LOCAL RECORD.

A PANORAMIC VIEW.—The following from a Salem paper is a very pretty worded picture of the garden spot of the finest Valley in the world: "Willamette Valley as viewed from Marion county heights in spring time, presents as fine a landscape as can be had anywhere on the Pacific Coast. From this point the Valley appears as a grand painting deeply set in an emerald frame-work; on the west the coast mountains curve away to the south till they seem to merge into the Calapooia range, which extends east to the Cascade from where the Willamette river, freed from its mountain fetters, sweeps majestically on its meandering course through the Valley below. Near the Calapooia, Albany prairie and its surrounding up-lands are dimly outlined, some forty miles away. As the eye follows the course of the river, on through the evergreen forests and blooming hills, the lofty uplands of Polk and Yamhill counties, appear on its western banks, opposite Marion. The woods that skirt the little streams which "put in" to the river from the uplands on either side, are thickly strewn with blooming forest trees, on which many of the most beautiful colors are exquisitely blended, while glimpses of cozy farm-houses are caught through the foliage of grand old orchards which send out their snowy petals on each passing breeze. The three counties mentioned, with their far-reaching prairies and picturesque highlands, together with Marion's beautiful capital city, are truly the gems of the valley."

CLAIMED.—The following is from an exchange and is but one of several items we have seen on the same subject: "It is claimed by good legal authority that the act creating the office of County Recorder in Linn, Marion, Washington, Yamhill, Clackamas, Clatsop, Umatilla and Union counties is unconstitutional. This may lead to serious complications as those offices have been filled by elections in the various counties named." There is probably nothing in these claims. The statute on the subject is plain, and we doubt if good legal authority says the act is unconstitutional.

THE COMPANY.—The Farmers' and Merchants Insurance Company of this city, is doing a fine summer business. Its field is the Northwest, the company being represented in every place of any importance in Oregon and Washington Territory. It is a splendid company to insure with because it is not only safe and reliable, but is a home institution, and the premium paid to it is circulated at home.

MINING FEVER.—Several Albany men are getting "worked up" on the mining question. Even the pioneer barber, Jos. Webber, has caught it a little, and a day or two ago left for Quartzville, in company with a California miner. Next week C. E. Brownell, Mr. Donnelly and two or three others will start for the same place. The Bonanza mine, located by Messrs. Woodin, Read and associates, has now as good prospects as any claim in the Santiam region. All that is needed now is money to develop all these claims.

MEMORY CULTURE.—Recently two classes were formed in Corvallis in Prof. Loisset's system of memory culture. Prof. G. S. Fellows, of the High school at Washington, has just exposed the Professor as a fraud, not the system but the Professor. The fraud lies in the fact that the "Prof." claims that he originated the system, whereas it transpires that the rules he lays down were in vogue in the days of Aristotle, and that the same system was published and taught thirty-five years ago by others in the United States.

A JINGLE.—The following is going the rounds of the press: O. Harrison, Ben Harrison, trot out a little jug, and shingle up the cabin Ben, and fix it warm and snug. It was so awfully dusty, Ben, at the Chicago snarl, that perhaps a jug won't be enough; you'd better bring a bar'l. And don't forget the cabin, Ben, but keep it somewhere nigh; you will need it to crawl into the chilly by and by.

THE DRUMMER'S LATEST.—He walks into the store, and during the conversation casually remarks, "Well, I think it is a put up job." You look curious and say, "what." He has you then, and with a Colorado canyon smile remarks, "wall paper." He reached Albany a few days ago and left this as a relic. If it were not for the festive drummer life would be as dry as a street bumper. While on the subject, when a confiding friend remarks that it is warm or hot the proper thing to say is "rats."

BURGLAR CAPTURED.—Last night about 11 o'clock, a member of Mr. Williamson's family, residing opposite Mr. Thomas Monteith's residence on Ferry street, discovered a man trying to get into the house. They immediately gave the alarm to their neighbors, Mr. Shane and Mr. Watt Monteith, who rushed from their houses as the man passed along Ferry street towards the city. Watt outran the man and ordered him to stop, near Mr. Young's residence. The fellow drew a knife and threatened to use it; but a revolver in the hands of Watt, and a pitchfork in the hands of Mr. Shane, who arrived on the scene soon after, made him yield, and he was conducted down street. Once or twice he became belligerent with his knife, but Watt's revolver brought him to time, and he was finally landed in the calaboose. The man is of the tramp appearance, about thirty-five years of age and is evidently a tough customer. Considerable credit is due Mr. Monteith for capturing the rascal, though nothing very serious can probably be done to him.

No one making a complaint the man, who refused to give his name, was discharged. He has been around Albany over a week on a continual spree. Some one states that at one time he was connected with one of the railroads.

AN ADVERTISING SCHEME.—General Tyner, representing the St. Paul Pioneer Press, is coming this way with an advertising scheme, and will no doubt attack Albany in time. The proposition he made in Oregon City is probably the general one and we give it for our citizens to cogitate over: "If Oregon City's people would subscribe for 50 copies of his paper, at $10 a year then the entire year Oregon City would have special "write ups" in its columns each week, by a correspondent specially designated by the board and paid by the paper. Each such subscriber would receive a copy of Rand & McNally's atlas as a gift. The paper, he said, has a daily circulation of 33,000, and reaches the very class that desire to emigrate, the native Americans in Dakota and Minnesota that are tired of blizzards. When Oregon had been entirely worked up a central office for the Oregon department would be established in Portland.

MISTAKEN FOR A BURGLAR.—Messrs. Geo. Satterfield and N. A. Ward live in rooms of the same house on a ranch about 7 miles down the river. Last Friday night Mr. Satterfield, not feeling well, got up and went into the kitchen of Mr. Ward to get some medicine, and Ward's wife hearing the noise called her husband who got his gun and opened the kitchen door asked, "who is there?" but receiving no reply fired a load of buckshot striking Mr. Satterfield in the thigh inflicting a dangerous wound. Dr. Brown was called, fixed up the bones, and dressed the wounds and hopes to be able to save the limb, but is by no means certain that it can be done.—Eugene Register.

THE TRAMP NUISANCE.—They are having a bad time with tramps in Pendleton; but seem to be going at it in the right manner. They are using balls and chains and street work as a punishment. Recently seven or eight were given some doses of this medicine. Two of the number refused to yield when they were removed back to jail, and were fed on bread and water until a little of their independence was taken from them, when they finally agreed to go to work. While the poor devils are the veriest nuisance imaginable, still a person cannot stifle a small feeling of sympathy for their condition. They are against every man, and every man's hand is against them, a condition they alone are too blame for. We can keep them away from Albany if we will only go at them with "hammer and tongues" when they come here. They are great advertising mediums and very soon they will pass without even leaving their cards.

Dullest on Record.—It is not overstating the case to say that right at present Prineville is laboring under the pressure of the hardest times it has ever seen. Observing persons can give the true solution of this state of business affairs, and all can see at a glance what has caused it. But as few questions can now be discussed without reflecting more or less upon the political questions of the present time, we refrain from saying anything further.—News.

NO RATS TO THIS.—Warm weather, whatever else it does cannot do away with one's appetite, in fact it increases it, particularly for fruits, etc., and in fact we eat just about as much of everything except meats. An important thing, though is to get the best things to be obtained. Conn Brothers, of this city, have built up a splendid reputation for carrying only first-class groceries and keeping on hand only the freshest fruits and produce generally. Call on them at their store just east of the Revere house, and see how it is yourselves.

A FUNNY WORLD.—The following taken from a republican exchange, simply shows what a funny world this is. "Bob Ingersoll, the infidel, seemed the favorite orator of the republican convention, and Christian men yelled themselves hoarse applauding him."

GOT LICKED.—W. S. Hufford, got licked last June for prosecuting attorney by J. W. Hamilton and he got licked last week by Sam Case for an affair in which a woman plays a very prominent part.—Vidette.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.—For the 24 hours beginning at 12 o'clock, noon.

Warmer, clear weather.
Messrs. Burkhardt & Miller sold yesterday to Mr. L. M. Curl, County School Superintendent, the residence of Mr. L. Nelson, situated corner of 4th and R.R. streets, the consideration being $700.

New shoes at Read's.
Six shaves or a dollar at L. Viereck's. New ribbons all shades and styles at Read's. J. P. Wallace, Physician and Surgeon, Albany, Or.

The local real estate market is improving. Kenton's Savon soap is selling rapidly at 18 per box.

Very fine selection of ladies' and gents' watches at H. Ewart's.

Miss Della Smith, a native of Albany, died in Portland yesterday.

Jewelry, clocks, spectacles and Roger Bros silver plated ware at H. Ewart's.

A clean towel for every customer at L. Viereck's barber shop.

Extra caps and rubbers for Mason fruits jars can be purchased at F. L. Kenton's.

Mr. W. A. Wells has a warehouse at Brownsville with a capacity of 175,000 bushels.

Have you tried Kenton's ice old lemonade? It is very refreshing these warm evenings.

The house will vote on the Mills bill tomorrow at 10:30 A. M. It will pass by 6 to 12 majority.

The California teachers have accepted an invitation from Supt. McElroy to visit Oregon in July, 1889. Come right along.

In the base ball tournament at Baker City yesterday, Baker City beat Boise City 7 to 2, and Pendleton beat North Powder 11 to 4.

Frankie Blanchard, a five year old boy, was drowned at Independence yesterday. He was playing on some logs when he fell into the river.

Mr. George Mason, Mr. D. P. Mason's brother, who recently arrived in Albany from the East has accepted a position as clerk in the store of Monteith & Seitenbach.

Persons who patronize cash stores do not have to pay for losses on bad debts. F. L. Kenton sells exclusively for cash and marks his goods at the lowest possible prices.

Straw votes are being taken. Straw is a good name for them. They are good to suck either through, but they are easily broken and indicate nothing at all in a majority of cases.

Glenn Lewis, of Polk county, claims to be the champion amateur bicyclist of Oregon. We have a few in Albany we believe would make him tired in a mile race, and only boys at that.

The Ladies' Coffee Club, of Corvallis, will give a grand moonlight excursion to this city next Tuesday on the "Wm. M. Hoag."

Speaking of moonlight excursions suppose Albany returns the compliment.

An injunction suit has been begun in Yamhill county to restrain the sheriff from collecting a tax for the purpose of finishing the court house. It is very hard for Lafayette to give the county seat up.

Frank Chelowa, one of the Chicago anarchists, has made a confession, covering thirty pages, giving in detail all the particulars of the recent attempt on the lives of prominent Chicago men.

Mr. Sam Cohen, of this city, has started a second hand store in Eugene City, and will also do a general auction and commission business in connection with it, and we understand will make that city his home.

When an unmarried young man buys property people begin to suspect something. Yesterday Mr. Raymond, the insurance man, purchased the house and lot of Mrs. Aron Cohen, corner of Calapooia and Third Street, and we suspect he was just speculating, though the place is very convenient to his brother-in-law's home.

THE SCIO R. R.—Mr. Thos. Munkers, who arrived in the city this noon, informed a DEMOCRAT man that a railroad meeting had been called for to-night to consider a proposition from the Narrow Gauge R. R. Co. in reference to building of a branch road to that city, already referred to in the DEMOCRAT. The people of that place are highly pleased over the prospect of direct railroad communication with the rest of the world, and at the meeting to-night it is thought definite arrangements will be made for the building of the branch road.

AT S. F.—The dispatches of yesterday state as follows in reference to our teachers there: E. B. McElroy, Oregon's Superintendent of Public Instruction, says to-night that he has succeeded in securing a promise from most of the Pennsylvania delegation that they will return by way of Portland. They will number about seventy and will leave here about July 29th. Hiram Griffin, formerly of Albany but now assistant secretary of the Olympic Club here, drops in occasionally to chat with the teachers of his native place.

FIGHT WITH A BUCK.—We are in receipt of a note from the Summit giving an account of a fight with a buck. Last Friday, T. Lytle, J. O. Davis and A. Hamar met a three-point buck in the lane opposite the Wrenn school house. They threw rocks at the animal and Davis ran after it afoot, caught up with it and began stabbing it with his pocket knife. The buck turned to fight, but Davis caught his horns and called for help. Hamar came up and between the two they killed him.—Leader.

Jesse Mash exhibited a couple of Alexander peaches at this office one day last week, which measured 9½ and 8½ inches in circumference, respectively. The beauty of this fruit was not particularly size or flavor, but that it was plucked from trees set out one year ago (this) last spring, which is making pretty good time, we should say.—Grant's Pass Courier.

KICKED.—Yesterday on the farm of Mr. Miller Morgan, near Shedd Thos. Morgan was kicked by a colt. The animal in trying to keep the flies off hit Mr. Morgan a hard blow. We understand no bones were broken and that the kick though serious was not dangerous.

A nux at the German colony beyond Scio, was recently severely bitten by a rattlesnake. She was cured by Dr. Hyde.

The stone is of a serviceable kind, and the quarry is expected to net the investors good profits. None of the shares are on the market.

WILL LIVE.—Mr. Conover, of the Corvallis Gazette, was in the city this morning on his way to Ashland. He informed us that Wm. McVay, who was recently stabbed eight times by his brother, was yet alive, and improving with prospects of recovering. Lew McVay, his murderous brother, was yet at liberty, and it was thought he was in the mountains somewhere. An effort was being made to capture him.
