

Ladies Wrappers.

The style in the cut sells for 85c. It is a flounced wrapper, made of good quality percale. This wrapper is an excellent value. The sailor collar which finishes the neck is most comfortable. We have many other styles which range in price up to $2.50. Some have braid trimmed yokes, some ruffled yokes. They are put up in a very attractive manner.

The juniors of the state university at Eugene next Friday night will give their annual exhibition. One of the orations will be delivered by J. Arthur Gamber, formerly of this city.

At the home of S. E. Young last evening a couple of very pleasant talks were made by Misses Gordon and Lawrence, who were in the city on their way east from the Punjab, India mission field, where they have labored many years. Those present appreciated the privilege of hearing directly of the work they assist in supporting.

The Journal says of the recent marriage of R. C. Churchill, of this city and Miss Julia Perry, of Salem: "The contracting parties are both well known here, the bride having been organist at the Christian church for several years and is an excellent musician and the groom was a resident of this city until a year ago." The Statesman says: "The bride is one of Salem's most talented young ladies, having served as organist for a number of years in the Christian church of this city, and is highly respected and loved by her host of friends. The groom is a member of the firm of Churchill Bros., who conduct the Elite Confectionery store at Albany; he was formerly employed as candy-maker in The Spa, of this city. He possesses all of the qualities that are required to make a gentleman, and is an honest and scrupulous business man."

The D. of H.

IN AND AROUND ALBANY

Leave orders for the Examiner, Cal and Chronicle with Kenneth Frock, Albany agent.

The S. P. officials passed through the city this afternoon bound south inspecting railroad property.

The tolling of the bridge will begin as soon as the proper signs have been painted, sometime this week.

The saloon of F. L. Reis was closed last evening under a chatelet mortgage held by William Faber for about $900.

A highlander with his baggage was in the city today introducing a patent muck. That is one way, and there are others.

Jack Warner is shining them up in the most artistic manner at Dunnison's opposite the Democrat office. Try him.

Already about three hundred seats have been reserved for the May festival of music, most of them for the season of three concerts. A few seats remain and should be secured at once.

In the big stock sale of thoroughbred cattle belonging to the Osborn estate at Corvallis, last Saturday 345 head were sold at an average of $68.66. Among the buyers were Judge George D Barton, at $47 and $50. R L Westherford at $40 and $58.

The Oregonian today gives an account of the arrest in Portland of J G Berthune, a street car conductor, on the charge of breaking into the City and Suburban car barn and stealing $120. He was held under $1000 bonds, which he could not furnish. His plea is not guilty. The Democrat is informed it is Joe Berthune, a former resident of Albany.

The following from the Lebanon Express-Advance indicates a candidate for Salem. "Rev" Doug Hamilton made quite an exhibition of himself in this place on Saturday. He came into town with flags stuck all over himself and horse, and after parading up and down Main street, delivered a harangue at the hotel corner.

People who have lived in this valley rarely ever are contented with any other country. Here is another case reported by the Lebanon E. A: T. B. Miller has returned to this vicinity from Nebraska, after an absence of five years. He is glad to get back to Oregon, and has now come to stay. He reports that a good many Nebraska people are coming to Oregon this spring. He says there has been a great drop in the price of cattle in that state during the past year.

The jury in the case of Kennedy agt. Reis was not discharged until 12:15 o'clock this morning. The members stood 3 to 3 on the first ballot and on the last one. It is doubtful if a jury could ever be gotten that would agree in the matter. In the meantime it is rolling up the expenses. The job though is not a very paying one for jurymen. In this case they served on three days and received $1. How many more times the case will be tried is not known.

Mandamus Proceedings.

SALEM, May 1.—Fish commissioner Reed today begun Mandamus proceedings to collect his salary and outstanding fees.

M. H. WILDS, President.
FRED. B. MARSHALL, Secretary.

MISFITS

According to an exchange a Salem man never gets so full but what he can lay down.

The Salem Journal heads an article about a recent fire limits case in Albany: "Strange Example of Lectorer in an Educational Institution."

There will be plenty of time after oil is actually struck in Oregon for people to get excited. Until then it will be a good idea to keep hold of your prece strings.

A few fool Oregon papers already are trying to get Corbett started for the next senatorial contest. This is an outrage on the people. Let us have a new deal.

The Salem Journal intimates that the only subject the Oregonian knows anything about is religion, whereas of all subjects it knows the least about it.

In the legislature in 1853 efforts were made to change the name of Salem to Chemawa, Thurston, Valeus, Bronson, Willametta, Victoria or Pike, almost any old name so it was not Salem, but all efforts failed, and Salem continues the same peaceful city as it was in 1853.

Speaker Reed says that it was all right for him to receive $150 for assisting in correcting the house journal though he never assisted at all, not being present when it was corrected. Speaker Reed is the kind of man who should be everlastingly dropped out of office. It is time the people showed their disapproval of such grafting.
