The Farmers' Voice, an agricultural paper of Chicago, publishes a cartoon of the farmer as the modern Prometheus, and says: "It is no far-fetched comparison to represent the American farmer as a modern Prometheus, for he is unjustly and fast to the hard rocks of an geyed national policy, while vulturous monopolies, by the grace of special laws, devour his life with the sharp beak of a merciless high tariff. For many years the American farmer has been enduring this torture and was altogether ignorant of its nature. The farmer has recovered from intellectual torpor, and his reasoning faculties are once more on deck. Hence he sees very clearly that he is selling his grain in the open markets of the world, and has no protection, as the price of his wheat is fixed in Liverpool. Therefore he falls to see wherein his interests are to be served by letting high tariff take $100 out of his pockets every year, on the humbug pretext that this steal will enable rich New England manufacturers to pay their hands high wages."

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

A School Duel.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 12.—Last week William Clinton, a teacher in a country school near Perryville, Kansas, whipped a small girl with a small switch. A brother of the girl sent Clinton word he would whip him in school, and on Monday morning he entered the school room with that intention. Clinton drew a knife, and his assailant made ready the same way. The two began at each other in front of the pupils. Several of the larger boys seized each of the combatants, and succeeded in disarming them, but not before they were both mortally wounded.

Death from Yellow Fever.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Prof. Richard A. Proctor, the astronomer and lecturer, died to night in the Willard Park private hospital, of yellow fever. He had been in the hospital since Tuesday night, but as late as nightfall the authorities were reluctant to admit the true character of the ailment. The professor's death, however, was preceded by black vomit, which set all doubts at rest. Prof. Proctor arrived here on Monday from Florida by rail, and put up at the Westminster hotel, on East Sixteenth street. He had spent the summer at his place, called Oak Lawn, in Marion county, Florida, and was not known to have been exposed to the disease. He was enroute for England, where he was to lecture this fall and winter, and had left his wife and family in Florida.

Hot in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—To-day has been another somewhat peculiar day, much indeed the same as yesterday. Persons who were abroad yesterday afternoon late were treated to a rare experience in the form of a hot wind that swept the city from the southwest. The heat for a few minutes was so intense that those who felt it instinctively looked about for a fire along the water front. Work was suspended, men expecting an earthquake or some other strange phenomenon.

Died From Drink.

FOREST GROVE, Sept. 12.—A man named Jackson, aged about 50, unmarried and a resident of Washington county about sixteen years, was found dead yesterday morning under the saloon owned by Mr. Mull, at Reedville. It was evident that during the night before the deceased gained entrance to the saloon through a side window, and after imbibing a quantity of liquor departed through the back door and went to sleep under the building, where he was found dead. The coroner, Dr. F. Crang, was notified.

SEATTLE, Sept. 12.—G. A. Basler, proprietor of a laundry in this city, was shot and killed to-day by G. A. Kline, a former employe of the laundry, because Basler refused to pay him wages amounting to $300. Kline went to the laundry this afternoon, and after heated words with Basler, he whipped out a big six shooter and shot Basler three times, instantly killing him. Basler, though a young man, has had considerable domestic troubles, being twice divorced.

Encouraging.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 12.—Chairman Brice of the democratic national committee in an interview said: "We do not consider we lost ground in Maine. We hold our own, though it must be remembered that the situation in that state is peculiar. With the fishing question, lumber argument and tariff question against us, we still increased the democratic vote. There is no doubt we will carry New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Connecticut. The chances are good for carrying Michigan and Minnesota and there is a fighting chance for Wisconsin. We will make a hard struggle to carry that state. We are much encouraged at the prospect in Illinois, and chances are excellent for carrying that state. The best of feeling exists between Cleveland and Hill and the latter will be nominated for governor of New York by acclamation."
