LOCAL RECORD.

A GOOD WAY.—Yesterday evening there appeared across the river a novel, yet elegant looking outfit. It was a large, fine looking wagon, drawn by four magnificent horses. There were three seats in the wagon, so arranged that those sitting in the second seat could look over those in the front seat, and those in the rear seat look over all of them. Every thing was new, though somewhat dusty. The outfit was under the management of the rich Mr. Walter Burrell, son of Mr. Burrell, of Knapp, Burrell & Co., of Portland, and there were eight in the party, including Mr. Burrell's mother and sister. The wagon was loaded with canteens, guns, fishing rods, etc., and there were a Chinese cook and teamster to do the work for the party. The party left Portland on Monday and reached here after a most enjoyable trip, they said. They camped in the grove near the ferry, and to-day proceeded on their way towards Lebanon and the Cascades, which they will cross before returning home. It is a fine crowd and a fine outfit, and there ought to be an immense sight of pleasure in the arrangement.

IT WAS FRANK.—It was Frank Simpson, and not G. W. Simpson, who was up before Recorder Henton yesterday for using abusive language to Mr. Mensor. This Mensor seems to be getting more notoriety than one man is entitled to; but then it isn't everybody who can climb the ladder of fame, nor many who can have their hands so full of business in dodging fists and epithets. Some day, perhaps, he will strike a job in some sleepy place like Salem and an era of peace will settle down on Albany; but then, like the rest of us, Mensor is one of the men it takes to make up the world.

DISAPPOINTMENTS.—This is a world of disappointment; but it is not often that we have to record such a one as the following taken from the Astoria Pioneer: "You lie, you scoundrel!" These words rang out upon the stillness of the second ward air, and people from half a block around rushed to the spot expecting to find two men clutched in a death grip, for such an insult could only mean blood. When they arrived upon the scene they found a big six footer with a little boy in his grasp whom he had sent for a pitcher of beer. The boy had lost the money through a hole in the sidewalk, and the man thought he had stolen it. The crowd dispersed; very much disappointed to find that nobody was being killed.

SENT TO THE ASYLUM.—Recently we gave the particulars of the examination of Mrs. Nellie Holmes, of Shedd, on the charge of insanity, preferred by her husband, Mr. E. B. Holmes. Two Linn county physicians decided that she was not a fit subject for the insane asylum, and she was discharged. It seems that Mr. Holmes thought differently, for he took her to Corvallis, made the charge before Judge Holgate, and she was duly committed and taken to Salem.

WHEAT.—The wheat yield this year is more uniform than usual. A large number of reports make the yield about thirty bushels per acre, which is remarkably good when it is so general. The quality of the production though is extra. Mr. A. L. Bridgefarmer brought some in from his place that weighed about 130 pounds to the sack. Most of the fall grain is already cut and spring wheat will soon be attacked, when reports of some very large yields may be expected.

BACKED DOWN.—Last night a thousand dollar bet was made by a San Francisco drummer with an Albany gentleman that Cleveland will be re-elected. The money was to be put up to-day. The drummer telegraphed for the money and was ready to put it up but the Harrison man wilted in a manner to show that it was more talk than bet with him, and refused to cover the money.

HUNTERS.—Nearly all of the farms around Albany are posted against hunters, and one hunter says that on a farm where there was no notice, he was ordered off at double quick time, and he could only get even with him by telling him to go to the hot place; but, really, we don't blame the farmer.

HEARD OF THEM.—Three California miners arrived in the city this morning on their way to the Santiam mines. They had heard of their prospects, and will at least investigate them. They will go from here to Marion, thence to Mehama and the mines.

BROWNSVILLE.—Born, to the wife of Mr. A. Gentry, of this city, on the 7th inst., a son....Mr. A. Masterson and family, of Prineville, are here visiting relatives for a few weeks....Mrs. Lewis and daughter, from Corvallis, are here visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. Willson....Messrs. Standish and French have just returned from Clear Lake. They report fish rather scarce....H. C. Wilhoit, of Crook county, is here visiting his parents a few days....Mrs. Owen, from the East, is giving us some good lectures on the subject of temperance....Messrs. Bradley and Davis, of Idaho, accompanied by Mr. George A. Dyson, of this place, start this morning for the mines on Blue river for a ten days' trip....Mr. C. P. Bishop, of McMinnville, has been spending a few days with his many relatives and friends here....Day before yesterday Mr. Frank Jack's house caught fire on the roof, caused by a spark from the chimney, but was discovered in time to be easily extinguished.—Cor. Oregonian of 9th inst.

SHUN THEM.—A correspondent of a Eugene exchange after referring to the fifteen dollar wheat experience of last year says: "It seems that some men like to be humbugged, and no sooner are they well out of one scrape than they are willing to be caught again. We have now among us a lot of men selling a wrought steel range that they say is practically indestructible, and which has more good points to the square inch than was ever heard of in any other stove. They are selling them at a fabulous price, and after all they are only a small four hole range with a small square oven and a grate that allows the ashes and fine coals to drop through, which any school boy knows will require twice the amount of wood a modern wood range should require. We would advise the people to let some one else do the experimenting, and if after trial they are found to be all that is claimed for them, you will find that you can buy them and at a much smaller price. Do not let these sharks make you believe that this is your only chance in a life time to buy a stove, and thus scare about two prices out of you.

THE OREGON PACIFIC.—A Gazette reporter, in an interview with Wm. M. Hoag, Vice President of the O. P., on Wednesday, learned in substance the following: The contract for completing the unfinished work begun by Contractor Bennett was let on Saturday to A. Brink. The contract let is for the completion of twenty odd miles of track east from the present terminus of the road, which will bring it fifty-four miles east of Albany. Mr. Brink has begun buying supplies and material for the work to be done. He has already contracted for 500 Chinamen who will go to the front Saturday, also all white labor offered will be given employment and on Monday next he expects to begin active work.—Gazette.

A NIMROD.—Last Tuesday afternoon a party of Corvallis nimrods went out to John Smith's place to kill some grouse. Among them was Mr. Peter Beason, of Omaha, who had heard a great deal of our grouse shooting, but had never seen a bird of that species. Immediately after getting out of the buggy Mr. Beason crossed the branch to the east of the house and seeing a band of pullets he thought they were the birds he was after, he fired and killed eight. Mrs. Smith was justly indignant, and had it not been for the timely arrival of friends and the pleading of Nick, Mr. Beason never would have lived to tell his experience about grouse hunting.—Leader.

NOT ALL IN.—Down in Curry county a man named Moore has been elected Sheriff. His opponent Bailey had a sure thing, but the voters of John Mule precinct forgot all about election day, and didn't open the polls at all. John Mule precinct would have been solid for Bailey, but Moore slipped in by two majority, and now when Bailey meets a man from John Mule precinct he becomes profane.

WILL CLOSE.—Miss Frances Gilbert desires to give notice that she will close music lessons this week and will resume lessons again the first of September. At that time she will take pupils for lessons on the organ, piano and in harmony. She has done much satisfactory work during the summer and solicits a liberal patronage for the fall term.

BOUGHT OUT.—To-day G. W. Simpson purchased C. B. Roland & Co's, fine stock of clothing, furnishing goods, etc., at a bargain, and will move them at once into his store and sell them at remarkably low figures.

Mr. Alex Smith has finished threshing between 400 and 500 acres of wheat, none of which turned out less than thirty bushels to the acre. 200 acres ran 35 bushels to the acre. From all sides we hear that the yield is heavy.—Leader.

Al Long and Will Fletcher, two fleet footed young men who lead the Albany team in their famous record breaking run at Seattle left to-day for Dakota. As they have been in active training they probably mean business.

The stockholders meeting of the Capitol Gold and Silver Mining Co. advertised in the Democrat, took place in Salem yesterday. John G Wright, J J Murphy, Edward Hixch, S F Chadwick, W W Martin, W J Herren and Miles Bell, were elected directors.

A merchant in Palouse City says that he purchased over $46,000 in placer gold last year, brought in by farmers who only worked at the business occasionally, some of the nuggets weighing two ounces. Excitement still continues over the recent finds in the mountains east of there.

We saw a wealthy merchant on Friday who wore the coat in which he was married twenty five years ago. In reply to a question as to the reason why he appeared in that particular garment, he said it was his mascot; that whenever he entered upon a new speculation, or made a new investment, or took any important step in domestic or business life, he had always donned that coat, and that its charm of luck had never yet deserted him.—Boston Gazette.

The Coming of a Welcome Show.

Our columns, to-day, announce the speedy coming of Sells Brothers' Enormous United Shows, Three Ring Circus, Elevated Stage, Royal Roman Hippodrome and Five Continent Menagerie. While the title is, perhaps, an exhaustive one, it comprehends nothing that the Sells Brothers do not offer for the delectation of the public. The hippodrome is mentioned by the press abroad as presenting realistic and vividly exciting scenes of Rome's palmy days, and the circus offers a core of the best and most distinguished equestrian and gymnastic performers in the profession. The elevated stage is devoted to such special features as could not otherwise be produced, and the menagerie contains an unlimited variety of the strange and curious in animated nature. The show will be in Albany, Monday, Aug. 27.
