I'm jolly

and fat, though

I needn't say that; for a glance at my size and a look in my eyes, and you plainly can see there's no flies upon me. I'm a little bit short both of breath and of hair, but from shoulders to knees you can see I'm all there. I smile and I laugh, I joke and I chaff; I refuse to be sad and I never get mad. But you'd never surmise where my happiness lies, so I'll up and confess what you never could guess. A good thing to eat is always a treat, which will make you as sweet as our sugar cured meat, makes you feel so content with the money spent that you're bound to feel glad; and you couldn't get mad though a man just as thin as a rail or a pin was to pull at your nose or tread on your toes. If you're fat or your're lean, if you're pleasant or mean, just give W. & T. a show to sell you right low, you will feel such a thrill of contentment until you'll wish you were fat to enjoy more of that. For the feeling's sake your good sense by buying groceries, produce and crackers of W & T.

HOLSTEIN CATTLE.

Geo. D. Barton has just arrived from Iowa with a lot of finely bred Holstein cattle which he offers at less than half the price the same class of cattle have ever been sold for in Oregon. These cattle are now on the farm of James Elkins one half mile south of Albany, where he will take pleasure in showing them to visitors. Mr. Barton will receive orders for pure bred and high grade heifers and cows to be delivered this fall or early in the spring at the lowest possible prices. Address

GEO. D. BARTON,

P. O. box 163, Albany, Or.

When the Oregonian gets caught in a mean trick, as for instance, the one where it, with evident design, misquoted Thurman's speech for the purpose of showing that that gentleman was in favor of Chinese immigration, it attempts to break the force of the disclosure by saying "the matter has no kind of importance." Of course, we suppose with the Oregonian, that seems to have no conscientious scruples, the mere matter of open lying about Thurman's record may seem to be of no "importance," but with the people who have respect for truth and fair dealing the matter is quite different, and this is why, happily, so many are different from the editor of that paper.

The Portland Daily News says carpenter's planes sell in England for $15 per dozen and the same kind sell in the United States for $10.20 per dozen, and that common hand saws sell in England at $6 per dozen and in the United States at $5 per dozen. Why in the name of reason then do you squeak and squall when it is proposed to reduce the tax on these articles? Our manufacturers of these articles can not possibly be injured by the reduction, because it would be impossible to sell the foreign article here. The News would cry free trade if the democrats should propose to put pure air on the free list.

In view of Gen. Harrison's assertion that the step towards Free Trade does not depend upon the length but the direction, it is to be feared that the Senate Finance Committee has taken the road to Avernus by placing on the free list acorns, raw, dried or undried; bristles, raw or manufactured; dandelion roots, dried or undried; human hair, raw and unclean; and sand—all of which are native products and should be protected against the pauper labor of Europe.
