Base Ball.

The Scio base ball club with a crowd of rooters came to Albany yesterday with their pockets full of money prepared to do up Albany with a snap. It is said $700 to $1,000 was wagered on the game besides the purse of $200. Money changed hands fast. Albany took the lead and were soon 7 to 0, when Scio put in a new pitcher brought over as a sure winner and continued to put up money, but he helped matters none and the game ended 14 to 4.

Mrs. Marcus Solmer, of Portland, is in the city the guest of her aunt Mrs. Edwin Stone. Mrs. C. W. Watts and daughter—Miss Irma left Saturday evening for Salem and Polk county on a visit previous to moving to Port and to locate. Rev. Morrow, wife and daughter left this morning for their home at the Warm Springs by way of the Lebanon Wagon Road. Capt. Chas. Sears has accepted a position with the Oregon Telephone Co., at Portland, and will move to that city in a few days. He will be succeeded here by Jos. Ralston. Miss Eva Simpson left this afternoon for Hanford, Calif., where she will teach in the public school, residing with relatives. Hanford gains an excellent teacher and a splendid citizen. Ex-councilman Gradwohl returned home last Saturday evening on the delayed overland from his annual visit with San Francisco relatives. He had a pleasant time. Dr. Wire left this afternoon for Ashland to attend the conference of the M. E. church. He was joined at this city by a large number of other ministers on the way to the same place to learn their fate for the coming year. Sergeant George Hart, U. S. A., arrived in Albany yesterday morning from San Francisco, where he was mustered out a few days ago. He is the guest of his brother A. S. Hart. He will visit here a month and then go back to Manila, where he has a good position offered him in the government office.

TUESDAY.

College Opening.

The lecture by President E. A. Bryan of the state agricultural college, of Pullman, Wash., last evening was a very appropriate opening for the coming college year. The subject was 'The Development of Character, presented in an able manner. The importance of character in connection with an education was enlarged upon in an impressive manner. Lineal descendants, political preferment, wealth, are all small compared with character. Character is law, not anarchy. All progress depends upon character. Character education of the masses is necessary to the existence of the republic. Of the criminal classes one-third are absolutely uneducated and four-fifths practically uneducated. The world wants men of decision of character who will control evil, and not be controlled by it. When you possess character no one can rob you of it, but yourself. It is a false way to judge men by their wealth of power. The true test is character. The speaker gave a number of interesting character sketches and made a strong plea to the boys and girls present to do something and be something, rising to a high culture with character as its foundation. Albany College has always made a feature of education the building of character, and the address was emphatically in keeping with the policy of the school. The following: old and new students registered yesterday and today at Albany College:

WARRIED.

McCALEF-GREY.—On Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1900, at the S. Charles Hotel, in Albany, by F. P. Nutting, J. P. Mr. Harry Metcalf and Miss Emma Gray, both of Haley. The groom is an employee of the Southern Pacific, a bridge carpenter and popular young man, while the bride is a native Oregonian, a daughter of Mr. Oahb Grew, a bright young lady of estimable character. They have the best wishes of many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf left on the afternoon train for Portland on their bridal trip. Terms of sale: The cattle will be sold for cash. All other sums under $10 each in hand. Sums of $10 and over, 6 per cent. discount for cash or one year's time will be given on note with approved security, without interest if paid when due; otherwise 8 per cent. interest from date. S. CHRISTNER. I. C. DICKY, Auctioneer. Unbearable weather for the state fall's so present outlook. Taken up a red setter dog. He is in the hands of the poundmaster and can be secured by the payment of costs. Several Northern Pacific brakemen have been discharged for accepting money from tramps for riding on their trains. Their names were secured by spotters. An Albany man who went to Salem this morning to attend the fair and remain several days returned this noon, reporting a blue atmosphere around the city and not a person on the fair grounds. C. H. Curtis, chief engineer of the C. & E., has been in the city. He recently returned from a trip over the proped line east, now being surveyed by two of three parties, one which went out from Albany now being about at the summit of the mountains. Everything points towards work eastward next spring. But then we have had our hopes raised a number of times before. Rev. David Tatum, a quaker evangelist, of Denver, Colo., spoke in the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. It is said he did not mind matters much on the temperance question, but spoke very plainly about the government whiskey cyclone that has been wrecking the soldiers in the Philippines.

BRUCE-PEARCE.—In the suburbs of Boston, last week, Mr. George Bruce and Miss Pearce. The groom is a former Albany man, a member of I. O. O. F. in the Philippine campaign, and has many friends here who will unite in wishing him and Mrs. Bruce prosperity and happiness.

BORN.

WATERFORD.—On Sunday, Sept. 18, 1900, to Mr. and Mrs. Rialto L. W. Waterford, a girl. All doing well.

MONDAY.

The Quickest Route.

Lawyer A. A. Toesing, of Brownsville, was to the city today on legal business. He reported continued interest in the Brownsville road to the Blue River mines. It has already been built a third of the distance to the Lane county line, and another gang of fifteen men left last night to help complete the work, which will be pushed as fast as possible. Here is a pointer that should stir Albany men up to action. Where it takes two or three days to go in from Eugene, by this route the trip can be made from Albany to the mines in one day. Over the old trail, before improved, the trip has been made repeatedly by Brownsville men from that city in ten hours, at least a third of the time it takes on the other side. These mines will undoubtedly be among the richest on the coast, and it is not to be seen that there is a big thing for Linn county people in the fact that we will get in and do something towards getting such a quick inlet into them. G. W. McLaughlin, Sheriff of Linn County, Oregon.

Corvallis.

From the Times: Miss Hortense Grefox is home from an extended sojourn in Josephine county. While there Miss Grefox visited the famous cove, as well as various gold mines. A party of Scio hunters passed through town the other day, enroute home from a camping trip in the Alsea county. They captured three deer. Nelson Crume, of Shield station, was in town the other day arranging for his son to enter college when the fall term opens. The young man is to make his home at Cathlamet Hill. The college sewer has been finally completed, accepted and paid for. Its aggregate cost, including the college proportion of the city sewer was $3,876. Dr. Withycombe arrived Thursday from California, where he went to serve as a judge in the stock show at the state fair at Sacramento. He is to leave today for the Oregon state fair, and will-in a few days to the East for an extended tour in the interest of O. A. C. A Dakota man was in town the other day. He was out for a day or two, and then left for the Yaquna country, where he hopes to Coo county. He and a number of Dakota neighbors figure on making a change of location. They have their eyes on Oregon, and the late visitor was making an inspection of the country in the interest of the party. He was delighted with Benton.

DEATH OF ALTHUR JOHNSON.—Arthur Johnson, a pioneer of 1850, died at his home near Wells station Saturday evening, at the age of 78 years. He was prosperous and leaves quite a fortune. Two children survive him Mrs. Johnson died at Sodaville several years ago.

The fire calamity at Portland last night has a good mark for horses and in Europe a destructive earthquake occurred. The flesh is not a natural food and its use should not be allowed.
