LOCAL RECORD.

AN ADVERTISING SCHEME.—The DEMOCRAT received a call Saturday evening from D. Leubrie staff correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean. Mr. Leubrie has been in the city for the purpose of making arrangements for an advertisement of our city and county. He offers to write us up in that largely circulated journal provided our citizens will subscribe for that paper, furnishing fifty three months subscriptions or twenty-five six month subscriptions at 30 cents a week. The proposition is a reasonable one, and our citizens would get the worth of their money in any event. Mr. Leubrie has quite an exalted opinion of Albany and Linn county and told a DEMOCRAT man he believed this city would have a population of 15,000 in five years and 25,000 in ten years. Its location being the central position in the Valley in connection with the great trans-continental line that will pass East through Albany gives it an advantage that is bound to make it a fine inland city. Outside of Oregon it is attracting more attention than any other city in Oregon south of Portland, and there is little doubt of its future. As this scheme costs less than most any yet presented, and is a valuable one, it will no doubt be acted on. In fact our business men are favorably impressed with it, and the Board of Trade will probably assist it forward.

WAGNON.—The following from a Salem paper is a mention of a former Linn county man. The paper neglects to mention that while Mr. W. voted for old Tippe, he will not vote for young Tippe: "This morning it was our pleasure to be entertained for a few moments by two old veterans of 1840—Adam Stephens and G. B. Wagnon, who voted for Old Tippe in 1840. The latter gentleman is an old pioneer. Born in 1800 he remembers many administrations and has always been a strong democrat, but he voted for Old Tippe because he thought him the better man. His memory is replete with interesting facts of history, and though now nearly ninety years of age has never had occasion to require the services of a doctor."

THEATRICAL.—"His Natural Life" was presented Saturday night at the Opera House to about four hundred people. The play gives a vivid description of English convict life, and runs over with tragic scenes. C. C. Maubury as Richard Devine is a powerful actor and most of the parts are well filled. Nellie Boyd herself is only a passable performer. The tone of the play is not high nor inspiring and there are some objectionable features to it for a refined audience such as attends at Albany; but all together it is a play that excites the audience and produces a continued succession of applause. The part of Josh Graves particularly is a funny one. That of Rev. Jos. North is the opposite; yet it was one of the best in the play. Were the troupe to perform here again it would no doubt be greeted by another good house.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon Conductor Nash, of the yard engine of this city was ordered to take some extra freight cars to Portland. When he got to Woodburn he invited Mr. J. H. Richards of that place to take a trip with him. Mr. Richards finally consented, and made the trip successfully until they had returned as far as Canemah, at which point they were running at the rate of about thirty miles per hour, when they met a hand car. Mr. Richards was leaning out to see the car, when the engineer reversed his engine. It was brought up so suddenly that Mr. Richards was thrown from the engine, breaking his leg in two places.—Salem Journal.

ASHAMED OF IT.—The following from the Pendleton E. O. makes it look as if some young men do things they are ashamed of. We have some in Albany like them: "They were three nice young men, and the red liquor was placed at their disposal on the bar, when something horrid happened. In walked two kind-bearded ladies bearing the subscription paper for the Sawtell family. The N. Y. M. jumped for the back room like born athletes, but it was too late. They were caught in the act. A thing is never wicked until it is discovered."

WHEN.—When you want a keg of pickles, keg of syrup or anything else in the grocery line you will find it to your advantage to call on F. L. Kenton near the Post-office.

J. A. Archibald, agent Singer Manufacturing Co., opposite Odd Fellows Temple, Albany, Or.

BAD ACCIDENT.—Saturday evening about six o'clock Kantz & Davis' wood sawing outfit started up, after the regular days work, to saw a little wood at Mr. Kantz's residence. Charles Henry, one of the hands, was handing a stick of wood over the rapidly moving saw from the wrong side, by the way a careless act when his right arm, just above the elbow struck the saw. With a buzz the saw went into the arm penetrating the bone, and entirely severing the triceps muscle, fortunately not striking an artery. Dr. J. P. Wallace was sent for and dressed the wound. Several splinters of bone were taken out and the muscle was sewn together. As the arm will have to be kept in an extended position for several weeks it is a question whether Mr. Henry has the complete use of his arm again.

A BIG BATCH.—Saturday evening a tramp made himself conspicuous in Jones' barber shop by helping himself to razors and flourishing them in a dangerous manner, when he was arrested and placed in the calaboose. William Garnett, a brother tramp, who made himself conspicuous a year ago by having fits, and who has since been in the insane asylum, was also arrested, but escaped. The other tramp made night hideous in the calaboose and the next morning was discharged by the marshal without any hearing. Last night both of the men were again arrested and placed in the calaboose, where one is liable to remain for several days. About a dozen others around the depot promised to leave the city. Now is the time for some emphatic action. Our citizens are getting tired of this tramp nuisance.

ONECO WON.—The special race, at Walla Walla, mentioned Saturday, was completed Saturday afternoon. Four heats had been trotted Friday, Oneco winning two and Maud Knox two. Purse $500. D K W won the fifth heat and Oneco the last and race in 2:34½. This is quite a feather in the stallions cap, and shows that he has the qualities for making a very reliable trotter when trained down. Though he secured a record of only 2:32½ he has trotted in less than 2:29. This season Oneco has entered in four races. In the first he won third money, in the second, second money, in the third and fourth, first money. McKnight Bros., are to be congratulated on the good performances of their horse.

AN EXCITING CHASE.—This forenoon Sheriff Smallmon, with three of the prisoners in the jail, was carrying in wood when one of them, Chas Hannon, the man who recently dislocated Officer Miller's arm, made a bold dash for liberty. Throwing down his wood he ran west on Fourth street, the sheriff after him. Deputy Sheriff Smith joined in the chase, and afterwards Jud Kniss. Near the ditch the man saw that he was about to be captured and so turned, walked back and gave himself up, though he said he would not if he hadn't lost his breath. It is safe to say Hannon will do no more wood carrying, something the prisoners are glad to do, as it gives them an airing.

BUSINESS CHANGE.—Mr. J. M. Irving has bought a half interest in the furniture business of Wm. Fortmiller, and the new firm has bought out the furniture business of Woodin & Willard and will consolidate the two and run a large store, probably the most extensive furniture store in the Valley. Both live, enterprising men, they are bound to make it succeed. Mr. Willard, we understand will go to Washington Territory, while Mr. Woodin intends to devote his time to his mining interests.

HELD.—Chas. Wilson, the printer and journalist, who was arrested Saturday for giving liquor to Indians, was examined before George Humphrey, Esq., at 7 o'clock Saturday evening and held to await the action of the grand jury under $100 bonds. Wilson had first received the whiskey from the red men and then gave it back to them, a curious kind of an arrangement. As he is moneyless he probably might as well be in jail as anywhere, at least until he gets sober.

A FINE GRAPE.—Mr. C. P. Burkhardt has presented this office with some very fine grapes of an unknown variety. They were planted for the Concord; but came up a white grape of an entirely different flavor. The grape is a fine one, and Mr. Burkhardt is satisfied with the mistake.

DIED.—At Brownsville on Saturday, Oct. 6th, 1888, of congestion of the heart, Mr. Jas. Hartney, aged thirty-five years. Mr. Hartney was an employee in the mills at that city, and leaves a wife.

That Foot Race.

Editors Democrat:
I see in the DAILY DEMOCRAT of the 1st of this month and Statesman of the 3rd, a statement from E. G. Cameron, in which he denies the statement as made in the DEMOCRAT that his race with Eoff was a put up job, and that in said communication the following language was used: "I see in your paper of the 28th ult. an article clipped from the Albany DEMOCRAT, which states in substance that the Albany boys believe the Cameron and Eoff foot race to have been a chuck." Said communication then adds: "In justice to Mr. Eoff I will say that three watches were held on him at the time of the race. And those who knew his time said he made it all right." Now I am one of the parties that held one of the watches at the time of the race between Cameron and Eoff, and I also know Eoff's time. Eoff's time is ten seconds, and he has frequently run a hundred yards in ten seconds. The time made in said race by Cameron was 10½ seconds. Cameron got fifteen feet the start of Eoff. Eoff run up and passed Cameron within the first fifty yards, and as Eoff passed Cameron, he Eoff looked around and back at Cameron, and then slacked up, and the halting was discovered by those watching the race from the grand stand and the judges stand. And it was understood at the time by those that I have talked with, who saw Eoff check up, that he checked up on purpose so as to allow Cameron to win the race.
