

Daily Democrat.

A GREAT NECESSITY.

It is a fact that needs no demonstration, that no city can be placed in line of permanent and healthy progress except upon a basis of never ceasing industrial employment. A city like Albany, situated even in one of the best agricultural regions of the whole Pacific Coast, cannot hope to establish itself upon a basis of permanent business activity and continued growth without manufacturing and industrial enterprises to give employment to labor. Employment for laborers is a prime necessity in the make up of a progressive town. Now, that a board of trade is to be organized this week we shall confidently look forward to the taking of concerted and well-defined action to induce the establishment of manufacturing establishments here that will employ some of the idle labor in the place. In line with this thought we would say that a gentleman of this city, who has given considerable thought and investigation to the subject, informs us that he has arrived at the conclusion that no line of manufacturing would more certainly pay a satisfactory and speedy return on the money invested than a hosiery establishment. We believe this is true. Cotton could be shipped here just as cheaply as to the great hosiery establishments of Rockford, Illinois, and other places, and wool could be had even cheaper. Labor could be had at a slight advance on Eastern prices. Based upon these conclusions and facts, it is safe to say that such an enterprise would remunerate well those who would invest their capital in such an enterprise. We hope this subject will be taken up by the board of trade to be organized Wednesday evening and investigated. That body will be a potential influence in promoting the city's prosperity if it shall work unselfishly to that end.

ANOTHER PATRON SAINT.

Editors Democrat:
I see that on several occasions lately the Herald has referred to Judge Whitney as the "patron saint" of the Ladies Aid Society of this city. Now I would like the editor to know that we have other societies in this city that have "patron saints" as well as the society mentioned. To particularize, we might mention the W. C. T. U., and assert that this society has canonized Judge (?) Blackburn. When this society brought a very important measure before the Council, backed by a petition containing a majority of the voters of the city, Mr. Blackburn resigned his position as Alderman rather than show his hand and vote upon it. The public have no use for such a man in the County Judge's chair. To fill such a position a man must have some backbone. Perhaps the Herald can explain what was the matter with this "patron saint" of the W. C. T. U. people of Albany on the occasion referred to.

A CITIZEN.

The Philadelphia Times publishes a letter Saturday saying positively that Blaine had decided to be a candidate. The New York Tribune of yesterday says the story is all bosh.

SALUTATORY.

The EVENING DEMOCRAT has no apology to make for its appearance at this time. It is only one of the evidences of the progress and prosperity of Albany. To make a live, progressive, energetic city, we must have railroads, electric lights, street cars, good schools, board of trade, manufactories and last, but by no means least, the daily newspaper. It is here to add its voice and influence to give impetus to the material interests and industrial necessities of the city. Its proprietors are no more nor no less selfish than others. They would build up Albany, for in so doing they build up their own interests. But the daily newspaper is a powerful adjunct in stimulating industrial and other enterprises, and therefore people as a matter of personal and business interest should give the newspaper a liberal support. We shall labor to merit this support.

WHO IS ATTACKED?

Sunday morning's Herald has a correspondent who attempts to make an attack upon some member of the County Court on account of some alleged carelessness in allowing witness fees. We are not aware whether this attack is upon Alex. Brandon, one of the Commissioners, or J. J. Whitney, the County Judge. The writer says the object of his attack wants to be re-elected. Brandon is the republican candidate for Commissioner and Whitney the democratic candidate for County Judge. If anything wrong was done in allowing the witness fees spoken of, both these gentlemen are equally culpable. The writer of this article might have told his readers, if he was so earnest in search of truth, that all witnesses in criminal actions swear to their claims before the County Clerk, before they are presented to the Court, and it was upon the affidavit of this witness that Messrs. Brandon, Miller and Whitney allowed this claim. The statement made by the correspondent that the Sheriff informed him that the member of the Court guaranteed the payment of said claim before it was presented to the Court, the Sheriff says, is absolutely false. As this attack appears in a republican paper we would naturally suppose it was intended for Judge Whitney, but as it is signed "democrat" we feel sure the attack is intended for Mr. Brandon, and it will now be in order for Mr. Brandon to explain. We cheerfully offer him reasonable space to reply to this attack upon his official acts.

A SPLENDID RALLY.

To say that the democrats had a splendid meeting at Scio last Saturday is putting it mildly. The hall was crowded and a third of the audience had to remain outside. Messrs. Blyen and Weatherford both made telling speeches, devoting all their time to the question of reduction of the war taxes. A more attentive and earnest audience never gathered to hear a public issue discussed. Tariff reduction meets the hearty approbation of the whole community. Democrats of the "forks" are wide awake and up and doing, and will give a larger majority than ever before. Mark these words. We had the pleasure of conversing with many of the old wheel-horse democrats, whose hairs have silvered in the service of the party, who sent greetings to their fellow democrats in all parts of the county. These faithful followers of a worthy cause will do their whole duty. Let democrats in all other precincts wake up and do their duty, for a sweeping victory will follow.

The democrats of Jackson county have nominated "Curt" Price, formerly of this county, for the Legislature. "Curt" is a sound democrat and has lots of sound horse sense, and should receive the vote of every democrat in Jackson.

Hon. J. M. Garin took sick at Pendleton and had to cancel his appointments. It is said he will resume at Oregon City Thursday and be here at his appointed time next Friday evening.

The Lebanon Express has placed the democratic state and county ticket at the head of its columns.
