LOCAL RECORD.

BOARD OF TRADE.—On account of no quorum the Board of Trade did not meet last evening; but the few present built the railroad to Astoria, obtained terminal facilities on the Southern Pacific, organized a woolen mill company, continued the Narrow Gauge railroad to this city and set out several hundred acre prune orchards and as well thoroughly established the fact that Linn county is as good a peach country as there is in the world...

WATER POWERS.—For the benefit of the genius who presides over the columns of the esteemed Albany Democrat, we will remind him that Salem also has a water power second to none—save the Falls—of the valley cities. We are utilizing it too in many ways.

AN ALBANY GIRL.—Here is a true picture of an Albany girl who has proposed to several young men during this leap year, and having been rejected in each instance begins to show the effects of it, and we understand contemplates throwing herself into the Willamette:

CROOKED CURIOSITIES.—A cow passing from grocery store to grocery store along First street sampling cabbages, onions, etc. A merchant who will advise a customer to trade at some other store. A man who wouldn't have a lucrative office thrust on him.

A PIONEER.—Regarding the death of Chauncey Cole, a friend at Aumsville writes us that Mr Cole was born in June, 1813, hence was seventy-five years old last June. He came to this coast in an early day, took a claim in Linn county in the forks of the Santiam and lived there, and raised an honorable family and was highly respected by all who knew him.

WENT TO THE BAY.—Mr. Gilmour and family, recently of Kansas, passed through the city for Newport, which they intend making their future home. Ms. Gilmour, is a real estate man and will open an office. He was a prominent man in Kansas, having been Grand Master of the Masons and will be a great addition to the bay.

IN SALEM.—There have been no new cases of small pox reported in Marion county since Monday. A wild rumor of two cases near Salem that was circulated on the streets yesterday morning proved to be nothing more nor less than a senseless canard. The Schwab girl in North Salem is getting along nicely, and no new cases have been reported in the family.

HOME AND ABROAD.

A full line of Christmas candies and nuts will be kept by Brownell & Stansard.

Albany must boom its population for the eleventh census which will be taken in 1890.

School bags, tablets, pencils, etc., very cheap, at J F Cooks, opposite Revere house.

Hon Al Blevins, of Tangent, illuminated our sanctum to-day: also Mr U O Gentry, of Lebanon.

The street railway contract at Salem was to be let this forenoon. There were about a dozen bidders.

A fine stock of new walnuts, almonds, Brazils, Pecans and Filbut's at Wallace & Thompson's.

A teachers institute has been called by State Superintendent McElroy, to meet at Corvallis on Dec 20.

Tom Richmond, of Dallas, the gentleman who boiled the cocoanut, and a democrat from way back, is in the city.

The Portland papers claim that the small pox is going down. Hope so, at least do not want it to come up—the Valley.

Thanksgiving ball at "E" company's armory Thursday eve, Nov 29. Crawford's orchestra will furnish the music.

They have some Jessie Jameses up in Grant county. They sign themselves "101" and order prominent citizens to leave.

An exchange suggests a law providing that all criminal cases now tried before a justice be tried before the county judge, who is paid an annual salary.

T Jones' girl, heretofore mentioned, was a boy. Tommy is rejoicing considerably over the fact that it is a "little shaver," as he needs one in his business.

That the west is still untamed is proven by the fact that two large beavers were trapped two miles to the north of Salem yesterday, says a paper of that city.

S S Trzin and several other Albany gentlemen are up on the Oregon Pacific building cottages on land taken up under the soldiers act. Some day it will probably be valuable property.

A gentleman says he can get up a petition signed by three hundred men protesting against shutting up the cows. We think the number is greatly exaggerated. Any way the streets of a progressive city are no place for bovines.

Rev G L Rogers, of Arcade, N Y, has received a call to preach in the Congregational church of this city, and will begin work about the first of January. He will come with the reputation of being a young man of fine ability. Rev Rogers was in the same class with Prof Lee at Williams college.

A size in a coat is an inch, a size in underwear is two inches, a size in a sock is one inch, in a collar half an inch, in shoes one sixth of an inch, pants one inch, gloves one-fourth of an inch, and in hats one-eighth of an inch. Very few purchasers know the schedule named.

Of the Narrow Gauge train derailed a few days ago near Sheridan, three box cars were completely capsized. In one car were twenty-five Chinamen. No one was killed or very seriously injured, though a number of Chinamen were badly shaken up, cut and severely bruised.

In our lists of bad beasts mentioned yesterday might have appeared the name of Charles Cowan, now in the jail at Salem charged with a crime which the Journal says once caused the destruction of a great city. The victim, a nine year old boy, is yet seriously ill.

The New York young man to be dressed in the latest style, must wear a tailless dress coat made of invisible ribbed black worsted material more clinglike in its texture than broadcloth. The length and cut is similar to the ordinary sack coat, but shaped to the figure at the back. The collar is made of silk on the rolling pattern. The unmentionables to suit this coat have a broad seam of black silk embroidery, representing garlands of roses or violets, and look so nice.

Several blacksmiths who were sent here by the last steamer by Hanson & Co, of San Francisco, to work for Searle & Dean, found on arriving here that they had been sold by the agents, Searle & Dean not wanting blacksmiths and having no connection with Hanson & Co. The men will return at once, and promise some fun when they get in the metropolis of the coast.

P. S.—A gentleman who claims to know, informs us since the above was put in type that Hanson & Co., of San Francisco, were the agents for Searle & Dean and had received orders to send several blacksmiths until the order was countermanded. We know nothing about the matter, nor of the truth of this position.

AESTHETIC.—An Astoria paper is getting very aesthetic. It says of Emma Abbott, whom Portland papers lauded to the highest pitch, that "she doesn't know any more about Faust than a skunk of Heaven," and that the company was composed "of a few dudes who know as much about grand opera as a cat about theology." As a critic of theatrical performances brother Curtis just natural jumps over even the Oregonian's clippings.

INSANE PEOPLE.—The State insane asylum is filling at a terrific rate. Insanity seems to be striking right and left. A Salem paper says: Sheriff Zoeth Houser, of Umatilla county, arrived here last evening with another patient for the asylum. The patient, who is a highly respected married lady of Pendleton, was of violent that the services of two persons besides the Sheriff were required in bring her here.

LIVE MEN WANTED.—It takes live men to make a live town. Dead men only are fit to inhabit cemeteries. If they are decently dead—dead all over—we tenderly lay them away to the sleep of the tomb; but if they are dead to all enterprise, outside of the narrow plane of their own interests and yet persist in walking around, moving their dry bones and calloused hearts and consciences where real estate is wont to throb with vigor, they are only like the drone bees—in the way until they are stung to death and dragged outside the hive of legitimate industry.

Twenty real live men are worth more to a town and the public generally than a round full thousand of useless material that lies around like rubbish in rising stream which is aching and foaming to turn mills and factories.

TRADE HERE.—We have been told of a great many Albany people who do as much of their trading in Portland as possible, though they get their living here, and can get better bargains. We know of cases where nearly 50 per cent. more has been paid for exactly the same article. No city in the Northwest carries better lines of goods for the size of the place than Albany and our merchants are entitled to the trade of the place. Of course they get most of it; but there are some who seem to think it is the proper thing to go to Portland for nearly everything.
