

Roseburg Doings.

Roseburg, June 6.—The fund for the establishment of a crematory here of a capacity to handle the milk of 1200 cows is completed and accepted by Mr. O. Ralston, the promoter. A site desirable in every particular has been selected and a building will be erected at once. The plant, with new machinery throughout, will be ready for operation by August 1st.

Bricklaying was commenced today on the fine three-story hotel being erected by Mr. D. C. McCallister. It will be ready for occupancy by October 1st.

Large mains are now being laid through the principal streets for the new water system from Winchester, five miles north. The large 12-inch main is now in the entire distance, the reservoirs are ready for cementing and the water will be turned in next month. The cold water company will receive their new pump next week, giving triple their present capacity, and a lively contest for business is expected.

Bridge Talk.

There is considerable talk on the streets and in the county about the Albany bridge, and the proposition for Benton to assume joint control of it with Linn county. William Ryals talked about the matter in town Monday. He contributed to the construction of the bridge in the beginning. He lives in Benton county, about four miles from Albany. He also pays taxes in Linn county, to assume joint control, provided that Linn pay the expenses in proportion to the taxable property of each county, and provided further that Linn also pay a similar proportion of the expense of the Corvallis ferry. Otherwise he opposes any proposition for Benton to have anything to do with the bridge, and says he will be at the county court to fight any measure proposing joint control on other terms. Under his view Benton would assume about one-third and Linn about two-thirds of the expense of the Albany bridge and the Corvallis free ferry.—Times.

In Memoriam.

Resolutions of respect and condolence, adopted by Camp No. 5465, M. W. A., at their meeting May 8, 1901.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has deemed it best to remove from our midst the little child of our Esteemed Neighbor, John Winkley; therefore, be it:

Resolved, that in its death the family has lost a shining mark and a lovely flower.

Resolved, that our Camp extend to the family, our heartfelt sympathy in their hour of sorrow and affliction, and commend them to him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, spread on the record of our Camp, and published in the City papers.

FRANK POWELL, P. J. BALTIMORE, E. R. HUSTON.

The Goddess Vote.

The vote for goddess of liberty at press time this afternoon was as follows:

At Burkart & Lee's 157, at Dawson's 130, at Elite Candy Factory 23, at H. Viereck's 2, at Woodworth's 1, at L. E. Pfeiffer's 0, at Foshay & Mason's 0. Total vote: Miss Nina Cline, 251; Miss Vira Stewart, 177. Balance same as last report.

The S. P. track west of the depot was obstructed this noon by a train, for fifteen minutes, at a time when everybody wished to cross and passengers from the Bay train were waiting part of the time. There should be a union depot this side of the tracks.

The weather indications as reported by the government are showers tonight, probably fair Friday. The white flag up today was soaked, so that it may well take the prognostication with a good deal of allowance, particularly so long as there are any picnics advertised.

The Critter says in its account of the Decoration Day services at Lebanon: The address by Hon. H. H. Hewitt of Albany, was one of the most appropriate that has ever been delivered at this place on a similar occasion, notwithstanding the fact that we have heretofore had some able addresses.

MARRIED.

JOHNSON-BURKSS.—The Perkins hotel, Portland, was the scene of a very pretty though quiet wedding, Thursday, May 30, 1901, when in the presence of a few invited guests, Miss Kittie E. Burgess was united in marriage to Dr. J. P. Johnson.

The private parlors were tastefully and handsomely decorated with cut flowers and roses. A few minutes after 4 o'clock the bridal party preceded by the Rev. Dr. Rowland, pastor of the First M. E. church, Astoria, entered the parlors. The bride was becomingly gowned in white and carried a shower bouquet. The impressive ceremony in accordance with the ritual of the Methodist Episcopal church was used. After the happy couple had received the congratulations of their friends all repaired to the dining room and partook of a most sumptuous wedding dinner interspersed with wit, wisdom and laughter and concluded with liberal showers of rice and a good time in general. Dr. and Mrs. Johnson left Portland Friday evening for Astoria where the Dr. is engaged in dental practice and where they will be at home to their many friends.

COCHRAN-STARR.—On Wednesday evening, June 5, 1901, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. S. C. Starr, in Tangent, by Rev. H. S. Shingle, Mr. Ernest Cochran and Miss Vivian Starr, both of Tangent. The wedding was private. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran are two worthy native Oregonians who deserve the best blessings of life, and have many friends who will unite with the DEMOCRAT in extending wishes for happiness and prosperity.

A WOMAN PREACHER.—Her first sermon as an ordained minister of the gospel was preached at the Christian church by Mrs. G. S. O. Humbert Sunday morning. Women are not often seen in the pulpit, and at the beginning of a service, presided over by one, there is an impression of strangeness that disappears long before the hour ends. Mrs. Humbert was ordained to the ministry at Eugene a week ago last Sunday. Her theological education was chiefly secured in the Divinity school at Chicago. Mrs. Humbert is a ready and effective speaker. Her words come readily, and there is never a pause for a suitable phrase. She uses illustrations freely, and they are always apt and pointed. Her delivery is graceful and her voice clear and penetrating.—Corvallis Times.

From letters received by his relatives in Eugene, the Guard says their little doubt that Joaquin Miller has made a fortune: "A few months ago he became tired of his California home and started for Texas with the idea of hunting a new location. He got off the cars at the village of Beaumont, then an obscure and unknown place. He located there, he thought he would be nearly out of the world as possible, and to have room free from molestation. He bought a thousand acres of land at merely nominal figure. Shortly afterward came the discovery of oil in the vicinity, and already a number of wells have begun spouting on Joaquin's land. In spite of himself, the man of a wandering game, has become immensely rich, probably a millionaire. Once before, he made a fortune in Wall street, but almost as quickly lost it.

OUT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Christian church was packed last evening and some turned away on the occasion of the commencement of the high school graduates of the Albany public schools. The program was opened with the class march by Miss Edna Howard, followed by prayer by Rev. Sturtevant, Mmes Langdon, Nelson, Young and Winnard were heard in a pleasing song. Orations were rendered as follows:

Grace E. Ellison, "Character is Destiny." What the world wants is the article itself not mere reputation—honor, candor and integrity in men. Examples Lincoln and Gladstone.

Eva O. Hammer, "The Mourning World." We should not seek to rise at the expense of our fellow creatures, but through our own efforts.

E. Iola Livingstone, "Occupation the Scythe of Time." Work develops the power and brings success. Idleness is satan's workshop. There is a fortune in the right place.

Lena I. Miller, "A responsibility." Our great responsibilities call for stronger characters. We should make more of life, pushing forward for the right.

Clyde McCoy, "Wealth of Poverty." The great problems of the world have been solved in poverty, over the forge or in the field, as by Franklin at the case and Webster on the farm. Poverty develops individuality. The diamond is from the rugged rock.

B. Mildred Gottlieb, "A Potent Influence." Nature has had a great influence in bringing out character and human productions.

M. Gertrude Jewell, "Good in Evil." Incidents, like the French revolution were cited showing how good had come out of evil. Character is developed by danger. Our own country grew on the ruins of England.

Margaret J. McHargue, "Self Culture." The power and influence of a cultivated mind were presented. We should change the base to the noble and good.

Chester A. Porter, "His Handiwork." God's handiwork was portrayed rising up to man his greatest work, and going forward into eternity.

Interpreted were vocal solos by Mrs. Nitting and Miss Vira Stewart.

The Ladies Quartet were again heard. Hon. J. K. Weatherford presented the diploma and the entertainment closed with benediction by Rev. Holmes.
