

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President—GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York
For Vice President—ALLEN G. THURMAN, of Ohio.
For Presidential Electors—
W. B. BLYSCU, of Linn county.
W. H. EFFINGER, of Multnomah county.
E. R. SKIPWORTH, of Umatilla county.

THINGS TO CONSIDER.

1. Have you ever seen a laborer who cared a nickle whether he worked for a protected or an unprotected employer?
2. Have you ever seen a laborer who expected to receive more wages from a protected than an unprotected employer?
3. Have you ever seen a protected manufacturer pay higher wages than he was compelled to?
4. Have you ever seen a very wealthy firm pay more wages than a moderately wealthy one?
5. Have you ever given more for anything than you were required to?
No; and furthermore, if you should, you would call yourself a fool.
6. If, then, the unprotected manufacturer pays just as high wages, and still is able to make a profit, by what method of reasoning do you arrive at the conclusion that the protected manufacturer pays higher wages because of protection?
7. And if the protected manufacturer does not pay more than the unprotected one, what becomes of your protection theories?
8. Is it your answer that protection raises all classes of wages in all occupations?
9. If that is it, then, as labor is not protected from foreign immigration, you must of course include the raising of all wages in all countries. Now, if that is true, then how about the pauper wages of Europe?
10. If you say capital will not be invested unless it is protected, how do you explain the fact that it is being invested in unprotected industries?
11. If protection prevents us from selling in foreign markets, does not protection make less work instead of more?
12. If there is free trade in labor and high protected prices for those things which laborers must buy, is not the laborer being robbed instead of benefitted?
13. If protectionists desire to pay high wages, why do they always employ the cheapest labor they can find?
14. If wages are increased by protection, why do these protected manufacturers endorse protection and spend large sums of money to uphold it?
15. If unprotected industries pay the same wages as those that are protected, are they not as valuable, and if so, why burden them by making them pay heavy taxes to the protected ones?

A remarkable illustration of the transformation of parties which is now in progress has just been furnished in Illinois. In welcoming a delegation of visitors from that State last week, Gen. Harrison said: "I recall that it was on the soil of Illinois that Lovejoy died—a martyr to free speech." This week a nephew of the Lovejoy to whom Gen. Harrison referred, a son of another Lovejoy who was an equally earnest abolitionist, who has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of his district. The free-whisky policy has driven him from the party to which his father belonged when it stood for free speech.

England has the lowest tariff in all Europe and the highest wages are paid there. Australia is a free trade continent. Wages are paid there than anywhere else on earth. The Canadian tariff is higher than ours. Wages are lower in Canada than they are here. The Mexican tariff is much higher than ours. A good man, if he can get work, can earn twenty-five cents a day in Mexico. This is even lower than Mr. Harrison's standard, for he was willing to allow $1 a day to a workingman.

The East Oregonian says: "Umatilla county will probably raise two million bushels of wheat this year, requiring a million sacks, costing $100,000. Of this about $40,000 is a tariff tax. The democratic party proposes to reduce it twenty per cent. (They propose to reduce it 40 per cent, ENDS. DEM.) or to save $20,000 for the farmers of Umatilla county alone on the one item of jute sacks. The republicans propose to give them free whisky."

At the convention of the state federation and trades unions held in Indianapolis yesterday, composed of 265 delegates from all parts of the state, resolutions were adopted condemning Harrison and Morton. This will very likely cook Harrison's goose.

Estimates made as to the outcome of the November election in Iowa are that allowing to the Republicans the best apparent chance of carrying the state, there is a more than even chance that the Democrats will gain two members of Congress.

Here is a problem which no supporter of Harrison has been able to answer, and the campaign is now six weeks old: If a 47 per cent. tariff is protection, how can a 40 per cent. tariff be called free trade?

WATCH HIM.

Barring accidents, Blaine will be on American soil in a few days making speeches for Mr. Harrison, the Chinaman's friend. People are curious to know how he will harmonize his views on the tariff question with the principles of his party's platform. Last fall in his "message" from Paris he said: "I would not advise the repeal of the whisky tax. Other considerations than those of financial administration are to be taken into account with regard to whisky. There is a moral side to it. To cheapen the price of whisky is to increase its consumption enormously. Whisky would be everywhere distilled if the surveillance of the government were withdrawn by the remission of the tax, and illicit sales could not then be prevented even by a policy as rigorous and searching as that with which Russia pursues the Nihilists. The tax on whisky by the federal government, with its suppression of all illicit distillation and consequent enhancement of price, has been a powerful agent in the temperance reform by putting it beyond the reach of so many. The amount of whisky consumed in the United States per capita is not more than 40 per cent of that consumed thirty years ago." The platform says: "We favor the entire repeal of internal taxes rather than the surrender of any part of our protective system at the joint behest of the whisky trusts and the agents of foreign manufacturers." Blaine says he would not repeal the whisky tax. His party says it would. Watch him.
