E. R. SKIPWORTH, of Umatilla county.

A DOLLAR A DAY AND TWO MEALS.

The New York Star publishes the following statement of E. F. Gould, a prominent Indiana Knight of Labor which gives the reason why the workmen of Indiana are opposed to Ben Harrison for president: "Aside from his bad record in the Senate, he is the attorney for numerous railways and telegraph companies, and no confidence is placed in him by the masses who are seeking legislation which these institutions oppose. As an indication of his loyalty to railroad companies in times of emergency, it is only necessary to refer to his course pending the railroad strike of 1877, on which occasion he implored the governor to order out the troops and shoot down the strikers. Governor Williams stoutly resisted his influence, claiming that the men were peaceable and that there was no necessity for such action. At this he mustered up a company of his own and drilled the men, so as to have them in readiness in case of an emergency. Upon the same occasion he made a speech from which the following is verbatim and substantiated by affidavits: "Were I the governor I'd force those men back to work or shoot them down on the spot."

And upon another occasion during the same trouble he declared in a speech that "A dollar a day and two meals are enough for any workman."

The Knights of Labor through the state officially petitioned for his defeat in the last senatorial contest, and at Chicago the laboring classes by the hundreds were found working for his defeat and in the interest of Gresham.

HARRISON'S CHINESE RECORD.

On April 25th, 1882, Benjamin Harrison voted in the United States Senate to admit to this country free of the Chinese Restriction Act all Chinese "skilled laborers" and "Chinese engaged in mining." Section 15 of the Chinese Restriction Act reads as follows:

Section 15. That the words "Chinese laborers" wherever the same occurs, shall be construed to mean both skilled and unskilled laborers and Chinese employed in mining.

Senator Harrison voted to strike that section out.—[Congressional Record, April 25th, 1882, Vol. 13, part 4, page 3411.]

The republican platform declares that the party is in favor of taking off the whisky taxes entirely, and making all intoxicating liquors free of Government tax, rather than abate one jot or tittle of the tribute the people now pay on their clothing and blankets to the wool-tariff barons of the West. That policy would keep clothing and blankets dear and make liquors cheap. How do sincere friends of temperance, whether Prohibitionists or not, like the program? If they do not like it their remedy is to vote against the party that is pledged to it. Not for many years has there been such necessity for independent voting as there is this year. Not for many years has the republican party so repelled sensible voters as it repels them now.

The Oregonian is opening out the clotted but mildewy folds of the "bloody shirt" and preparing it for use in the campaign this fall. If the Oregonian has an aptitude above another, it is that of flaunting the "bloody shirt" and appealing to the passions and hates engendered by the war. The "bloody shirt" was the Alpha and the Omega of that paper's fight for Blaine four years ago and it evidently intends to resort to the same tactics again.

As soon as the Tariff bill shall pass the House the Republican majority in the Senate will have the opportunity to consider and amend it. But they do not seem to be anxious to avail themselves of the chance offered to redeem their pledge to correct tariff inequalities. No mule ever held back in his breaching more obstinately than Republican Congressmen against tax reduction. In fighting for the interests of protected monopolists the masses are forgotten.

General Harrison voted in the Senate, in all stages of its passage, against the bill to restrict Chinese immigration. In the House of Representatives Levi P. Morton voted, in all the stages of its passage, against the Bland bill to remonetize silver. How is that for a Pacific Coast ticket? Against silver, and in favor of Chinese.

The Harold says St. John has come out openly for Cleveland. Of course we have no means of knowing whether this is true or not, but we here and now predict that it is not true. However we have no hesitation in expressing our opinion that all good men should come out openly for Cleveland.

HARRISON AT HOME.

Evansville is the first commercial and manufacturing city of the great state of Indiana, the state which is the home of the Honorable Benjamin Harrison, republican nominee for the Presidency of the United States. Yet, in this city of such vast importance, the republicans, with very, very few exceptions, are utterly disgusted at the action of the Chicago Convention. Every man in this community knows that the Bulletin is as true to republican principles as it is possible for any paper in the world to be. Those principles we love and honor, and hope to see prevail, notwithstanding the fact that the republican candidate for the Presidency has proved himself, by his record on the Chinese question, to be an enemy to American labor and opposed to liberal views by his fanaticism on the temperance question.

On all hands and among all classes of republicans, we hear of their determination not to support Harrison, and it is as well for republicans all over the Union to understand, once for all, that Evansville, the first city of manufacturing importance in Harrison's own state, has no earthly use for him and will not give him its republican support.—Evansville, Ind., Bulletin, (Rep.) June 26.

It is not proposed to entirely relieve the country of this taxation. It must be extensively continued as the source of the Government's income; and in a readjustment of our tariff the interest of American labor engaged in manufacture should be carefully considered, as well as the preservation of our manufacturers. It may be called protection, or by any other name, but relief from the hardships and dangers of our present tariff laws should be devised with especial precaution against imperiling the existence of our manufacturing interests.—President Cleveland's Message.

All the republicans around here are saying that Harrison was their second choice. He will be found to be the second choice of the people at the polls next November.
