The bandit smiles with pleased vanity when the guard compliment him on his shrewdness as excuse for repeated speeches. A priest was with Neidemeir three hours this morning without apparently considering the condemned man.

NORTHERN SECURITIES MEETING

To Make Distribution of Assets

Protest Made by Some Interests

Hoboken, April 21.—The special meeting of the stockholders of the Northern Securities Co. to vote on the proposed reduction of the stock by 99 percent, and to distribute the assets on a pro rata basis, met at 11 o'clock.

The sensation was the filing of a protest by the Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific interests, who served notice that the shares of the capital stock of the Securities Co., in 1901 consisting of 37 million common and 41 million preferred and common stock into which said preferred had been converted belongs to the Oregon Short Line, that the Securities Co. is simply the custodian.

The protestants claim that they are entitled to the return to them of the certificates for said stock upon the surrender by the them or 82 millions of the Northern Pacific delivered by Harriman and Pierce to the Northern stock of the Northern Securities Co. and the payment of 8 million in cash received by them on such delivery of said Northern Pac. stock to the Northern Securities.

Notice was further given that the Securities has no right to distribute the Northern Pacific stock pro rata among the stockholders of the Northern Securities, and Judge Kirkpatrick's restraining order is cited.

A vote was then taken on the plan of distribution of merger stocks and it was adopted unanimously. It provides that the capital stock be reduced from 8,054,000 shares, now outstanding, to 39,540.

The court order obtained by Harriman, while not interfering with the meeting or the adoption of the plan, will restrain its execution until the Trenton court decides the case.

PREFERRED GOD'S LAW TO MAN'S LAW

If it Allowed Plenty of Wives

Brigham Roberts on the Stand

Washington, Apr. 20.—In the Smoot investigation, with Roberts said that he concealed his third marriage chiefly for the purpose of relieving his wives of embarrassment. "Of course, we knew the marriage was illegal." This third wife formerly was the wife of Dr. Shipp. Witness admitted that Wells, who married them knew he had a first wife. No action was taken by the authorities of the church against Wells for marrying Roberts to his third wife.

Asked the reasons that led him to contract this marriage, when he knew it was against the laws, Roberts said that from boyhood he had been taught the rightfulness of plural marriages, and believed it to be the law of God, and preferred to accept it to man's law. He believed polygamy was and is a divine institution.

He admitted living in polygamous cohabitation, "in defiance of both laws of God and man", as the cross examination words it.

REPUBLICANS USUALLY SUCCESSFUL

Both Parties Defer to the Mormons

Washington, Apr. 21.—Roberts was again on the stand this morning on behalf of the defense. He was examined in regard to his statement that election in Utah had oscillated between the Democrats and Republican parties, and said the only time when the Democrats elected their candidates was in '96 and '98 when the silver question was principally the only one discussed. Since then, the Republicans had been successful.

The witness identified the interview published in Utah during his candidacy for Congress, in which he admitted the right of the church to discipline members when they entered politics without permission.

He admitted that after having been ejected from congress and his return to Utah, he had been, in 1900, again prosecuted for plural cohabitation. He was not convicted. Calvin Cobb, Proprietor of the Boise Statesman was called. He said he had no knowledge except from hearsay of persons living in polygamy in Idaho. One third of the members of the legislature were Mormons, and the leaders of both the Republicans and Democrats catered to the Mormon element. Whenever the Mormon church wanted anything it was given by either party, without regard to the wishes of the great people.
