

For President—GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York
For Vice President—ALLEN S. TULLMAN, of Ohio
For Presidential Electors—
W. R. BLYEU, of Linn county.
W. H. EPPINGER, of Multnomah county.
E. R. SKIPWORTH, of Wasilla county.

WHAT WILL BE THE RESULT?

Next Tuesday over 11,000,000 voters will join in deciding by the suffrage ballot who shall direct the affairs of the government for the next four years. Owing to the great number of unknown and uncertain elements that enter into the contest, it is very difficult to forecast the result. Republicans concede these states to the democrats: Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, making 156 electoral votes. A very large majority of democrats claim in addition to these states, the following: Connecticut, Indiana, West Virginia and New York, making 219 electoral votes, eighteen more than enough to elect. Most democrats hold these states to be doubtful: California, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nevada and New Hampshire. The democrats concede the following states to the republicans: Colorado, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont, making 101 in all. Republicans claim in addition to the above the following as sure to go republican: California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York and Wisconsin, making in addition to the states conceded to them 238 electoral votes or 37 more than enough to elect. Many republicans claim the following states as doubtful: Delaware, New Jersey, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia. From all which one important fact stands out prominent above all others, and that is from the consensus of the opinions of leaders on both sides there appear to be more doubtful states than for years past. We regard the following states as reasonably safe for Cleveland: Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia, making a total electoral vote of 213 or 12 more than enough to elect. There is more or less ground for hope that the democrats may carry some of the following states: California, Connecticut, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire and Wisconsin. We do not remember to have ever seen the time when it was so difficult to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion as regards the result of a presidential election, but wait and we shall see what we shall see.

There is one fact that should not be lost sight of in the coming election, and especially by the laboring man, and that is that all trusts and monopolies are controlled by the Republicans. By the cry of high protection they seek to delude the laborer into the belief that it will be to his benefit, when in reality, it is only to perpetuate the trusts and combinations by which the people are being robbed.

There is a great scratching up of dry bones throughout the state of Illinois just now. The enthusiastic Republicans who hold office under the appointment of the Governor are now fully alive to the fact that Palmer is about to defeat Pifer. Of course, they think this is sacrilege, and wonder why lightning don't strike the profane Democrats for proposing a change.

One of the most highly "protected" countries in Europe is Spain, and it is also one of the very poorest. The most highly "protected" State in the Union is Pennsylvania, and nowhere in this country is the condition of the workingmen worse.

Chief Justice Yellot, Maryland's oldest Judge and a leading Democrat, has written a long letter declaring for Harrison and high protection.

Andrew Carnegie, Blaine's friend and Harrison's great backer, imports his household servants from Scotland. That pauper labor is good enough for him.

The Judges and clerks of election under the new law are appointed to serve two years. They who served at the last election will serve as such next Tuesday.

WHO CAN VOTE.

This question comes up at each recurring presidential election. The impression prevails in the minds of many people that somehow a different law regulates the voting at a presidential election from that which governs at a state election, but such is not the case. A man who would be a qualified voter at a state election to be held on November the 6th would be a qualified voter at a presidential election on that day and not otherwise. The qualification of voters in a presidential election are fixed by the several states. The general government has nothing at all to do with it. In order that any one may vote next Tuesday he must have resided in this state six months, must be twenty one years of age. If he be foreign born he must have been in the state six months and must have declared his intention to become a citizen at least one year prior to the election, and must be 21 years of age.
