BARCLAY HENLEY.

The Oregonian yesterday had a long dispatch detailing the statement that Ex-Congressman Henley of California had bolted the democratic ticket and would vote for Harrison. As bearing upon the subject we give below a statement made by the San Francisco Examiner of 19th inst:

"A rumor prevailed Friday to the effect that ex-Congressman Barclay Henley, the well-known attorney and politician, had decided to 'bolt' the Democratic ticket and work for the success of Harrison and Morton.

A representative of the Examiner interviewed Mr. Henley at his office in the afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining if he had actually transferred his allegiance to the Republican party. The truth was quickly ascertained.

"The statement that I have left the Democratic party is untrue," said Mr. Henley, decisively. "What is more, I have never contemplated any such action. I do not know how such a rumor could have originated."

The Oregonian of to-day contains a denial of yesterday's canard

The Mills bill proposes to reduce the tax on pig iron only seventy-two cents per ton. The iron masters of Pennsylvania petitioned Congress declaring that that meant the price of their iron would fall seventy-two cents per ton, which would ruin them, and if the tax were reduced they would pull their fires and quit business. They said this within two months and the politicians took it up and repeated it in a thousands forms to affect the party relations of voters, who have no time or lack inclination to think for themselves. Now witness the commentary of their own conduct upon the claim made by these iron masters. Within two months they solemnly declared that they would be ruined if the duty on iron were reduced 72 cents per ton, assuming that it would cause a like reduction in price. And now they have voluntarily reduced the price of pig iron $2 per ton and are running full blast day and night! What is one to think of such trifling by these men with the revenue legislation of this country? If 72 cents off a ton would ruin them, how can they stand a reduction of $2? And yet they do stand it, and have more business than ever.

It now appears extremely doubtful whether the republican majority of the Senate finance committee will be able to agree upon a substitute for the Mills bill. In the first place the republican Senate would fear to make reasonable amendments to the Mills bill on account of the fact that a conference committee of the two houses might reach an agreement and thus settle the tariff question, and leave the republican party before the people with no issue but the memory of the war, upon which of course they would founder long before the campaign should end. In the second place the republican members of the Senate cannot agree among themselves on a tariff bill. It is said five or six republican Senators favor the free wool clause in the Mills bill, which creates an irreconcilable difference on that subject. There are many other points on which republican Senators cannot agree, hence everything points to the fact that they will be compelled to dodge the tariff bill.

S. B. Rigger of Portland, Manager of a large number of Insurance Companies is out in a long article in the Sunday's Oregonian in which he says: "Hitherto I have uniformly voted for three publican nominees for president. But on this occasion if I shall live till the 8th of November I propose to vote for Grover Cleveland." One by one the honest, intelligent voters are falling in with the right.

And now comes the California Democrat the leading republican German paper of San Francisco and declares its determination to support Cleveland. The republican Germans all over the country seem to be restless and dissatisfied with the awkward attitude into which they have been placed, and thousands of them are coming over to Cleveland. Keep your eye on them.

Pierce Kane, a manufacturer of woollen clothing at Sandlake, will vote against reduction of the clothing tax. When asked he replied: "I know my business; I am voting for Kane."

For President.—The Ghost of 1840. For Vice President.—The Substance of Wall Street. Platform.—We'll make a China out of this fair land.

Calvin S. Brice of Ohio, Chairman of the national democrat executive committee was 15 years old when the war broke out. He enlisted and remained in the service until the close of the war.

"TIPPECANOE AND TYLER TOO."

There is an old line whig in this city, Mr. Eli Carter, who voted for Grandpa Harrison in 1840 who informs the DEMOCRAT that he will give Mr. Cleveland his ardent support. He says while William Henry was a good man, all grandsons of presidents would not necessarily make good presidents.

Now, that the Mills bill has passed the price of wool is advancing. It seems that business has entered the campaign against free whisky and taxed necessities of life.
