeared the - cial lodge of the most anient fraiernity Doris Chapter No. 23 Order of the Eastern Star, the Marshfield Fire Department, Mascot Lodge, Degree of Hopor, Mammoth Lodge No 87, A O U W, and a large number of the members of North Bend. 89, A O U W, besides many others not members of these socities who were Mr. Nasburg's friends in this life. The proc ession was headed by the Fire Department Band, which rendered dirge music as the following secended the hill to the last reeting place of all that remains of their eret-while friend and brother.

To the heartbroken wife, who is left behind to mourn her husband's untimely demice, and the other sorrowing members of the family ofhim who sleers by the side of his little child, under the spreading branches of a fatately evergreen, the heartfelt sympathy of the vatire community goes out, with a prayer on every lip that God will temper the wind to the shora lamb.

The Matie in Sweden.

In certain parts of Sweden, where the most absolute confidence is reposed in the honesty of the people, a very informal postal system is in vogue. As the mail steamer reaches a landing place a man goes ashore with the letters, which he places in an unlocked box on the pier. Then the passerby who expects a letter opens the box, turns over the letters and selects his own without being questioned by any Eldoredo Building,
