IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

There is no substitute

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Arcata sailed for San Francisco this morning.

There is a mild gasoline famine in Marshfield today.

The steamer Breakwater will sail from San Francisco this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Seaman.

John S. Coke, who went to Coquille City on business yesterday, returned on today's train.

J. F. Simmons is a Portland man who arrived in the city this morning and is now staying at the Central.

For sick headache take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and a quick cure is certain. For sale by John Prouss.

The steamer Alliance is advertised to sail from Portland this afternoon, and will be due at this port some time Friday.

A. L. Gall, of North Bend, was brought to town and operated on for appendicitis this morning. Dr. Hoerfall performed the operation and the patient is resting very easily.

H. A. Shelley, Geo. Beavis, E. W. Schenert and H. E. Whellaker, San Francisco commercial men who were registered at the Central in this city yesterday, left on this morning's train for Coquille.

The tug Hunter, Capt. N. J. Cornwall master, arrived from the Umpqua late yesterday afternoon, took on a miscellaneous cargo of merchandise for Gardiner stores and crossed out on her return today.

Endeavor Picnic

The Young People's Christian Endeavor society gave their picnic at Loggert's grove today. A gasoline launch with a scow in tow left town early this morning. As we go to it we have not returned, but since a beautiful day counts for so much in the success of such affairs we feel safe in saying that the young people have had a very pleasant outing.

New Dredger Working

Julius Larsen's new dredger got fairly started at its first work yesterday morning. It is dyking on the Frank Ross place on Caching slough. In an interview this morning Mr. Larsen stated that the big machine was working very satisfactorily. He said that although the capacity of the bucket was only 1½ yards he was raising on an average 2 yards to the dip and that the speed capacity of his machinery was 2 dips per minute. The machinery of his dredge is of the latest improved and since it is to be in the hands of experienced men its work will be of the greatest value to Coos Bay.

The Czar's Dream

(Liverpool Weekly Post)
One night the Czar had a dream, and the dream took the singular but very original shape of three cows.

One fat, one lean, and one blind. Following scripture precedent, the Czar sent for the interpreters, but the interpreters said they could not manage it, as the dream was more than usually difficult. Accordingly the Czar sent for Father John, of Kronstadt, and the old man stroked his beard in a puzzled fashion and first asked to be excused from giving the interpretation of the dream. The Czar, however, insisted, and Father John began:—"The fat cow is the Finance Minister, the lean cow is the Russian people, and the blind cow is—" "Don't be afraid," said the Czar: "Go on!" "The blind one is yourself, your Majesty." This is said to be the reason why the Finance Minister, was suddenly dismissed a few weeks ago.

DAVE HOLDEN MEETS MAIL REPORTER

Tells of His Retirement from the Public Inspection

David Holden, the eminent philosopher and well known frontiersman, who for so many years, as stage driver, has shortened the road for the weary traveler on the North bench, was a visitor in this city today. Some weeks ago Mr. Holden resigned his position as division superintendent and Conklin conductor on this end of the D. & C. B. Stage line and, the office of Major of Jarvis Landing, moved with his family to Garnier to enjoy quiet rest.

A COAST MAIL reporter who sought an interview with the old time bear hunter and Pioneer at his headquarters, the Y. M. C. A. rooms, here this morning met with a cordial reception and was royally entertained. Mr. Holden's best spirits seemed to prevail and he talked quite freely. In reply to the question of what he was doing now the old philosopher said: "Well, as a reporter, you know my greatest failing—I never talk about my self, especially for publication. I don't mind answering it at question however and you may say, through the columns of your valuable paper for the benefit of my anxious friends, that I am just now taking a much needed vacation. I have given up the office of Mayor of Jarvis Landing and am now enjoying private life at my country home on the Umpqua. After years of public life I found that the mental strain incident to the office I have so ably filled was wearing on my nervous system and through the advice of my physician I have thrown up the official sponge. I have decided that in my old age I will no further mar this beaming countenance with the furrows of care and worry for an unappreciating public. You may state also that, through the earnest solicitations of my old friend, Captain Cornwall, I have severed my connection with the Drain and Coos Bay Stage Company—in fact, Mr. Reporter, you might just say that I am going to sorter drop out of this great race for dollars and distinction and take things leisurely for the rest of my allotted days in this vale of vanity with the sin-cured race." "Yes, I know that if I do this there is a chance that I may not die rich; but whether I do or not, if I worry and work no more in this life, at my death I will make a beautiful corpse and that great sense of satisfaction shall be left to my heirs, assigns and executors forever."

TRIUMPHS OF MODERN SURGERY
Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of desecrated sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on the same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by John Prouss.

In Justice Court

State of Oregon, plaintiff, vs Chas. Gardiner, defendant. Criminal action for obstructing public highway. Defendant found guilty and fined $50 and costs of court. The case which has been pending since Saturday, closed yesterday afternoon with Farrin and Upton for plaintiff and Judge Geary and Brownell for defendant.

Marshfield Lady Honored

A telegram was received here last night stating that Mrs. Florence Nasburg, of this city, who is now representing our local lodge, O. E. S., at the grand lodge in Portland, has been elected Grand Associate Conductress of this order in Oregon.

The Much Talked of Empire Stock

Company arrived from the Oregon metropolis by today's Alliance and will fill their engagement at Odd Fellows Opera House in this city tonight.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
Z. T. Siglin is a visitor in this city today.

The steamer Alliance should arrive here tomorrow morning.

Mrs. J. Harlocker, of Coquille, arrived in Marshfield by yesterday's train and is at present visiting with her mother, Mrs. J. S. Coke Sr.

Miss Nettie Jenkins, of Bandon, who for some weeks has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Snyder, of the Hotel Central, left on this morning's train for her home.

The telephone lines to North Bend, Old North Bend and Empire, and the long distance line south were knocked out by a logger doing some blasting too near them yesterday. The wires were struck by a flying stump.

The ladies of the O. E. S. gave a linen shower at the home of Mrs. J. R. Rochoon yesterday afternoon. The usual features of such occasions were enjoyed and a very pleasant time is reported.

R. J. Coke, of this city, is just in receipt of a letter from his brother, Prof. H. M. Coke, of Walluku, H. I., in which the professor states that he is feeling somewhat homesick for good old Oregon, and may be expected home sometime during the present summer.

In the case of State vs Chas. Gardiner, action for obstructing public highway, in which defendant was found guilty and fined $50 in Justice Hyde's court yesterday, the defense has given note to file bond and appeal to the Circuit court, convening in Coquille this fall.

Miss Helena Wessela, who has just closed her school at Empire and who has been spending a few days visiting with friends on Coos river, spent yesterday in the Coos Bay metropolis and was a passenger on this morning's stage for the Umpqua, where she will spend her vacation with her home folk. After the summer vacation, Miss Wessela will commence teaching in a Multnomah county school, near Portland.

SUED BY HIS DOCTOR

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coahella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by John Prouss.

The Coos County Push Club met at their headquarters in the Coos Bay Chamber of Commerce rooms last night for the purpose of discussing all proposed methods of advertising Coos county at the Lewis & Clark Fair in 1905.

Among other important plans suggested, was to purchase a certain amount of space for standing advertisements and illustrated "writings" in the Lewis & Clark Journal, published at Portland. The matter is still under advisement.

What More Could You Want

"The Post prints ALL the news of the bay that is particularly of importance and just as soon as it can secure the necessary skilled help to enable it to print its regular sized eight page paper every day, it will print a GREAT DEAL MORE."

Willanch School Has

GRADUATION EXERCISES

On Saturday evening, June 11th, occurred the first annual commencement of the Willanch school. A large and attentive audience was in attendance. The stage was elaborately and beautifully decorated. Just outside the drop curtain was arranged an arch of Oregon grape intertwined with yellow flowers, and from this was suspended "Class of 1904", the letters and figures being made of pink and white rosebuds. In the background the walls were decorated with bunting, pictures, flowers and Oregon grape, the whole presenting a most beautiful effect. The music engaged for the

ANOTHER MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE

All Work Progressing Nicely-- Arrangements About Completed

The general Fourth of July committee had another meeting at the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce rooms last night and a full report from each of the several sub-committees in charge of the different branches was heard. The committee on benches, stands and platforms turned in a tabulated report of the lumber and other materials needed, and announced that the carpenters would begin work as soon as the materials could reach the ground. The committee on field sports and general entertainment reported their program fully made up and ready to be passed upon by the head committee. The program was then read and approved and referred to the advertising committee who will arrange it for publication today.

All of the other committees reported work in their lines progressing nicely and so there was no slightest indication of a hitch in the arrangements.

One of the most promising features about this great work of preparation, is the fact that every committee and every citizen interested is pulling in perfect harmony with the management and the whole affair is moving as smoothly as clock work.

ANOTHER LETTER ABOUT GUNBOATS

Senator Fulton Will Continue Efforts to Secure Gunboat for Celebration

The following letter received from Senator C. W. Fulton by the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, here, this morning will be self explanatory: Astoria, Or., June 13, 1904. Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, Marshfield, Oregon.

Gentlemen: I wrote you a few days ago that I would take up with the Commander in Chief of the Pacific Squadron the matter of securing for you a war ship to be present at your place on the Fourth of July next. The squadron is due to arrive on Puget Sound on the 30th inst., and I will have a letter there for him by that time. I can only suggest that you do the same, representing to him the depth of water at low tide on the bar and to what height the tide will rise at that time. In the meantime I will endeavor to secure from Major Langitt a statement touching the depth of low and high tide and I will present such statement to the commander. I think he will give more credit to a statement by Major Langitt than to one made by the rest of us. If Major Langitt shall certify that there is sufficient water to safely admit a warship I have no doubt you will get one.

Sincerely yours,
C. W. Fulton.

CHAMBERLAIN'S STOMACH AND LIVER TABLETS BETTER THAN A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Trahart, Va. says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach trouble, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this medicine. For sale by John Prouss.

evening, having failed to make connections by boat, was unavoidably absent.

At the close of the entertainment coffee and cake were served to all by the ladies.

The program, which we append, was given in three parts, Part 1 consisting of the graduating exercises. The themes presented by the graduates contained many and beautiful thoughts, and for purity of diction and style of delivery, are not often surpassed by pupils of the city high schools. Part 1 closed by a short but impressive address to the class by Mr. Reedy.

Part 2, consisting of readings and recitations was well rendered. All acquitted themselves remarkably well, but the last three numbers on the program deserve special mention. The symbolic representation of Oregon by Lucille Reedy was very pleasing. The little Miss was dressed in a loose robe of white trimmed with Oregon grape leaves and wore a crown of the same. A sash of red on which was placed in white letters the name "Oregon" was draped over one shoulder. This production was written for the occasion by her father.

"Life's Gladness" by Lucy Crouch as very well rendered indeed. Miss Crouch was attired in Delaertean robe as was also Miss Violet Stauff who so successfully gave that most difficult selection "The Raven", by Poe.

Part 3, the Courtship of Mother Goose, was in seven scenes and included the whole school. All were fittingly dressed to carry out the parts represented. The leading parts were Mother Goose, Man in the Moon and Santa Claus. This play was well put on and produced much laughter from the audience.

The success of the entertainment reflects great credit on Mr. Reedy, who has had charge of the school the past eighteen months. His methods of imparting instruction to his pupils and his untiring efforts in their behalf class him among the very best of instructors.

The Social Whirl

A birthday party was given in honor of Miss Fenetta Fenoglio, at Beaver Hill, on the evening of June 15th. Miss Fenetta was the recipient of many elegant presents, it being the occasion of her 11th birthday. The guests were invited to the hall, where dancing was indulged in, and a delightful supper was served at midnight. All departed saying they had enjoyed a very pleasant time and wishing Miss Fenetta many more such happy birthdays. Those present were: Fenetta Fenoglio, Mrs. Lowe and children, Mrs. Bunton, Ray and Jim Bunton, Mrs. Wickham, Emma and Ovid Wickham, Mrs. Young and children, Mr. A. ### PROGRESS CLUB MEETS

The Progress club was entertained by Mrs. Nicholson at her charming home Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Tower, the vice president, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Kaufman.

Business pertaining to club affairs was discussed at length.

It was decided to have a picnic to which the gentlemen will be invited on June 28th and a committee consisting of Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Hofer was appointed to look up means of transportation to the picnic grounds.

A most interesting paper on Robert Browning was then read by Mrs. Hofer who brought her hearers into very close sympathy with the great unfathomable poet.

The topic for current events was "The People of Korea".

The hostess then served delicious pineapple punch, after which came roll call and quotations from the poems of Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Next Tuesday the club will hold its last regular meeting of this club year at the home of Miss Susie Eickworth in South Marshfield.
