A Binsed Teacher

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:-"Caelebs." Albany Prof. who writes from Sodaville to the HEBALD on the Boer English war continues to flounder in deep water. It is very evident that he has a very indistract conception of the true issue in that war. The Frot. sagely expresses the opinion that, "the expression of sympathy for the Boers is not a political issue and has no business in a political platform." 3o, the Prof. has drifted away from his expressed purpose of reading the history of south Africa in order to enlighten his own mind, to a fruitless effort to show that the McKinley admin istration is right in its attitude on this question. I felt sure it would not require more than one broadelde to drive the Prof from his masked purpose, (that of making the people believe that Mark Hanna McKinley-English scheme all right) and having done so I will proceed to fire upon the Prof. in the open field where he will have no chance to reel shelter except in retreat. Now then, why does not a political party have a right to sympathize with the Boers in their defense of their homes and fire sides's

The democratic party sympathizes with them, and it has expressed itself that way in its platform. As far back as 1852 a resolution was placed in the Free Soil platform declaring that "the independence of Hayti ought to be recognized by our government." In the republican national platform of 1868 a resolution was meerted announcing, "this convention dectares itself in sympathy with all oppressed people who are struggling for heir rights." In 1884 the democrats in their national platform declared that 'we express our cordial sympathy with the struggling toeople of all nations in their efforts to secure for themselves the inestimable blessings of self government. In 1892 the republicans in their national platform, declared that "the republican party has always been the champion of the oppressed, and recognizes the dignity of manhood, irrespective of faith, color or nationality. It sympathizes with the cause of Home Rule; in Ireland, and protests against the persecution of the Jews in Russia." (This was before the secret McKinley Alliance with Great Britain had been entered into.) The democrats in the same year had a strong resolution in their platform texpressing sympathy with the Jews in Russia and the Irisn. Both democrate and frepublicans did the same in 1896. So, Prof. you will see, at once, that your dictum that such reso lutious have no business, in party platform is mere subterfuge, resorted to by you to shield your party from the criticism of baying refused to express any sympathy for the Boers struggling to maintain their republic. But your little scheme proved to be a failure. No one has asked that the administration should expressits sympathy for the Boers by oining forces with them, but that we should let the world in general, and the Boers in particular, know that our sympathies are with those struggling to maintain their independent republic. The republicane in former years have made it their almost uniform practice to pass resolutions of this kind and the reason they refused to do so at Philadel phia is because they are restrained from doing so by the secret alliance arrangement the administration has made with the British empire. This is the unrelenting thorn that punctures the thin covering of the political organism of the Prof.'s party. The Prof. harps on the fact that the Boers of South Africa have made no progress and belong to the seyenteenth century. How absurd such talk is. Their having made no progress furnishes ac'excuse to the English to wrest their country from them simply because they have the power to do so Then the Prof. has found a mare's nest in the fact that the Boers have slaves. But Prof , you are stopped from urging tha lagainst the Boers, for you know that the Salus in the Philippine Islands have slaves and that McKinley pledges the Sulo kine protection in his slave property and actually pays the Sulu Fing and his parasites a good round monthly salary each. Then Caelebs as if d fer mined to drown himself in his own con usion tells us that when the Uitlanders petitioned the Boers for the right of suffrage on the same terms that it was granted to others (the Boers) the petition was not granted. That furnished no excuse to the English to steal the Boer's country from them. The Boers alone had the power to settle the question of suffrage, and that settlement was final, just as the right to vote in the United States is settled by each state, Suppose the foreign Germans should petition to have terms upon which Ithey are allowed to vote in the United States modified and made less stringent, and suppose this petition should not be granted; would that be sufficient excuse for the Germans to cobble up and make this country a part of the German em himself. But England had nothin there over which she could be supreme until she stole Cape Colony in 1819 and mer resort. Other northwest resorts are ever since then she has been clandestinely plotting to establish her supremscy over the Orange Free State and the Transvasi, notwithstanding she had not a color of title to either. It is proper to say here that there is just one explanation why McKinley, under the dictation of Mark Hanna sides with England and against the Boers and that is this:

England wants to expand in South Africa. Mark Hanna nts to expand n the Philippines. Says Mark to John Bull: "You let me alone and I will let you alone." Here is the secret ailiance with Great Britain, so well understood by Webster Davis, and which drove him out of the Speretary of State's office une der McKinley and into the democratic

They have always fatrug gled, as well as a weak nation can, against the aggressive purposs of Grea Britain to steal their country from them, This fact is clearly proven by the Prof.
